PICKS BIBLE PASSAGES FOR CITIZENS' GUIDE

VICKSBURG, Miss., Aug. 2.—A newspaper man, Charles W. Miller, city editor of the Herald here, has compiled "An American Creed," consisting of passages from the old and new testaments. The selections transposed and arranged in such a manner as to preserve the continuity of the creed unbroken to the end, are said by Mr. Miller to contain "the wholesome truths handed down from the prophets, the Saviour and the apostles."

There are seven quotations from the old testament and 21 from the new testament making a total of more than 800 words in the creed. It begins with the words of Timothy: "Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out." The second paragraph is introduced by a passage from Malachi, "Have we not all one Father? Hath not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother by profaning the covenant of our Father?" The creed closes with these words from Timothy, "Now unto the King Eternal, Immortal, Invisible, the only wise God, be Honor and Glory for Ever and Ever."

W. F. Bond, state superintendent of education in Mississippi, writing to the compiler, said: "This is a splendid creed, and we should like very much to have a copy in the hands of every school child in the state."

Mr. Miller, who has been a newspaper man more than 30 years, said: "In this age of Godless selfishness, the tendency of the times is running steadily and rapidly into a state of unrestrained license, regardless of a high standard of life. Something is needed to assist in turning the attention of old and young to their duty to God and their neighbors. The holy bible will give the correct answer to every conceivable question that can be framed by man. It is the rule and guide for humanity."

METHOD OF HANDLING COAST DEFENSE GUNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Popular conception of the railway mount for the heavy caliber artillery—such as the 14-inch naval guns used by the Americans in France—is that these big guns can be fired as they move along the tracks. Major General W. F. Coe, of the coast artillery, explains that this is erroneous.

"Essentially, a concrete block is necessary," he says. "Over it the gun is run and then placed upon the block. We actually take the tracks out from under the gun when it is fired and it stands on a carriage with an arc of fire of 360 degrees. The gun can be taken from one position to a similarly prepared position. The real thing is you can send the guns to strategic points."

For the defense of the country from a naval attack, General Coe declares, it is well known where the blocks will be needed and that preparations can be made long ahead of time as a part of the regular fortification program.

Corner lot 75x80 ft. one block from Main on pavement, at $1600, on easy terms.

VICTORY MEDAL BLANKS ARE HERE

Anybody who served in the United States army, either abroad or at home, from April 6, 1917, to November, 1918, and received honorary discharge, is entitled to a Victory medal. The local post of the American legion has received blanks for applications for the medals and will be ready to fill them out and send them into headquarters at Seattle the last of this week or the first of next.

Service men wishing to get their medals must fill out the application blanks personally and send in their original discharge or an exact duplicate with the application blank.

"There is a great deal of red tape about the whole business and it will take some little time to get the medals," said M. L. Johnson, of the local post. The ex-soldier may get full instructions by calling up J. H. Carnahan or any officers of the post.

MILL BOILER BLOWS UP; NO ONE HURT

The boiler at the Parker-Hamaker mill at Swan lake blew up Friday due it is believed to a defect in the boiler. The explosion came from underneath and consequently saved the men from being burned or the mill from being damaged.

The mill is one of the new ones in the Swan lake district and has not been operating very long. Mr. Parker has gone to Seattle after a new boiler, and the damage will be repaired as soon as possible.
