

POT POURRI

By LONE STAR

Men who don't care
Where they go
When they die
Are always careless
Where they go
While they live.

In Mexico a man is first a rebel, then a president, and thereafter, if he's fortunate, an exile.

Doc Winter noticed one of his customers acting very strangely in his store the other day, and went up to Melby and said: "That young fellow looks furtive—isn't he apt to swipe something?" Melby, being an experienced jeweler, replied: "No—he wants to buy an engagement ring, that's all."

But to get back to the "Pleese Force" and that new traffic cop. What's the matter with making that bird enforce the ordinance which prohibits the operating of motor vehicles in the city limits with the mufflers open. In church on Sunday morning, the services are inevitably interrupted by huge motor trucks and other cars roaring past with their mufflers wide open. This fellow might do that much for us, and besides, one doesn't need to see good to stop that sort of thing. You can HEAR it.

We don't need any new ordinances, nor do we need any new minions of the law. What we do need is to have those that are in effect enforced.

Incidentally did you notice the wonderfully patriotic demonstration we had in the Falls on the Fourth? My—the flags and decorations were beautiful. Then the patriotic parade we had in the afternoon. It has been a long time since we had such a show in the Falls, and it is to the credit of the inhabitants who worked so hard in order to celebrate the glorious Fourth. May they ever keep in the same spirit. If they do this glorious old Republic of ours will ever be in the front rank of successful nations.

A fellow isn't thinkin' mean
Out fishin'.

His thoughts are mostly good and clean
Out fishin'.
He doesn't knock his fellow men,
Or harbor any grudges then,
A feller's at his finest when
Out fishin'.

The rich are comrades to the poor
Out fishin'.
All brothers of a common lure
Out fishin'.

The urchin with the pin and string
Can chum with millionaire and king,
Vain pride is a forgotten thing
Out fishin'.

A feller gets a chance to dream
Out fishin'.
He learns the beauties of a stream
Out fishin'.

And he can wash his soul in air
That isn't foul with selfish care
An' relish plain and simple fare
Out fishin'.

A feller ain't no time fer hate
Out fishin'.
He isn't eager to be great
Out fishin'.

To ain't a-thinking thoughts of pelf
Or goods stacked high upon a shelf

BUFFALO HERD INCREASING

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., July 13.—Convincing evidence that the wild buffalo of Yellowstone National Park, the last surviving remnant of the great herds which once roamed the western plains, are on the increase, instead of dying out, as was feared, has been obtained in the discovery of a new group in the southeast portion of the park. About 15 animals were observed, evidently a part of the old herd, which it is thought grew so large that some of its members were forced to break away and seek new pasturage.

Definite information has been obtained by park authorities that there are now more than 10 of the wild buffalo in the park. Formerly there were only about half that number.

When discovered, the new herd was within five miles of one of the largest hotels in the park and a snapshot was obtained of one of the animals, a fine bull, probably the first photograph ever taken of a wild buffalo.

Ordinarily the wild buffalo never are seen by tourists and only rarely by park authorities, even by the rangers who patrol the most remote sections. The appearance of the new herd close to the main lines of travel was before the season opened and the animals apparently had been lured down from the mountain fastnesses by the abundance of spring grass on the lower levels. They disappeared into untravelled country as soon as automobiles became frequent along the highways.

Forty-eight calves have been added this year to the tame buffalo herd of the park, which now has a population of 500. Part of the tame herd has been placed in corral at Mammoth Hot Springs for the benefit of visitors.

LEGION DELEGATES TO APPEAR IN "CIVVIES"

CLEVELAND, O., July 14.—In contrast to the khaki which all were wearing two years ago, the 3,000 delegates to the second national convention of the American Legion here in September will march in civilian garb. All former service men here at the time of the convention will be asked to participate in the procession.

Delegates from all over the United States, Cuba, the Philippines, Hawaii, Mexico, Canada, England, France and Belgium, representing a membership of more than 1,500,000 veterans of the World War are expected.

But he is always just himself,
Out fishin'.

A feller's glad to be a friend
Out fishin'.

A helpin' hand he'll always lend,
Out fishin'.

The brotherhood of rod and line
And sky and stream is always fine,
Men come real close to God's design,
Out fishin'.

A feller ain't a-plottin' schemes,
Out fishin'.

He's only busy with his dreams,
Out fishin'.

His livery is a coat of tan,
His creed—to be the best he can,
A feller's always mostly man,
Out fishin'.

How many miles did you march the summer Cleveland was nominated

REMEMBER the time the first automobile parade was organized? Even the good old torchlight procession had to give way before the advance of progress.

He needs it more than anyone else. It's part of our job, as we view it, to see that he gets it.

Our tire service starts with good tires—U. S. Tires. All sizes made to a single standard of quality—none graded down to the price of the car they will go on.

Tires are often sold the same way politics are.

U. S. perfected the first straight side automobile tire—the first pneumatic truck tire.

The last people to wake up to what they are getting are the people who pay the bills.

The U. S. guarantee is for the life of the tire, and not for a limited mileage.

The bills are getting too big these days in both cases. And the man who is feeling it most with respect to tires is the man who owns a moderate-price car.

When we recommend and sell U. S. Tires we do so in the interest of greater tire economy. It is our experience that that is the best way to build up a sound and sizable business.

The idea that the small car owner doesn't need a good tire is rapidly going the way of all mistaken ideas.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:
In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.
For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Ucco.
For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.
For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cord.

AT THE THEATERS

One year before Rubye de Remer, with her natural beauty, attracted the attention of that acknowledged beauty expert, Flo Ziegfeld, she came under the notice of Helieu, the famous etcher of Boston, who pronounced the talented artiste "the most beautiful blonde since Venus." And those who have seen Miss DeRemer in Ziegfeld Follies or as the featured player in a screen production, invariably agree with Helieu. She is being presented at the Liberty Theatre tonight as one of the stars of Joseph Leviny's startling leap year romance, "His Temporary Wife," a W. W. Hodkinson release adapted for the screen from Robert Ames Bennett's popular magazine story of the same name.

Screen reviewers are agreed that never in her career has Miss De Remer appeared more resplendent than as Annabelle Rose in the new all-star picture.

"The Lost Princess" is the latest vehicle chosen for Albert Ray and Elmer Fair, those snappy comedians who have been doing a series of "the sweetest stories ever told." Ray and Fair have a name for worth while pictures and this promises better than usual. It will be shown at the Liberty Theatre Thursday.

CHINESE DEAD ARE SCATTERED WIDELY

SHANGHAI, June 11. (By Mail.) Foreign residents of the Jeesfield and Kiaochoh Road districts have asked the municipal council of the International Settlement of Shanghai to urge upon the Chinese authorities to bury a large number of coffins containing the remains of Chinese that had been left scattered about fields and vacant tracts of the two districts. The complaint grows out of the Chinese custom frequently of leaving their dead unburied for long periods.

Senorita Raquel Meller, a young Spanish singer who has taken London by storm, was a poor sewing girl in Barcelona when her marvelous voice was discovered.
