LABOR COUNCIL TO DANCE THURSDAY

The central labor council will conduct a dance at the open-air pavilion on Thursday evening, July 22.

Arrangements have been completed, and a large attendance is expected. All affiliated Unions have taken an active part in the advance sale of tickets, which has been gratifyingly large.

By agreement with the management of the pavilion, half the net proceeds from the sale of tickets will be donated to the funds of the labor council.

Surprises will be sprung on the night of the dance, and it is expected that all who attend will leave the floor, pleased and satisfied with the evening's programme. Jazz music will be a special feature.

The following committee has charge of arrangements: Messrs. Bristol, Conkling, Evanson and Newton.

Honest to Goodness

PRICES ALWAYS IMPRESS the buying public, because the public, nowadays, knows when it is getting its money's worth. You can't fool the buyer any more, especially the shoe buyer, and we have always conducted our business with that knowledge as a basis. We always give the buyer what he or she wants, and keep a varied stock on hand that helps us carry out this policy. Yes, prices always impress the buying public, and the honest, genuinely reduced prices which feature our present shoe sale have so impressed shoe buyers that a noticeable impression has also been made upon our stock—some lines are almost gone, but still there is a wide assortment of classy, serviceable shoes at your disposal.

What about prices? Well, they're down, away down in the cellar. We advertised a few prices in this newspaper, and our display windows show many more, but it is sufficient to say that regular prices have been shamelessly cut, slashed, reduced, and now is the time to buy. We have made remarkable sales during the week just passed, and it's all due to our remarkable prices and our unbeatable and varied lines of shoes.

HOSIERY? You've said it! Our stock is dwindling. Orders are coming by mail, too. We've some real buys in hosiery, and our hosiery is the kind that is sure to please the ladies.

And the sale is still on!
