

N. E. A. TO MEET AT SALT LAKE

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 24.—Ten thousand classroom teachers, school superintendents and school board members are expected to gather at Salt Lake city, Utah, on July 5 to spend six days discussing problems of schools of the nation during the annual meeting of the National Education association. This meeting will bring educators from the four corners of the nation together.

Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, Washington state superintendent of public instruction and president of the National Education association, has announced the general theme as "Education in the Making of a Greater America." Civic education, industrial education, health education and the national congress of school boards, superintendents and classroom teachers are the topics for various days of the program.

"The plan to have school boards, classroom teachers and superintendents meet together for one day was inspired by the great need of a better and broader understanding of the inherent rights of the children of this country, the homes of the country and the community life of the nation," said Mrs. Preston.

"The growing unrest of the teachers needs earnest consideration. The school boards and superintendents of our country in conference with our classroom teachers should work out a safe and sane adjustment of public school policies."

Mrs. Preston said a large delegation of teachers from Washington will attend the convention. On Sunday, July 4, the opening day of the convention, Salt Lake city will give a large musical festival. On Friday, July 9, following the business session, the educators will enjoy a gala day. Salt Lake city is to stage a veritable Mardi Gras for the entertainment of the teachers. On Saturday the Salt Lake city chamber of commerce will take the educators for a trip to the copper mines.

If the Wood Dealer Sold Service

We do not sell current; we sell service. That sounds odd doesn't it?

Well, suppose the wood dealer sold service instead of wood, he would tend to your furnace and your range, take away the ashes and clean the flues. You would buy so much heat.

Now you buy so much light, although you pay according to the current you consume. But the service is performed for you by this company at the substations and power plants.

That is what we want to give you—efficient service. It is the aim of this company to have none but satisfied customers. No matter what it is, if you have a grievance, or are dissatisfied about your bill or do not understand our rates, please come in and see us or write us about it.

If you have any suggestions to make, we will gladly avail ourselves of them as our aim is constantly to improve our service to you as fast as the development of science and human ability permit.
