UNIVERSITY HAS BIG BUILDING PROGRAM MAPPED

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, July 19. (By Mail.)—Assurance of a construction program for the University of Oregon which will total a million and a half dollars within the next five years, was contained in the report of President Prince L. Campbell to the Board of Regents of the University, who met in special session here Saturday.

A number of new instructors were appointed at the special session of the board, both to fill vacancies, and to fill new positions created to care for the student body, which has grown largely since material additions to the teaching force have been made.

William G. Hale, for ten years on the faculty of the School of Law of the University of Illinois, was elected Dean of the School of Law of the University of Oregon. W. C. Dalzell was elected associate professor in the School of Law.

L. S. Huff, Verne R. McDougale and C. M. Hogan were elected assistant professors in the School of Commerce, and John Whitecar and Franklin F. Folts instructors in the School of Commerce. New members of the faculty in the School of Education elected include Rollien Dickerson, assistant professor and principal of the model Junior High School, and Miss Thora Smith, instructor in the School of Education.

Three instructors in the School of Architecture were named: F. H. Miles, instructor in Building Construction, Miss Freda Storm, and George H. Reed, instructor in Mechanical Plants. Miss Laura C. McAllister and Miss Mary E. McCornack were elected instructors in the women's gymnasium, and Dr. Bertha Stuart Dymont was named medical consultant for women.

Two assistant professors in rhetoric, Miss Grace Edgington, and Andrew Fish, were elected. Miss Florence White and Miss Anna M. Thompson were elected instructors in Spanish, and Miss Madeleine Girardot, instructor in French. Kimball Young was elected assistant professor in Psychology, and J. Hugh Pruett, assistant professor of Physics.

A number of graduate fellows and assistants were also elected. Rudolph Gjelness was elected head of the order department of the library of the University, and Miss Louise Davis, Miss Gladys Platt, and Miss Merie Hamilton were elected to assistantships in the library.

Dr. James H. Gilbert, who has been professor of economics in the department of economics and sociology, was elected head of the department of economics, which has been separate from the department of sociology.

Increases in salaries of members of the faculty totaling 25.9 per cent of the entire payroll were allowed. Individual increases ranged from less than this figure for some members of the staff recently elected to the faculty of the University, to somewhat greater than this figure for those who have been here a number of years and for some, who on account of special ability, were promoted in rank.

Budgets were approved for the Extension division and for the library of the School of Law. A special budget for a biological survey, to co-operate with a fund given by state Senator Robert A. Booth, was approved, at the special meeting of the Board.

Plans for financing of a new building for the School of Music, and of a men's dormitory were also approved. Under these plans the buildings will be constructed by a private corporation and leased to the University for a period of years, the buildings and the grounds on which they stand to become the property of the state at the expiration of the lease. The naming of new buildings now under construction and those to be constructed was referred to the executive committee.

W. K. Newell, who recently resigned from the Board of Regents, was elected director of properties of the University.

Recently, at one of the towns on the Canadian border, a goat severely butted a hunchback, and a sharpened customs official perceived that, succeeding the assault, the man's hump was out of place. Upon further examination it was found that the man was perfectly well formed, though diminutive, and that his "hump," when detached, was a two-quart receptacle filled with whisky.

The peculiarities of geographical nomenclature in China are remarkable. No river has the same name throughout its course and for centuries it was the custom to rename towns with every new dynasty.

Hornaby, Mighty Batter, for Whom an Offer of $200,000 Was Refused

The high cost of baseball players is still going up. Here is Rogers Hornaby, the young infielder, for whom the St. Louis National league club has refused an offer of $200,000. The reason is that he has been leading the National league batters by a mile. Those who like to delve into baseball history have informed us that Charles Webb Murphy 15 years ago bought the entire Chicago club—including such stars as Brown, Evers, Overall, Tinker, Steinfeldt and Scheckard—for $105,000.
