CROSS CONTINENT TO JOIN COMMENCEMENT

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, June 26—Marking to the call of Alma Mater across two score years, Whitney L. Boise of Portland, Adolph F. McClaine of Spokane and Owen Oshorn of Portland returned to Eugene last week for the fortieth anniversary of their graduation from the university. The jubilation they held and the talk of old times that went around the three at the alumni luncheon was one of the most appealing features of the commencement season.

Mrs. Benetta D. Nash came from Bozeman, Montana, to be present with her class at their twenty-fifth anniversary.

MUSICIAN HAS LONG CAREER

Henry Bickford Pasmore, director of the Pasmore Conservatory of Music, who will appear in concert at the opera house here July 1, studied singing with S. I. Morgan and Mrs. John Trehane, organ and harmony with J. P. Morgan and piano with Ernest Hartmann. Later he entered the Leipzig conservatory and studied singing with Rebling, organ with Dr. Popperitz, counterpoint with Judasohn and composition with Earl Reincke. After a period of singing with Ungerhaupt, he went to London and studied with William Shakespeare.

He taught singing for six years at the University of the Pacific, and singing and theory of music for four years at Mills college and California college. He was director of the University of California Choral, the Stanford Choral, and had the course in theory of music at Stanford.

Later he returned to Germany, where he was teacher of an artist class in the Stern conservatory and a "principal teacher" in the Klindworth-Scharwenka conservatory.

As a composer of music his work is marked by harmonious virility and depth of feeling. He published a volume of songs years ago, and a suite for violin, cello and piano, which his famous trio of daughters played. He is keeping his later compositions in manuscript form. His study of Chinese music has resulted in some beautiful work; a solo for cello, with piano accompaniment; a concerto for violin with orchestral accompaniment, adjudged a masterpiece of exquisite theme and Oriental tone color, and a comic opera—the scene laid in Tibet. Mrs. Pasmore wrote the book of this opera and Ruth Comfort Mitchell, the well-known writer of short stories, wrote the libretto. He was one of the first, if not the first, to become interested in the study of Chinese music and is an authority on that interesting subject. Many of his themes he has secured from phonographic records of Chinese music, and the words of the songs from Chinese poems written thousands of years ago.
