Goodyear Tires in the 30 x 3, 30 x 3 1/2 and 31 x 4-inch sizes are manufactured with characteristic Goodyear care to build high relative value into every carcass and tread.

Last year more cars taking these sizes were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

In order to make these tires widely available to users of such cars, we are operating the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car requiring one of these sizes, go now to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

INFANT DEATH RATE RAISING

The "summer peak" of infant deaths is now beginning. The conditions responsible for this "peak" are described in a series of studies of infant mortality made by the Children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor in six industrial cities.

In Manchester, N. H., more babies died from gastro-intestinal diseases than from any other cause, the rate being 63 per 1,000 babies born alive. In August more deaths occurred from these diseases than occurred in any other month from all causes combined. Two-thirds of the babies in Manchester were born to foreign born mothers, two-fifths to mothers who could not speak English, over one-sixth to illiterate mothers. Nearly half of them were in families where the father's earnings totaled less than $650 a year, and over two-fifths were to mothers who were gainfully employed during the year following the baby's birth. Mothers who worked away from home were in most cases obliged to wean their babies, and did not understand the importance of care and cleanliness in giving artificial food. Only seldom did a mother report that she modified the baby's milk.

In Johnstown, Pa., Waterbury, Conn., and New Bedford, Mass., where similar conditions prevailed, the infant mortality rates for diseases of the digestive system were 52, 41 and 48, respectively.

In Saginaw, Mich., and Brockton, Mass., where the proportion of foreign born, illiterate and gainfully employed mothers was comparatively low, and incomes more nearly adequate, artificial feeding when resorted to was more scientific. The infant mortality rates from gastrointestinal diseases were only 8 and 12, respectively.

These reports emphasize the importance of family income and better domestic and municipal sanitation. But they indicate also the need of teaching mothers how to take care of babies. The lowest rates for each one of these cities were for breast-fed children, so that mothers should be taught first of all to nurse their babies. But, as several of the reports point out, the difference is almost as striking as the difference in rates between the breast and the artificially fed, due to the care, or lack of care, used in preparing the food.

Babies who perish because their mothers do not know how to take care of them, thus piling up the tall black monument of summer deaths, can be saved if baby health centers, a system of visiting nurses, and other forms of educational work are established. The infant mortality rate in cities where these measures have been tried has been markedly reduced.

PORTLAND MAN GETS BIG FISH AT LAKE

From the waters of Crater lake a 21-inch rainbow trout was brought back to Portland by Clarence H. Gilbert, attorney and ex-president of the Multnomah Bar association, to prove that the snay denizens with which the lake has been stocked are worth the time of any fisherman. Half a dozen others, 17 or 18 inches long, comprised the catch, says the Portland Oregonian.

Mr. Gilbert's outing lasted a week and was taken in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Houk of Redmond. The fish were dropped into a snow bank above the lake almost as fast as caught, and packed in snow for the return trip to Portland.

It was Mr. Gilbert's fortune to arrive at Crater Lake in the midst of the strike of all help at the Crater Lake hotel. Though there were 100 persons there, but little inconvenience was experienced, he said.

"The waiter I had was the best I ever saw," he commented. "He was a stage driver."

There were more California than Oregon people at the resort, he said. The trip was made through central Oregon, and the roads were reported to be in excellent condition. In all 600 miles were traveled.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR TO BRINGS BACK ITS BEAUTIFUL LUSTRE AT ONCE

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

A Classified Ad will sell it.

POT POURRI

By LONE STAR

It's all right to save daylight if you will invest it so that it will pay interest in better health and longer life.

Here's another on our old friend Dr. Hunt. It's a good one too.

Incidentally may the good Lord pity Lone Star after telling this one if the good doctor ever gets him on the dissecting table.

Some years ago the doctor was practicing in the South, and one day was called to see an old colored lady.

While talking to his patient he was continually interrupted by a crying baby which sat on the floor, and whined and howled continually. Finally the mother picked the child up, and Warren, looking the old coon in the eye said, "Auntie—your child seems to be badly spoiled."

"So sub, mister doctor—no suh" replied the colored mammy, "all little cullud babies smells that way."

Doc Truax received a letter from a long distance patient yesterday and in the letter was the following clause: "I have cramps in my back so that I can hardly walk at times across my kidneys."

A headline in a Frisco paper the other day read as follows:—
THREE MEN ARE KILLED IN A DUEL.

One of them must have led a double life.

James McSwilligan, a young man of McSwilligansville in this county, was badly injured when a motorcycle threw him about two miles from the city. (Some throw that was.)

Harry Richardson was sprawled out full length under his "Elizabeth" the other day, fixing it.

Thad McHattan strolled by and ventured the remark "Fixing your car, Harry?"

"Naw—just dabbling in oil" replied the news-butcher.

Someone sent Fred Soule three bottles of beef iron and wine last week. The same day he received a notice of a wedding and an auction sale. Here's the result:—

"William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction, on my farm one mile east.

If the Wood Dealer Sold Service

We do not sell current; we sell service. That sounds odd doesn't it?

Well, suppose the wood dealer sold service instead of wood, he would tend to your furnace and your range, take away the ashes and clean the flues. You would buy so much heat.

Now you buy so much light, although you pay according to the current you consume. But the service is performed for you by this company at the substations and power plants.

That is what we want to give you—efficient service. It is the aim of this company to have none but satisfied customers. No matter what it is, if you have a grievance, or are dissatisfied about your bill or do not understand our rates, please come in and see us or write us about it.

If you have any suggestions to make, we will gladly avail ourselves of them as our aim is constantly to improve our service to you as fast as the development of science and human ability permit.

in the presence of about seventy guests, including two mules and twelve head of cattle. Rev. Lawrence tied the nuptial knot for the parties averaging 1250 pounds on the hoof. The bridal couple left Wednesday on an extended trip west. Terms cash.

I cannot wear the old suit I wore long years ago; It's shiny at the shoulders. My knees and elbows show. But on investigation I Discover this is true; I cannot wear the old suit. Nor can I buy a new.

Si and Hank met on the Merrill road the other morning, and this is what passed between them.

"Mornin' Hank."
"Mornin' Si."
"What did you give your hoss for botts?"

"Turpentine."
"Mornin' Hank."
"Mornin' Si."
Three days after they met again and this is what passed:
"Mornin' Hank."

"Mornin' Si."
"Did you say you give your hoss turpentine for botts?"
"Killed my hoss."
"Killed mine too."
"Mornin' Hank."
"Mornin' Si."

We see in a Portland paper that a Mrs. Williamson was married the other day to a Bill Smith. This makes her 6th husband and strange to say everyone of them has been called William.

A regular bill collector, that woman.

Some one asked us the other day why the Rev. E. P. Lawrence was like a brakeman, and not being very smart, we were stuck for an answer. "Because he does a good deal of coupling" said our friend, as he passed on.

A local girl asked us if it was proper for a married man to kiss another girl in the presence of his wife. We told her it was proper all right, but that it was poor judgment.
