TURK TYRANT ENJOYS EXILE

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 13. (By Mail).—In one of the most luxurious hotels in Lausanne is now living the Turkish multi-millionaire named General Ahmed Djemal Pasha, former Turkish minister under the Young Turk regime at Constantinople and former commander of the fourth Turkish army in Syria.

He is the first upon the black list of the Arabian government for extradition and punishment, being accused, says the Tribune De Geneve, of the deaths of 7,000 Arabian, Syrian and Armenian families whom he is alleged to have ordered to be massacred or deported into the desert where they died of hunger and thirst in the war. He has been sentenced to death after a hearing in Turkey.

Djemal Pasha who called himself the "Hero of Islam" admits, according to the newspaper, that he was "only directly responsible for about 200 deaths of heretics." By tyranny, it is charged, he obtained his vast wealth in Turkish gold always refusing bank notes. Once a week his wife or one of the members of his family travelled to Constantinople from Djemal's headquarters in Syria under military escort with small boxes of gold which were forwarded subsequently to Switzerland and Holland.

It was Djemal and Djavid Pasha who were at Paris in July, 1914, and, foreseeing the war, bought the German warships, Goeben and Breslau, for their government by orders from Constantinople.

Djemal who has only a temporary permission to sojourn in Switzerland was recently requested by the Swiss government to leave this country, but he managed to procure a medical certificate proving that travelling would be prejudicial to his health and remains at Lausanne.

The Tribune demands his expulsion from Switzerland with several of his satellites. Djemal, however, cannot return to Turkey, as the death sentence awaits him there.

This Djemal Pasha should not be mistaken for another Turkish leader of similar name and title who recently was appointed a minister of the new Turkish cabinet.

WANT STANDARD OF PRODUCTION

BOSTON, June 3.—Standardization of quantity and quality of work in the clothing industry with a view to checking laziness as well as undue speed of production is one of the aims of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and the co-operation of the manufacturers is hoped for by the union, according to the general secretary of the clothing workers, Joseph Schlossberg. The plan which is in the hands of the general executive board of the organization is regarded as a new departure in the management of labor.

The general executive board will make a study of the market conditions in each large city and then invite a conference with the clothing manufacturers for the purpose of agreeing upon a scale of work. It is planned to establish a standard of quality and quantity that must be performed for the maximum pay, and there is to be a lower standard of quantity and quality with a corresponding rate of pay for the worker who cannot reach the first standard.

AUSTRIA BANS CHILD LABOR

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—That the Austrian government is putting forth great efforts to save the youngest is shown in a report on the activities of the Children's Bureau of Lower Austria, just received by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. In 1919, 30,000 children in the 7 provinces comprising Lower Austria were under the protection of the Bureau. It had 81 public guardians for children born out of wedlock, 70 women welfare workers, 45 assistant welfare workers and 2,500 volunteers caring for orphans. It supported 120 infant welfare centers under medical supervision in 1919, and is organizing 33 new ones.

The work of the Austrian Children's Bureau is not confined to infants. It has under supervision all children born out of wedlock within the last 4 years, and is planning to extend permanent supervision over all children in need of it, and to provide health centers for older children as well as for babies. The Bureau works in close co-operation with private agencies, and even assists in the formation of new private organizations for child welfare work.

In Vienna the Children's Bureau is especially well organized. It consists of 6 divisions, concerned with legal work, care of mothers and children, welfare work with school children, vocational guidance, physical training and assistance in kind. The division of care of mothers and children is conducted by a physician and a staff trained in welfare work. It supervises all welfare stations in the city, has charge of the up-bringing of children in institutions, and is responsible for providing homes for children in need of immediate care.

This comprehensive work in Austria is a phase of the world-wide movement to extend public protection to maternity and childhood. Governmental responsibility is being aroused, nation by nation, to the necessity of providing instruction in hygiene and adequate medical and nursing care for all mothers and babies if a healthy generation is to be assured.

ARMENIANS ARE SCATTERED RACE

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 12. (By Mail).—Hundreds of Armenian families are being reunited monthly through the efforts of the members of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East who are scattered throughout the leading cities of Asia Minor with headquarters in this city. In the deportations of the last four years Armenians have been shuttled about before various military movements with the result that nearly every family is searching for news of missing members.

Levon Shamlian, a young Armenian who is now a successful merchant at Balikeshir, recently located his mother and young sister through an advertisement printed in a local paper by Miss Caris E. Mills, of Princeton, N. J., who is directing the American movement to unite Armenian families. Shamlian is preparing a home for them in Balikeshir.

The history of the Shamlian family is typical of the experiences Armenians suffered at the hands of the Turks. They lived in Bitlis, in the far eastern part of Asia Minor. Levon Shamlian and his father were separated from the rest of the family by the Turks and Levon was forced to go into the Turkish army and has never heard from his father. His grandmother and grandfather were killed. His mother was taken as a servant by Turks. Seranoush was taken as a maid servant by Kurds. The mother and daughter came upon each other unexpectedly in the American refuge at Aintab, both having walked hundreds of miles and suffered terrible hunger and

In the past the workers have claimed that they have been speeded up too much by the manufacturers and have met that issue by fixing an arbitrary limit upon production in certain fields, while some manufacturers have been contending that the men and women in the trade have not been doing an honest amount of work for the pay. Piece work tended to drive the workers too fast, according to their own view of it, and was everywhere discouraged by the unions; pay by the week regardless of the amount of work performed, has not been satisfactory to the manufacturers.

hardship in their search for relatives and safety.

Lists of orphans will also be printed in Armenian papers in America in the hope of finding homes for thousands of homeless children who may have friends or relatives in America. The American committee had nearly 30,000 orphans in the Constantinople district alone, and nearly twice that number in the Beirut area.

FIRST CEMETERIES ROBBED, THEN CHURCHES

VIENNA, May 9. (By Mail).—Vandals and robbers have turned from plundering graveyards to robbing churches. Several famous Vienna edifices have been entered recently, among them the historic Mariahilf and Rochus churches, and robes and altar vessels of great value have been stolen. The police say there are about 40,000 persons in Vienna who may be classed as criminals.

They report 1,405 burglaries in the city in the last 90 days with 965 arrests and the recovery of loot to the value of 60,000,000 crowns.

It takes four years to train a lion for exhibition work, and only one animal in four is fit for training. The new name of what was once German East Africa has been provisionally fixed by the British Colonial Office as Tanganyika Territory.
