Miss Fay Fryrear of Straw is visiting her friend, Ada Hunt, for a few days.

The mayor of Nome, Alaska, suggests that one-third of the reindeer of that country be killed yearly to supply cheap meat for everybody in the United States and that game laws be lifted accordingly.

Love, horse-racing, fighting, intrigue, trickery and other sensational issues are combined convincingly in "Should a Husband Forgive?" the big William Fox special shown for the first time here at the Liberty Theatre Sunday. In this superbly staged picture of modern life R. A. Walsh, who wrote and directed it, has done some of the best work of his career. It is a story of keen human interest woven into a heroic-sized panorama.

The question asked by "Should a Husband Forgive?" is a big one. A shadow is cast across some lives and over the threshold of others because a good wife assumes that husbands do not forgive. The shadow lengthens when years later the woman's son, infected with the common virus of propaganda, gives up the girl he loves because appearances are against her. The happy end is logical.

The all-star cast is uniformly strong. Mrs. James K. Hackett plays the Woman; and Mariam Cooper, well known as the heroine of other big scale productions, is seen as the Girl.

AT THE THEATERS

A fierce fight is staged between a dog and a man in a cave deep in the rocks in the First National picture, "Even as Eve," taken from "The Shining Band," one of Robert W. Chambers' famous stories. The picture will be shown at the Star Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Eileen, a beautiful girl, brought up in the wilds of the Adirondacks, far a deep, dark, mysterious world, strong box in the cave with treasure and secret papers committed to her by her father, just before he died. He does not reveal the contents, but tells her they are important and not to let anyone get hold of them.

One night she is followed to the cave by a false prophet of a fanatical band, the leader of which knows of the existence of the papers and is trying to secure them. He attacks her in the cave and secures the treasure. However, her screams have been heard by a young dog, who spends the summers in a club house nearby. He and his dog, a great shepherd, rush to the rescue. The dog arrives first and launches straight at the man's throat. He hurls him to the ground and is tearing him to pieces when the man reaches a bit of rock and stuns the dog. He is about to crush the dog's skull when Lansing arrives and Eileen and the treasure are saved.

The story of how Eileen, the little woodland girl enters society and is one of fascinating interest.

"Parentage" asks more big questions of vital appeal to YOU than any film you ever saw. Sounding a deep human note—brimful of dramatic moments—"PARENTAGE" will pull on your heart strings like a bell rope. In it you will recognize folks of every-day life—like you and your neighbors—and will find much to inspire, interest and instruct. It is forceful, yet clean, wholesome and entertaining. See it, then you will recommend it. Mondale Theatre Sunday and Monday.

NEW MANAGEMENT FOR WINGED O ORCHESTRA

H. F. Sheehan announces that he has taken over the Winged O orchestra, which will hereafter be known as King's orchestra. The first appearance under the new management will be this evening at Moose hall, when a dance will be given. Monday night the orchestra will play for a Fourth of July celebration and Mardi Gras at the Moose hall.

Teachers to the number of 140,000 in the United States have deserted their profession for economic reasons.

The Expression "O. K." has been accounted for in a number of ways, the latest supposition being that it originated from Aux Cayes, Haiti, from which place tobacco and rum are exported. Because of the pronunciation of Aux Cayes, coupled with the usual good quality of its exports, "O. K." was frequently written on shipments.

WEATHER RECORD

Hereafter the Herald will publish the mean and maximum temperatures and precipitation record as taken by the U. S. Reclamation service station. Publication will cover the day previous to the paper's issue, up to 5 o'clock of that day.
