

Home Canners Now Demand Jars that Seal Scientifically and Easily

Simple Positive Sealing Principle Used By Commercial Packers Brings Great Success to Manufacturers of Jars for Home Use

The fine economy of, and true delight of home canned fruits, vegetables and meats was a war lesson for which the thousands of American women are truly grateful. Many learned to can who never canned before. Others who have always canned now can a greater variety and quantity than ever.

Where Rubber Rings Failed The increasing popularity of home canning has also taught, not only better, surer methods, but that there is a vast distinction between fruit jars. Women ambitious for the best results discovered that the sealing principle on most jars have not been improved since grandmother's day. The kinds which seal with rubber rings and zinc or glass tops are first of all NOT permanently airtight; seldom sanitary. Hard to clean, hard to manage; not dependable and expensive to keep up. Worst of all, no matter how carefully managed they WILL allow foods to mould, sour and spoil.

A Jar Without The most successful Rubber Rings full, enthusiastic and the proudest of all home canners are the thousands of women who have learned the advantages of Kerr Mason and Economy jars and caps—the only jars in the world that use no rubber rings. These jars have won the big prizes at all the National Expositions for the past sixteen years and have been used by thousands of practical housewives—gaining many thousands of converts each year.

THE SEALING PRINCIPLE—is neither rubber nor wax; but is a patented air-tight everlasting composition attached to lid. Soften with heat of jar until rim of jar imbeds in it. Cools with jar, effecting scientific airtight seal and does not deteriorate with age.

Home Canned Foods That Never Spoil The methods used in canning are the same as with old-style jars, but the sealing principle is different and exclusive with Kerr Jars. Instead of screwing on the cap, using all the strength you possess, you simply place the lid on jar and screw band until it catches—then stop. DO NOT FORCE. This is all there is to it. Your work is done. The jars seal by cooling of contents. The lid is held on the jar by atmospheric pressure, and the seal will hold until the lid is punctured.

Kerr Caps Cheaper Than Other Mason Caps and Rubber Rings. The first year are extra Kerr Lids, which cost but little more than ordinary rubber rings. Zinc Caps corrode and eat through. You must buy new ones every year or so.

Caps are Clean and Sanitary. Both lids and screw bands are gold enameled—not lacquered, but with a baked-on coating. Neither is affected by acid or rust; perfectly sanitary, clean and safe. No cracks or crannies or porcelain linings where acids creep, corrode, sour and mould.

Three Types Most women like of Kerr Jars the Kerr Wide Mouth Mason jar, sealing with gold enameled lid, and screw band, because fruits and vegetables can be canned whole or halved. Also they are easier to clean, artistic in shape and permit stacking, one atop the other.

Kerr Economy Jars The Kerr Economy jar seals with a gold enameled cap and a metal spring clamp. It is also a wide mouth jar.

KERR MASON For those who are satisfied with the old style Mason jar, there is the Kerr Mason jar of that type, with the scientific sealing lid and screw band to fit. The screw-band-and-lid for this jar, fits ANY standard Mason jar. Thousands buy Kerr Mason caps for Mason jars they now have.

Free Recipe Book to Home Canners Truly the Kerr Glass Mfg. Co. has done much for the Home Canners of America. It gave to the world this marvelous sealing principle. It will give to you also a handsome booklet of canning recipes by a noted Home Canning expert. Write for it today, to the Kerr Glass Mfg. Co., Sand Springs, Okla. Ask your dealer for genuine Kerr Jars and Caps and insist that you get them—the only jars in the world that use no rubber rings—Once sealed—Forever sealed until the lid is punctured.

KERR ECONOMY JARS—WIDE MOUTH—This illustrates the popular Kerr Economy jar. Easy to clean, will take fruit, etc. whole or halved; handsome in appearance; fine for exhibiting; seals with Kerr patent Economy lids and a metal spring clamp to hold lid until seal is perfected.
