O. A. C. BUILDING PROGRAM RUSHED

"Going All Around" says the Good Judge

I find men are taking to the Real Tobacco Chew.

The good, rich taste lasts so much longer that you find it saves you money to use this class of tobacco. Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

Put up in two styles

RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco
W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, July 19.—Construction work is being rushed with a view to making it possible to accommodate the influx of students next school year.

Many self-supporting students are receiving a boost financially through construction work. Between 30 and 40 of them are now employed and one or two hundred more can be used by L. N. Traver of Salem, in charge of construction work, provided the men are fitted for their duties.

Concrete is being poured for the central unit of the home economics $150,000. Work on a $61,000 swimming pool unit for the men's gymnasium is under way, a third story is being added to Apperson hall, better known by former students as mechanical hall. Extensions to the heating plant are being made under the direction of M. C. Phillips, associate professor of mechanical engineering, and superintendent of heating. A $100,000 women's dormitory will be erected as soon as the plans are ready.

The college foundry under A. E. Ridenour is doing rush work this summer in connection with campus improvements.

Mr. Travis is having trouble in obtaining certain material for construction work due, he indicated, to car shortage. Nails, wire and galvanized iron are hard to obtain although no difficulty is experienced in getting lumber.

The addition to the home economics building will meet a long felt want, it is said. The young women have worked under difficulties within the last year or two because of lack of space. The new unit will provide suitable administrative offices, rest rooms, laboratories, lecture rooms and other necessary accommodations.

The reconstruction of Apperson hall will give more breathing space for students in physics and several branches of engineering. Last school year the young people were packed into this building in almost sardine fashion. Eventually a new physics building will be constructed and the building will then be devoted entirely to electrical and civil engineering.

FOR SALE

Alfalfa hay. Call Altamont ranch, phone 496-W1. 15-1f

In 1918, 145,583 cords of hemlock pulpwood and 35,385 cords of spruce were consumed in Washington, Oregon and California.

Work in the open is possible at all times of the year on the Tongass national forest, Alaska, but logging operations are not profitable in the short days of winter.

We take in used cars only when we know they will give satisfactory service to our customers when we dispose of them. We have a number on hand now—see them. Howie Garage, Main street. 17-1f

The commercial trees of Alaska are western hemlock, Sitka spruce, Alaska cedar and western red cedar. Cottonwood, birch lodgepole pine and white fir are also found in small quantities.
