Marshall Neilan The River's End James Oliver Curwood

On the edge of civilization there are no traditions. Men meet life with all the strength of soul within them. That is why the greatest stories have always been written, not of the atrophied emotions of society, but of the virile people nearest the great outdoors. There men may be good—or bad—but whatever they are, they are strong.

"The River's End" is a story of the Royal Mounted Police—a story of adventure and a story of a wonderful love.

It is Mr. Neilan's best and Mr. Curwood's finest novel.

PLAN TO REPEAL KANSAS STATUTE

WICHITA, Kan., June 12.—That a concerted plan by those opposing the new Kansas industrial law exists to elect a legislature which will repeal the law at the next general session in 1921 was the declaration of Judge William L. Huggins, presiding judge of the court, in an address before the Kansas Bankers' association convention here. Judge Huggins pleaded that the law be given a "fair chance."

He said the operation of the new law thus far has been very satisfactory.

"The legislature created here a tribunal in which justice is administered without money and without price," continued the speaker. "The poorest man in Kansas, if he is engaged in any of the essential industries named in the law, may at any time come into this court and make his complaint known. The state provides him with a lawyer who will prepare his case for him without charge. It provides him with expert accountants and engineers and trained examiners who will investigate his case for him without charge.

"If the court has rendered its decision, the laborer is dissatisfied, he may take the matter before the supreme court of Kansas. The evidence which the state helped him introduce and prepare is transcribed for him by an expert reporter."

THE MIGHTY FALLEN

BISHOP, Cal., June 11.—The magnificent bar of the Northern saloon of Goldfield, Nevada, a famous resort of the early gold days there, is now doing service as a lunch counter at Knough Hot Springs, a summer resort of Inyo county. The bar was built to order in Michigan in 1904 at a cost of $5000. At present prices the plate glass alone, which totals more than 150 square feet, would cost that sum.

The bar is said to have been sold at junk prices.

25,000 GERMAN CIVIL OFFICERS IN STRAITS

BERLIN, May 15. (By Mail).—Twenty-five thousand German civilian functionaries who occupied positions in Poland and have been deprived of their posts owing to transfers of territory, are in sore plight. The government, which suddenly recalled them gave no thought, apparently, to housing such a multitude with their wives and families, assigning them to old concentration camps and barracks.

In these quarters, according to statements made by some of them now in Berlin, they have to endure all manner of hardships and discomforts, among the least of which is the deprivation of their accustomed household belongings.

The German Civil Servants' Union has taken the matter up on their behalf. It has memorialized the government, demanding a fulfillment of earlier promises that evicted officials should receive preferential treatment. It protests against what it terms the "base ingratitude now shown by the Fatherland" to faithful servants who have now been deprived of their means of livelihood.
