LOCAL "POTE" SEEKS LONE STAR'S GOAT

My dear Lone Star: (who'er you are). I think your stuff is awful; My full opinion to express Would put me in a striped dress. Because 't would be unlawful.

Most of the jokes you pull on folks— And think them clever capers— Were written in the year of One And since have round the circle run In several thousand papers.

Your bunch of bunk is moldy junk; Why don't you make it snappy? Have you no wit to freshen it And make it bright and happy?

'Tis strange that in the midnight hour Your slumbers are not harried (Because you stole the lines they wrote 'Thout e'en the justice of a 'quote') By ghosts of men long buried.

Humor, my boy, we all enjoy. If it be new and sunny. But 'hells' and 'damns' and vulgar slams Never struck me as funny.

A little rapier thrust of wit, when some offender must be hit. Will make no just man sorry. But your best weapon seems a club. The messy weapon of a dub. A mangling thing and gory.

Unless you can acquire a style That once a year can raise a smile. And savors less of slaughter. Just take a tumble to yourself And crawl back on your little shelf; I really think you 'oughter.'

The Chinese consider the peach the most healthful of fruits. Its merits are insisted upon in the songs of the poets and the treatises of their doctors. Eating contests are common among the villages of Alaska. He who consumes the most food is considered the most accomplished man. It is the custom in Siam for every man to enter the priesthood once in his life time, for a period which varies from a few months to as many years.

Warren G. Harding

Warren G. Harding's Career

1862, November 2—Born on a farm in Blooming Grove, Morrow county, Ohio. His parents were Dr. George T. Harding, a county practitioner, and Mrs. Phoebe Deborah Harding, of Holland Dutch descent. Lived life of a boy on a farm until he was 14 years old. 1875—Attended Ohio Central College at Marietta, from which he was graduated four years later. Supported himself in college as farm laborer, care painter, teamster and railroad hand. 1880—Family moved to Marion, Ohio, where Warren shortly acquired the Evening Star, which he still owns and edits. Meanwhile taught school, studied law and was admitted to bar, but did not practice. Mastered every detail of newspaper work from printer's devil to pressman and managing editor. Still carries on his back piece the printer's rule he used as an apprentice printer. Throughout all the years of his ownership of the Marion Evening Star there has never been a strike or threat of a strike in the plant. 1891—Married Miss Florence King, of Marion. Is a member of the Baptist Church and a trustee of Trinity Baptist Church, Marion. In home city has served as director in a bank and in leading manufacturing industries. 1899—Elected to the Ohio state senate. 1901—Re-elected to the state senate by a vote unusual in a Democratic stronghold. 1904—Elected lieutenant governor of Ohio, Myron T. Herrick being chosen governor. 1910—Nominated for governorship by Republicans, but was defeated by Judson Harmon, who, in 1912, opposed Woodrow Wilson for Democratic nomination as president. 1914—Elected to the United States Senate, being the first candidate elected from Ohio by popular vote. 1915—Delivered keynote address at Republican national convention, Chicago. As senator is a member of these committees: Foreign Relations, Philippines (chairman), Commerce, Expenditures in the Treasury Department, Pacific Islands, Public Health, Standards, Weights and Measures, and Territories. In the treaty fight, in supporting the Lodge reservations, vigorously opposed the Wilson peace policies. 1920—June 15—Nominated by the Republican national convention to be President of the United States.

SUMMONS FOR PUBLICATION No. 1185 Equity

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Klamath County. Fred L. Houston, Plaintiff, vs. Daniel L. Gordon and Nellie Gordon, husband and wife, C. N. Gordon and Lucy I. Gordon, husband and wife, Rebecca Jane Gordon-Pratt, widow, Laura Sherman-Hess, A. H. Hess, wife and husband, Sykes Hamaker and Ethel Hamaker, husband and wife, George Sherman and Leonard Sherman and Fannie Sherman, husband and wife, heirs at law of Sarah A. Gordon, deceased; and the Unknown Heirs at Law of Sarah A. Gordon, deceased, Defendants. In the name of the State of Oregon: To Daniel L. Gordon, Nellie Gordon, C. N. Gordon, Lucy I. Gordon, Rebecca Jane Gordon-Pratt, Laura Sherman-Hess, A. H. Hess, George Sherman and Leonard Sherman, his wife, Leonard Sherman, and Fannie Sherman; and to the unknown heirs at law of Sarah A. Gordon, deceased: You and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before July 26, 1920, that being the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of this summons. And if you fail so to answer or appear, or want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in his complaint on file herein, to-wit:

First. That the defendants and each and all of them be required to set forth the nature of their respective claims to the hereinafter described property and each and all of their said claims, if any they have, and that all adverse claims of the defendants, and each of them, be determined by a decree of this Court. Second. That by a decree of this Court it be adjudged and determined that the defendants and each and all of them have no right, title, interest, or estate in and to the said premises, or any part or parcel of the said premises adverse to the title of plaintiff herein, and that the plaintiff be decreed to have a good and valid title in and to said described real property, to-wit: Lot Five (5) in Block Thirty-nine (29) of the City of Klamath Falls (formerly Linkville), Klamath County, State of Oregon, according to the duly recorded plat thereof; and that plaintiff have good and valid title in and to said premises as against the said named and unnamed defendants and each and all of them. Third. That by a decree of this Court it be adjudged and determined that the defendants and each and all of them be forever enjoined and barred from in any manner asserting any claim or claims whatsoever in or to the said premises hereinabove described, or in or to any part or portion thereof, adverse to the plaintiff, and for such other and further relief as to this Court may seem meet and equitable, and for his costs and disbursements herein. This summons is served by publication thereof, in the Evening Herald, a daily newspaper, printed, published and of general circulation in Klamath County, Oregon, by order of Honorable D. V. Kuykendall, Judge of the above entitled court, made and filed June 11th, 1920, which said order requires that this summons be published at least once a week for six consecutive weeks, beginning on the 12th day of June, 1920. In a remote district of Cambridge-shire, England, there is a well-known little inn by the waterside which bears this inscription: "Five miles from anywhere—no hurry." In the Egyptian department of the British Museum is a wooden doll which was found in the sarcophagus of a little royal princess who died three centuries before Christ. From the establishment of the republic it has been a sort of "unwritten law" that the President and the Vice President shall never travel on the same train.

JAPAN REALLY BACK NUMBER

Writer Brings Forward Arguments to Prove That the Chinese Are the More Progressive.

It may strike the western reader as simply funny, but more than one Chinese friend has assured me that it is the Japanese people who are really conservative. And they back up their assertion by evidence other than the way in which Japan has clung through all historic vicissitudes, to a primitive theocracy. John Dewey writes in Asia Magazine. They point out, for example that a thousand years ago the Japanese borrowed the present style of clothing and of household furnishing of sitting and sleeping on mats, from China; that China has changed several times, moving constantly in the direction of practical utility, of ingenious adaptation of means to needs. The Chinese cuisine is another argument. It is doubtless the most extensive in the world in the variety of material employed for food, and also the most varied in its combinations. Academic analysis may dispose arguments drawn from food, clothing, shelter and furnishings. But when one notes the variety and ingenuity of the processes and appliances used in daily life and in the crafts one is certain that the Chinese mind is naturally observant and adaptive. But it seems unnecessary to labor the question. Many charges have been brought against the Chinese, but no one has ever accused them of stupidity. Their undoubted conservatism is something to be explained rather than an explanation of anything.

Bugs That Birds Eat

According to a paper on behalf of bird protection published by the State Horticultural society of Kansas the bird population of that state is 256,000,000, which every year eat enough insects to fill 400 trains of 2400 cars each—24,000 cars of a minimum weight of 24,000 pounds to the car. These insect trains would be long enough to reach from Oklahoma to Nebraska. Reduced to pounds, their figures are that the birds of Kansas every year eat 576,000,000 pounds of insects. It is hard to conceive the dollars and cents value of the insect-eating birds to the Kansas farmer.

Things We Forget

Folks here seem to have developed an awkward habit of leaving their legs behind in street cars. According to the last annual report of lost property, the general manager of the street railways says three artificial limbs found their way into the list, which also includes six gas masks, sixty Bibles and prayer books and cash to the value of $11,465.—Liverpool (Eng.) The great basilica of St. Peter at Rome does not possess, strange to say, nearly so good an organ as many a one in an American village church. There are two small instruments that are wheeled about. Every town in Burma covers a wide area, because persons of all ranks have a rooted objection to buildings of more than one story, as they cannot endure the thought of anybody's feet being over their heads.

Rain gambling is common among the natives of India. The "book-makers" offer odds against rain, the public backing the rain. The odds vary with the state of the weather from two to one to fifty to one. Those who back the rain win when the fall causes an overflow from a small tank.

Government lotteries are in full swing every day in Siam. The betting is on the 34 letters of the alphabet, and the winning letter is drawn every night at hazard from a bag. Those who have been lucky enough to stake their money on the winning letter get back thirty times the amount of their stake.

Large as is the Zuyder Zee, it lacks comparatively modern feature in scenery of Holland. It is said to have been formed towards the end of the thirteenth century, after a great storm, when the sea swept inland through the isthmus connecting Friesland with northern Holland and converted the Flevo Lake into a sheet of salt water.
