

With acknowledgments to K. C. B.
"As a cook, I'm a fine bricklayer"

"SURE THING," I said.
 "YOU STAY in bed,
 AND I'LL cook breakfast."
 SO MY wife agreed.
 SHE'D TRY it once,
 AND THE fruit was fine,
 AND THE coffee—well,
 SPEAKING roughly,
 IT WAS fair.
 BUT WHEN I tackled,
 SOUR MILK griddle cakes,
 SOMETHING WENT wrong.
 THEY LOOKED easy,
 FLOUR, SODA, and salt,
 SOUR MILK, one egg,
 MIX, DROP, cook, flop.
 BUT SOMETHING went wrong.
 SO I stacked the cakes,
 UNDER MY window.

TO MASSACRE,
 THAT TENOR cat next door,
 AND I asked my wife,
 WHY Cakes go wrong.
 SHE SAID, "It's like
 THE CIGARETTES you smoke,
 JUST THINK it over."
 AND FIRST I said,
 "THEY SATISFY."
 BUT SAW that wasn't it.
 THE NEXT guess landed,
 "THE BLEND can't be copied."
 AND I gotta admit,
 THERE'S SOMETHING in
 THIS TALK of knowin' how.

KNOWING HOW is everything in blending cigarette tobaccos.
 The Chesterfield recipe calls for the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos, expertly blended in the exclusive, can't-be-copied way—our own secret. We do "know how"— and that's why Chesterfields
 "satisfy."

DELEGATE TO W. R. C. MEETING MAKES REPORT

To the members of the F. B. Sprague Women's Relief corps of Klamath Falls, Oregon, I herewith submit my report as a delegate to the department convention at Astoria, June 8, 1920.

On Monday and Tuesday between 500 and 600 members of the different orders, annexes of the G. A. R. of Oregon, arrived.

They were met by the Boy Scouts and assigned to their rooms. I want to say that the scouts were the most manly, courteous little fellows it has ever been my privilege to meet.

The Women's Relief corps opened at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Jennie C. Bently, president, presiding.

The opening services, which were a song (America), prayer and a salute to our flag.

The memorial services were impressively rendered. During the services a bouquet of flowers was placed on the altar in remembrance of our deceased members—one being placed by Mrs. Martin of Klamath Falls corps for our dear sister, Mrs. Fleet, as a fitting tribute to her memory.

In the evening a reception and hearty welcome was given by the city of Astoria and it was surely a whole-souled welcome.

At all business houses the doors were thrown open for entertainment—even the picture shows gave free admittance during our stay to all old veterans and their wives.

Wednesday

The president introduced all department, past and national officers who were tendered the proper salute.

The president gave a very instructive and interesting address which was responded to by Mrs. Gillman, past president.

Education was discussed—a resolution was drafted and unanimously passed to increase the salaries of teachers owing to expensive living and all were instructed to work with that object in view.

It was reported that the soldiers' home at Roseburg was very much in need of rag rugs—Canby corps had sent 10 and a few others had sent one or two. The senior and junior vice presidents gave an unanswerable address on the subject and suggested that all corps make rugs for their use and I would mildly suggest that this corps make a few rugs and send them—it would certainly add to the comfort of those old soldiers with only a small effort on our part.

We then attended the parade which was a mile long and it made one's soul proud to observe those old soldiers march with the drum corps—step off like boys.

Next the presentation of the American flag to the public school of Astoria by the W. R. C. of the department of Oregon—presented by Mrs. Myrtle Martin of this corps in an elaborate, appropriate and befitting manner.

A large picture of Lincoln was presented to the high school by the ladies of the G. A. R. and a flag to the Boy Scouts by the Veteran Daughters—I wish to praise the scouts with all my heart—they were certainly efficient and deserving—after three rousing cheers for them we returned to our work.

Several very important resolutions were passed which you will receive in the journal.

The national president to Pittsburgh, Pa., was introduced and given a proper salute—a very, very old lady—she was a most wonderful woman who gave an address so full of information interesting and instructive—I wished that every member of this corps could have been present and heard her words of encouragement and enthusiasm for the good cause that each and every one of you members could not, without regret, let our home corps die for want of attendance.

An extended discussion was entered into in regard to the proper manner of saluting the flag—the corps salute being different from the attention to the flag when passing by—we, the corps, should stand with right hand in same position as soldiers.

It was also decided that the flag law should be read in each corps occasionally—that the flag should not be used for advertising purposes nor tucked over cars but left streaming—that the flag should always go ahead and never behind—that Boy Scouts should at all times be authorized to correct the improper use of the flag, harshly if necessary, whether being used wilfully or innocently. How Much is a Million?

The moment you mention a million dollars to some people, they are antagonistic.

They imagine that a million dollars represents a tremendous part of the national wealth.

Instead it represents only one penny for each inhabitant of our country.

Swift & Company last year had an output of 5,500,000,000 pounds. A profit of one cent per pound would have resulted in $55,000,000.

The actual net profit was $14,000,000 or one-fourth of what we would have made had the profit been at the rate of 1 cent a pound.

An average profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound indicates a highly competitive condition in the industry and also proves our assertion that packer profits have practically no effect on prices.

Chile has frequently been dismayed by the fear that her supply of nitrate might become exhausted. This would mean not only a disturbance of chemical conditions in all parts of the world, but also a disastrous fall in the income of the Chilean Government, which for the past forty years has placed a tax on the export of this natural product. From this tax Chile has derived between three and four hundred million dollars in gold since 1880, without taking into account the revenue from iodine and from the sale of nitrate lands.

In the evening a reception was given to the national president which was well attended.

Thursday

After opening ceremonies several songs were rendered by the old veterans, some of their own composition.

The question was asked how to proceed when a church refused to display the flag during services? The answer was—go to some other church.

The matter of what to do with old worn out flags?

Some instances the Boy Scouts were directed to gather them and destroy them and order the public to replace them with new ones.

It was decided that all reasonable and just assistance should be extended.
