POT POURRI

(By LONE STAR)

Dr. Hunt has a case of scarlet fever on his hands, and while visiting the little girl yesterday, said to the mother: "You keep the patient away from the rest of the children I suppose?" "Oh yes indeed" was the mother's reply. "I don't let her come near the others except for meals."

Politician—We must have more births in this country, and we are going to appoint a commission to find means to do it. Friend—Couldn't you get me a job on that commission?

A green little boy in a green little way. A green little apple devoured one day; And the little green grasses now tenderly wave, O'er the green little apple boy's green little grave.

The north wind doth blow And we shall have snow, And what will the Lone Star do then poor thing? There's work to be done, His Henry won't run, So he'll have to quit work or walk poor thing.

All of which has nothing to do with the young man who wanted the universe. "I want the universe" said the ambitious young man. "It shall be yours" replied his guardian angel.

"Look—here's the earth before you. I shall plant it in seeds of Love, Wealth and Power. They will grow, they will flower, and in them you will find Heaven." "You are very kind," said the youth. "And here—but why bother further? you will doubtless raise Hell yourself."

One advantage of living in Klamath Falls is that you never have to be bothered looking for that extra cent raise in street car fares.

Lives of speeders all remind us, Each of us can be a sport; And, departing leave behind us, Dollars in Judge Leavitt's court.

This is a short treatise on Oil, so read it well as we shall soon have an "oil" boom here in the Falls: Oil first won distinction through being the commodity that enabled John D. Rockefeller to win an independent fortune, and the dyspepsia. OIL is a greasy black or green fluid which exudes from the depths of the earth.

It is chiefly noted for its lubricating properties, and it is principally used in lubricating the transfer of money from the pocket of the investor to the promoter.

OIL is of various qualities and of several varieties. The midnight oil was at one time very popular, but of late has gone into disrepute. In Biblical times OIL was cast upon the troubled waters with miraculous effect. Today, the water is cast into it, and the resulting mixture is sold as gasoline at 35 cents a gallon.

Oil, like humanity, is better when it is refined. The more highly refined it becomes, the more kick it possesses. This is not always true of humanity.

In Klamath Falls OIL is noted for two things. First:—They ain't a-goin' to find it here, and, second:—Lone Star won't write a "poem" about it.

LAKE PORTS TO BE OPENED TO OCEAN VESSELS

DETROIT, Mich., July 27.—Importance of opening the upper St. Lawrence river to ocean going vessels as a means of enhancing the world's food supply was pointed out in a telegram from Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater congress and read to the congress today. Mr. Hoover had been asked to attend the congress but was unable to appear.

"There is absolutely no question that requires so definitely a constructive program as our whole transportation problem," the telegram said. "Both railroads and waterways are far behind the productivity of our country. Agriculture and general industry are embarrassed by lack of transportation and the margins between producer and consumer are widened extravagantly by failure to obtain proper distribution. In the years to come the country will find that proper outlet for the bulk of its commodities will lie by water, rather than rail. We need a national study and a national program of transportation development, and such a program will embrace not only improvement of interior waterways, but development of the St. Lawrence.

"That the ports of the Great Lakes can be put effectively on seaboard with a comparatively moderate expenditure is unquestioned and such a step will improve enormously the prosperity of 15 states, decrease cost of distributing commodities and increase returns to the producer. It is necessary that these problems shall be handled in a definite and co-ordinated manner, that a positive policy be outlined by the government extending over a term of years for their accomplishment and that they be taken out of partisan politics and placed in the hands of competent managers.

"As an incident to such a development program I know of nothing more important than consolidation of the many construction and engineering departments of the government into one great public works department, probably in replacement of the present department of the interior. Such a department would become the central point for handling these problems, would obtain proper co-ordination of the efforts of the government, save an enormous duplication and effort, make possible a forward looking program over a long term of years and reduce the pork barrel to a minimum."
