CALIFORNIA NEWS

CARSON CITY, Nev., June 3.—Despite vigorous opposition by mining companies at Mina and Candelaria, the Nevada-California Power company has been given permission by the public service commission to remove its electric transmission line between Hawthorne and Fairview. Insufficient business was given as the cause of the removal.

LODI, June 3.—Fire on the J. E. Crump ranch, five miles north of Lodi, today caused a loss estimated at $25,000. The property was leased by the Earl Fruit company, which carried insurance on some of its equipment.

SANTA ROSA, June 3.—A fierce forest fire was raging through the dense pine and redwood forests 10 miles northwest of this city Monday night.

SAN DIEGO, June 3.—On what is said to be the longest sustained flight ever made by a lighter-than-air craft on the Pacific coast, the blimp B-18 Monday flew from the naval air station on North Island to Forest Lawn cemetery at Glendale, near Los Angeles, and return.

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—C. O. Whittemore, president of the Bullfrog and Goldfield railroad of Nevada, attorney and mining man, died yesterday of heart failure at Escondido, San Diego county.

KENNETT, June 3.—Albert G. Fox was fatally injured, dying several hours later, and J. E. McGinnis had his collar bone broken when the train on the Holt and Gregg quarry railroad ran away Monday.

YUBA CITY, June 3.—Stanton Driscoll, former resident of Live Oak, met almost instant death Monday when northbound Southern Pacific passenger train No. 22 struck an automobile in which he was riding over

JAPAN RULES MANCHURIA BY IRON METHODS

PEKING, April 28. (By Mail).—Reports reaching here indicate that the Japanese are carrying things with a high hand in Manchuria now that the other allied troops are virtually out of the country. The Peking and Tientsin Times has received from its correspondents reports which it presents under the heading "Reign of Terror in Manchuria." It says that at Imampo, two Russian workmen who made some disparaging remarks about the Japanese emperor in talking to a Japanese soldier in the Russian railway hospital were seized by Japanese soldiers and "summarily shot on the spot." At Harbin, the paper says, Japanese sentries stationed on a bridge threw one Russian off the bridge breaking his collarbone and stabbed another in the face with a bayonet when the Russians insisted upon crossing the bridge.

The Japanese are reported by the newspaper to have taken full possession of Harbin and arrested there 11 Russian workers and handed them over to the representative of General Semenov and the Times adds that by this time "no doubt they have been shot by Baron Unger Steinberg."

The Japanese are declared to have brought to Harbin and armed 500 Semenov troops who are reported to be actively assisting the Japanese and helping to terrorize the local population. The Times predicts that similar incidents are likely to increase as the Japanese hold of the Russian far east becomes more intense and states that the Japanese garrison at Harbin is to be increased by 1,000 more men. This reinforcement is declared by the paper to be absolutely unnecessary "as the Chinese troops stationed there are sufficient to maintain order."

The situation along the Chinese Eastern railway was characterized by the Times correspondent as very critical. He stated that the Japanese military authorities had decided to place their own guards and sentries along the whole stretch of the railway which crosses Upper Manchuria, because they were about to send troop trains and military supplies along that railway and were afraid the Russian railway workers who opposed to Japanese intervention might try to stop the Japanese from carrying out their plans.

The Japanese seem bent upon brewing trouble among the Russian population residing inside the railway area by giving them a series of pinpricks so as to bring about open strife which will give them an excuse to take determined action even to the seizing and working of the Chinese Eastern," wrote the correspondent. The correspondent admitted that the Japanese had the right to send troops over the railway to protect the frontiers against invasion but that this did not confer the right to occupy settlements along the line, or interfere with the rights of local populations. He declared that the purpose of the Japanese to seize control of the railway called for an immediate protest on the part of the allies.

In Nikolai, he reported, the railway workers having gone on strike, Japanese soldiers were rounding them up and forcing them at the point of the bayonet, to do their work of laborers.

Since the foregoing situation was described, information has been made public in Moscow that Chinese and Russian military commissioners in conference at Verkhne-Udinsk, Trans-Baikalia, have reached an agreement under which "inherent rights of the Russian Soviet government in the Eastern Manchuria railway were recognized and the Chinese guaranteed to withdraw their troops from along the railway lines." It was pointed out that China's agreement that the Russian should retain possession of its road deprived the Japanese of one of their best excuses for keeping troops on it.

RACING PUTS HARD STRAIN ON TIRES

The unbelievable amount of punishment sustained by automobile tires in speed races when wheels are revolving at the rate of 25 times a second when the car is making 100 miles an hour, is not appreciated by the average racing fan.

A remarkable incident in the recent Los Angeles race brings this point out in a striking manner. Art Klein was leading the field on the 183rd mile, cleaving the air at 104 miles an hour. Suddenly his right rear wheel collapsed, the steel spokes being sheared off close to the rim. Rearing wildly, the car scrambled crazily about on the remains of the wheel, but the fully inflated Goodyear tire, perfectly mounted, swept on down the track at terrific speed in the direction the car had been taking. When it finally came to a stop, it was found uninjured.

This is the first time that such a freak performance, demonstrating the ruggedness of tires, has ever been witnessed during a race.

ENGLISH CLERGYMAN ENVIES GENEROSITY

LONDON, May 11. (By Mail).—The Archbishop of Canterbury has expressed his envy and amazement at the way in which Americans are subscribing money to foreign missions abroad. He said at the annual meeting of the Society for Promotion of Christian Knowledge that the finances of the society in this country were really in a parlous plight while across the Atlantic they somehow had a genius for raising sums of money for charitable and religious objects which put England to shame.

"It made one's mouth water," the archbishop said, "to read that the Methodist Episcopal church had secured promises for their mission work for the next five years, of $33,000,000. Its foreign mission board was able to make an annual appropriation of $2,000,000 while the Church of England was struggling along to get another $20,000."

More than forty American millionaires crossed the Atlantic on the same steamship recently.
