QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine.

SEAL HERDS INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The annual census of the seals, now being taken by the Bureau of Fisheries is expected to show about 600,000 of the animals, or three times as many as when the government undertook the custody of them a half score years ago.

Although the seal spends much of its life at sea, its habits make the census-taking comparatively easy. Hugh M. Smith, commissioner of the Bureau of Fisheries, explains the "count of noses" is of importance to prevent "blind killing" of the animals for their furs, possibly resulting in their extinction.

Under present government control Mr. Smith asserts that the seals are increasing about ten or 12 per cent of their number annually. Last year's count showed 550,000 of which 26,000 were killed for their pelts.

In the middle of Bering sea, lying 40 miles apart, are two islands—St. George and St. Paul—the only land to which the seals ever resort. Every spring they visit the islands to raise their young, leaving in the fall to winter in the north Pacific and it is during the summer that the census is taken.

The killing of the animals is also done in the summer, this under law being confined to the surplus males. Last year lack of labor resulted in 10,000 fewer animals being killed than government officials had planned. Japan and Great Britain, along with the United States, share the revenue produced from the seal-kill, a treaty giving this country seventy per cent of the animals, with the other two countries each receiving 15 per cent.

"In the old days," says Smith, "when 100,000 seals were killed annually the government obtained $10 per skin, while now we are getting $140, which nets us about $120 per skin. Increase in the value of furs and the different method of conducting the business explains this."

Besides the sale of pelts, the government is operating a fertilizer plant on the islands for disposing of the carcasses, from which there also is extracted an oil used for dressing tops of automobiles.

HONOLULU EXPECTS MANY TOURISTS, 1921

HONOLULU, T. H., July 24. (By Mail).—Hotel managers of Honolulu are predicting that 1921 will prove to be the banner tourist year in the history of the Islands. The hotel men say reservations for the coming winter season are one hundred per cent heavier than for last season, but that there is plenty of room to accommodate all comers.

The present summer is creating a record in itself. Hotel figures show that more people from the mainland have been here this summer than in any other of the territory's history. This is explained, say the managers, by the fact that the old impression that Hawaii has a tropical summer climate is being rapidly dispelled as the general public learns of the trade winds which keep the island temperature comfortable.

UNJUST SUSPICION

(From the Boston Transcript) A proud young father telegraphed the news of his happiness to his brother in these words: "A handsome boy has come to my house and claims to be your nephew. We are doing our best to give him a proper welcome."

The brother, however, failed to see the point and wired back: "I have no nephew. The young man is an impostor."
