TUBERCULOSIS SPREADS FAR AND QUICKLY

The extent to which bovine tuberculosis, if uncontrolled, runs its course through a herd of cattle is shown in a recent report received by the United States Department of Agriculture from one of its field inspectors in Illinois. Every animal in a herd of grade Holsteins and Jerseys reacted to the tuberculin test. The herd consisted of 14 cows, 2 calves and 2 bulls. Upon post-mortem examination 6 of the animals showed such extensive lesions that the entire carcass was condemned and destroyed. All of the other reactors likewise showed lesions, though not as such an extensive nature as to necessitate destruction of the carcass. The fact that every animal in the herd reacted and showed lesions makes the case one of the most striking ever recorded.

The danger of tuberculous cattle to swine was further demonstrated by the sale of hogs from this farm early in the year. The first lot of 21 hogs sold showed such extensive lesions of tuberculosis upon post-mortem that the packing company refused to accept the remaining 50. These were subsequently sold to a local shipper and their identity and destination are not known. If the swine are still alive they are undoubtedly a menace to other stock. The Bureau of Animal Industry cautions swine owners against purchasing stock from farms where either tuberculous cattle or swine are kept.

The bureau inspector also reported that a week after the shipment of hogs had been made, a milk cow—a chronic cough—had died and the younger stock was allowed to devour the carcass. Such a practice is responsible for a great deal of tuberculosis among swine in the United States. According to bureau officials the facts stated should cause any livestock farmer who finds tuberculosis among his hogs or whose shipments of hogs are refused because of extensive lesions of that disease, to have his herd of cattle tested promptly. Unless the origin of infection is known and removed, tuberculosis is liable to run its course among all the cattle and swine on the farm.

DON'T GAMBLE ON FIRE RISK. ADVICE

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Seldom, if ever, does the government advise speculation, but the Department of Agriculture says:

"If you have got to gamble, take a 'fyer' on the stock market or play the ponies, but don't take a chance on fire." It gives this advice in a circular in its campaign against forest fires.

"It never pays to take a chance with fire," says the circular. "The biggest fires in history were started by those who didn't think the woods would burn. Be as careful of fire as you are of powder; it's just as dangerous."

BELGIANS PLAYING EVEN WITH HUNS

ANTWERP, Belgium, July 11. (By Mail.)—Antwerp Belgians who suffered in the war have launched a radical movement against the few score Germans who, since the peace treaty became effective, have managed to re-establish themselves in business there.

The movement, known as "Heraus les Boches" developed spontaneously with a big parade here recently and since then the property of some German merchants has been attacked.

"Heraus les Boches" placards have been displayed in many shop windows. The term, a combination of German and French, is meant to express the sentiment, "Out with the Germans."

The Belgian foreign office has stated that only a few Germans have been permitted to enter the country and that they had been for many years residents of Antwerp before the war.
