

U. S. MARINE OFFICER PRISONER ON U-BOAT

Officer Of Ill-Fated U. S. S. Neptune Gives Story Of His Remarkable Adventure and Recovery

Richard Cannon, Chief Petty Officer of the U. S. S. Neptune, whose dramatic capture at sea by a German U-Boat and subsequent experiences aboard the submarine and in a German prison hospital, thrilled the entire country, is still another war hero to test the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tanlac and give it his strong endorsement. Mr. Cannon's adventures were so harrowing that his constitution was completely shattered but after months of suffering he has now regained the wonderful health that enabled him to pull through his adventures alive and is today the same strapping two hundred pound fighter that embarked on the ill-fated collier. But let him tell his own story:

"When the Neptune was torpedoed off the Irish coast," said Mr. Cannon, who now lives at 707 E. Lafayette, Tampa, Fla., "I had my right leg and five ribs broken by the explosion, and when I came to my senses I found myself on board a submarine bound for Germany. I was kept in a German prison hospital for five months, and you can imagine what I must have suffered when I tell you that I fell off in weight from two hundred and twenty-five to a hundred and thirty-one pounds. When I was repatriated and finally got my discharge in February, 1919, I was little better than a living skeleton. I had no appetite and my digestive system was so upset that what little I did eat always gave me severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Before I joined the service I never knew what nerves were, but after what I went through my nerves were so shattered that I couldn't keep still a minute, and the slightest thing upset me. For six months I continued in this condition, unable to pick up strength, and so weak that any attempt at work tired me out completely. I began to think that I should never be a well and strong man again.

"But the way Tanlac overcame my troubles and built me up was nothing short of marvelous. It gave me such an appetite that I wanted to eat all the while, and I sure did make up for lost time. I had no more bother with indigestion and from then on I picked up strength and put up weight until now I tip the beam at two hundred and four pounds and am as well and strong as I ever was before I joined the service. My nerves are as steady as a die and I'm like my old self again. Tanlac is certainly a grand medicine and I think every suffering person ought to try it."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by the Star Drug Co., in Lorella by the James Merc. Co., and in Merrill by the Southern Oregon Drug Co. Adv.

Here's where we call a spade just that

THE POET says a rose,
BY ANY other name,
WOULD SMELL as sweet,
AND THAT'S all right,
BUT CALLING,
SOMETHING ELSE a rose,
WON'T CHANGE its smell.
OF COURSE not.
AND I'M not knocking,
BUT JUST telling you,
RIGHT OUT,
THAT THERE are only,
THREE GRADES,
OF TURKISH tobacco,
FIRST, GOOD Turkish,
WHICH IS mighty good,
AND ALSO expensive,
AND SECOND.

POOR TURKISH tobacco,
WHICH IS less expensive,
AND NOT so good,
AND THIRD, tobacco,
CALLED TURKISH, which,
NEVER SAW Turkey,
BUT GREW thousands,
OF MILES away,
AND DOESN'T even,
TASTE LIKE Turkish,
AND IT'S the good Turkish,
THAT'S REALLY from Turkey,
THAT YOU get,
IN THE cigarettes,
THAT SATISFY.

OUR resident buyers in Turkey are experts. They know we want the best—and we get it. And the same with Domestic leaf. Blend them together—by that can't-be-faked method—and you get a smoke that actually does "satisfy."

BOURBONS WORK DAY AND NIGHT

AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, July 2.—With 14 candidates placed before it for presidential nomination, the Democratic national convention after a brief session yesterday found its platform committee unable to make a report and adjourned until 8 o'clock last night.

An attempt to pass a resolution to suspend the rules and go ahead with the balloting was met with such obvious disapproval by the convention that it was not passed.

Yesterday's brief session was remarkably quiet and orderly in comparison with the noisy turmoil of the previous day's session and no one could estimate the probability of the duration of the night's session and there was no assurance that it might not continue until daylight. The platform committee continued working during the day, hoping to harmonize differences over the prohibition plank and league of nations and Irish questions. After a wrangle of more than two hours over the suffrage plank the committee reached an agreement.
