Electric Refrigeration

Isko Dry Cold Protects The Family Health

One of the chief advantages of Isko, the Electric Cold-Maker, is that its cold is dry cold.

Every housewife knows that dampness and melting ice are inseparable. With Isko refrigeration all kinds of food are kept fresh and dainty, indefinitely.

Furthermore, it is easier to keep your refrigerator sweet and clean where there are no messy drainpipes, dampness and drip-pans.

Isko fits any refrigerator. It runs by electricity. Being automatic it needs no watching or thought or attention.

See Isko, the scientifically simple Cold-Maker, today. Prompt installations are possible if you place your order before the hot weather rush.

Isko comes in larger size for commercial use. Send for our booklet, "Electric Refrigeration."

POT POURRI

(By LONE STAR)

In answer to the second attempt at wit by that would-be poet, perhaps this little verse will do:

There is a guy whose name is I

To me he's staunch and true;

He'll stick by me until I die.

Whatever I may do:

No act or word he deems absurd.

If "I" its author be,

Wherefore I cry with one accord,

"Hip-pip-hooray for me."

Early to bed and early to rise,
Ruins my temper and gums up my eyes.

Forget the Ills of Life.

Forget the slander you have heard.

Forget the hasty, unkind word.

Forget the quarrel and the cause.

Forget the whole affair, because

Forgetting is the only way.

Forget the storm of yesterday.

Forget the chap whose sour face

Forgets the smile in any place.

Forget the trials you have had.

Forget the weather if it's bad;

Forget the knocker, he's a freak;

Forget him seven days a week.

Forget you're not a millionaire.

Forget the gray streaks in your hair.

Forget the home team lost the game.

Forget the pitcher was to blame.

Forget the coffee when it's cold.

Forget the kick, forget the scold.

Forget the plumber's awful charge.

Forget the iceman's bill is large.

Forget the coalman and his ways

(weights).

Forget the heat of summer days.

Forget to ever get the blues.

But don't forget to pay your dues.

Two little fleas sat by the road,

And one to the other said:

"I have no place to hang my hat

Since my old dog is dead.

I've traveled many a weary mile;

No further will I roam;

But the first darned dog that shows

his face

Will be my home sweet home."

A Movie Tragedy

(Dedicated by Lone Star to Francis X. Bushman, his favorite actor)

In childhood Myron hated curls.

As things designed to plague and vex

him;

They were adornment fit for girls;

But for a man—why they'd unsex

him.

When his were shorn when he was five

He was the happiest lad alive.

In youth, our Myron used to dip

His brush in water and apply it

Until his hair would almost drip.

And 'twould take hours and hours

to dry it.

Like polished ebony its sheen.

No curls for him at seventeen.

But oh—the sudden change that came.

When first he met the gentler sex;

For Myron loved a classy dame

Whose one delight was Francis X.

And of his curls she used to rave.

So long—and such a luscious wave.

Alas—today our hero wears

Locks as wild as any storm-tossed

ocean;

He counts among his chiefest cares

The latest soap, shampoo or lotion.

He overworks his curling iron.

The movies have corrupted Myron.

A Plea For the Kids

Nearly every day people come to the office of this paper I am advised looking for rooms, who say that their greatest difficulty is due to the fact that they have children. For this reason people will not take them in. One lady exclaimed to the Lone Star: "What can I do—I've got them and I can't kill them."

At a time like this when accommodations are so scarce, owners of apartments and rooms should strain a point, and even if they do not like youngsters, take them in and make the best of it. All of us, at a period more or less remote were kids, and were allowed to live, so now as a result it is our turn to let live.

In an Atlanta paper the other day there appeared an ad. in which the mother wanted to exchange two perfectly good children for two poodle dogs, as she said, after a great deal of search for apartments, she found one where they would not take children, but would take poodle dogs.

In the name of Heaven, are we getting to such a pass in America? Such a view of life incites race suicide. In the name of common sense, justice and humanity, let Klamath Falls frown on this tendency. And in the same name, if our police force is not capable of stopping the devilish practices of professional gamblers and pimps, then let us pass an ordinance which will protect them. The kids can't protect themselves, it seems, neither can the youth.

The mills of the Gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine. A couple of our councilmen will find out the bitter truth of that saying before very long.
