MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Among the Turks bath-money forms an item in every marriage contract, the husband engaging to allow his wife a certain sum for bathing purposes. If it is withheld, she has only to go before the Cadi and turn her slipper upside down. If the complaint be not then redressed, it is sufficient ground for divorce.

COLISEUM HAS MADE HISTORY IN POLITICS

CHICAGO, June 2.—The Chicago Coliseum, where the Republican national convention of 1920 will be held, beginning June 8, has a history rich in political interest. Five national political conventions have been held within its walls, a record unsurpassed by any building in the United States.

Every four years since 1904 the Republican party has met in the Coliseum to nominate its candidates for president and vice president, and in 1912 the Progressive party also met there to nominate Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for president.

The Coliseum was completed in 1900. It was designed as a model convention hall and erected on the site of the old Libby War Prison museum, at Wabash avenue and Fifteenth street, less than a mile from the hotel and retail shopping district.

The castellated walls of the old war prison were used for the Wabash avenue side of the structure. It was built of stone, brick, steel and glass and is 403 feet long, 170 feet wide. It cost nearly $1,000,000. It has a wide balcony extending around three of the walls, and this has been amplified for this year's convention by the addition of a second balcony on the north side.

As a result the seating capacity, 13,187, is the greatest in the building's history. Only 12,400 were seated at the 1916 convention.

The main floor of the Coliseum will seat 9,400 delegates, alternates, press representatives and spectators. There will be 100 doorkeepers, 200 ushers and 2,000 sergeants-at-arms. All the ushers and doorkeepers will be overseas soldiers, sailors and marines, working with military discipline under the direction of former army officers. By this system the national committee hopes to avert the overcrowding of four years ago when hundreds of persons stormed the doors, forced their way past the untrained doorkeepers and pre-empted seats for which they held no tickets.

The speaker's platform at the south end of the building will provide seats for the officers of the convention and members of the Republican national committee. Behind this is a raised platform with 2,000 seats for the use of presidential candidates and other distinguished guests. On either side of the speaker's platform, extending across the building is a press section containing 575 seats for working newspaper men.

Facing the speaker are the seats for the 984 delegates and an equal number of alternates. This section is enclosed by a heavy rail to hold back the crowds of frenzied spectators who frequently, during moments of intense enthusiasm, attempt to storm the speaker's stand. The rest of the main floor and all the balconies will be given over to visitors.

Tickets for spectators have been divided among the national committeemen from each state, in proportion to the state representation in the convention, with the exception of a block of about 2,500 seats, which go to the Chicago convention committee, which financed the convention arrangements. With less than 10,000 visitors' seats to be distributed, the committeemen had received more than 75,000 requests for tickets weeks in advance of the convention.

The Chicago convention committee, of which Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, is chairman, raised $150,000 to bring the convention to Chicago. The high cost of everything has hit the convention. Music, which cost $2,800 for the entire convention in 1916, costs $1,000 a day for a band of 50 pieces this year. Other expenses are in proportion.

The Republican national committee moved its executive offices to the Coliseum several weeks in advance of the convention. Adjoining the main building is an annex connected with the Coliseum proper by several broad arches and entrances. Here are located the executive and administrative offices, a temporary hospital in charge of 100 Chicago physicians, and, in the basement, a telegraph and telephone room where scores of special wires have been installed for the use of the news gathering, associations and newspapers which will cover the convention.

The annex also boasts a branch postoffice to facilitate speedy collection and distribution of mail to the convention officials, and numerous committee rooms for the national committee and various committees of the convention.

In the decoration of the convention hall the managers have abided by the long established custom of relying exclusively on profuse display of the American flag. Four years ago this custom was departed from in the use of gold and white bunting, but the cost was found excessive this year. C. R. Hall, superintendent of the Coliseum, who is in charge of the decorations, has used hundreds of big and little American flags to completely cover the girders and iron frame-work of the building.

ANTWERP FULL OF AMERICANS

ANTWERP, May 14. (By Mail.)—

The cafes of Antwerp, where American "Jazz" music resounds nightly until the early morning hours and champagne corks pop continuously at 50 to 100 francs a pop, are so crowded even now with tourists, sailors in for a shore celebration, and local spendthrifts that their proprietors wonder what more can happen when Antwerp is crowded with visitors to the Olympic games.

There are no spirits sold—except surreptitiously—but the wine flows so continuously in the gilded cabarets, and the beer so continuously in the sailors' "estaminets" down near the docks, that the noise and dancing know no bounds.

Some of the dock saloons have been especially rechristened since Antwerp became the chief American port on the continent, to catch the trade of the American sailors and make them feel as if they were down by the docks at home in the anti-prohibition days.

One finds American sailors reaching out their unpracticed feet for the bar rails in "Dirty Dick's Place," or "Sailor Jim's" down by the docks, consuming huge schooners of beer that look like the pictures on the frosted windows of "the biggest beer in town."

There are just as many merchant sailors in the expensive cafes, spending freely and dancing hard.

American consular and other Antwerp authorities are awake to the necessity of establishing some kind of recreation halls for the merchant sailors here, to take the place of the cafes, but, they told the correspondent, there seems as yet no way of doing it.

"Big recreation halls, with plenty of music and light beer would serve the purpose splendidly," one consular official said. "Jack is bound to spend his money when ashore."

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

DRUGGIST SAYS LADIES ARE USING RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture, improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 2.—A cat census has been taken aboard the superdreadnaught Mississippi, at Los Angeles harbor, with the result that the largest cat was found to bear the smallest name and the smallest cat the longest.

The big cat with the small name is "Flop" and the little cat with the large name is "Pericia Desdemona De." Other cats are called "Segufus," "Sausalito," "Seattle," "Marcella" and "Baltimore City."

HONOR BURBANK

SANTA ROSA, Cal., June 2.—In honor of Luther Burbank, the famous horticulturist, several hundred high school students and members of the faculty participated in a gorgeous May fete, which told an allegorical story of Burbank's love for the sunshine of Central California, and how he used it to develop new plant life.

The God of Rain, the Sun God, Mother Ceres, the Goddess of Agriculture, the Egyptian King, the Grecian Maidens and Terra, with their elements of earth, were characters in the pageant.

What Good is a Dollar?

It's largely up to you. It depends on how you spend it—on the value to you of what you get for it—on your ability to find where that value is to be had.

Of course, it's all right to shop around a bit if you like, but why not let the other fellow make it easier for you by doing a little shopping after your dollar—by showing you what you want and where you can get most of it for your money?

It's a great idea, once you get the hang of it, and here's how!

Right in this paper you'll find dozens of advertisements offering you merchandise. Some things you'll need today; some tomorrow; some next week or next year—but the point is that these merchants are coming to you, looking for your dollar and offering the best they have to get it.

You'll find that by reading the advertisements consistently today and every day, you can increase the value—to yourself—of every dollar you have to spend. The things you see advertised are almost invariably as represented. The advertisers' statements are usually safer to trust than your own judgment. Advertised misrepresentation is business suicide.

READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS AND INCREASE THE VALUE OF YOUR DOLLAR!
