O. A. C. SUMMER ATTENDANCE BIG

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Aug. 9.—Establishing a new high record mark for summer session attendance at the O. A. C. summer session, the 1920 term closed July 31, having registered 619 students. The heaviest registration in summer session history up to this time was 335, in 1919.

The work in physical education, designed to help fit teachers for the physical training of Oregon girls and boys in accordance with the new educational laws and regulations, attracted the greatest amount of interest. This was most noticeable among rural and small town teachers, where no physical trainer is employed and the teachers must do the work themselves. The summer work showed them how some of the most important duties in keeping the body and mind of the child in healthy, active condition, can be performed by the teacher.

The largest single class of the session was that in tailoring conducted by Edmund Gurney, a Portland specialist.

Several summer students were so well pleased with their first taste of college work that they are planning to continue with degree courses, said Dean M. Ellwood Smith, director.

EVEN, AFTER ALL

A suspicious customer was boasting to a grocer of the cheapness of ten pounds of sugar he had bought at a rival shop.

"Let me weigh the package," said the grocer.

The other assented, and it was found two pounds short.

The man looked perplexed for a moment and then said: "I don't think he cheated me much, for while he was getting the sugar I pocketed two tins of condensed milk.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

AMERICAN BAR WILL ASK TREATY RATIFICATION

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Ratification of the peace treaty, including the league of nations covenant, without amendments, will be recommended at the convention of the American Bar association here, August 25 to 27, inclusive. The recommendation will be in the majority report of a special committee appointed to consider the treaty.

The committee which signed the report was composed of Edgar A. Bancroft, of Chicago, William H. Wadhams, of New York, and the late Frederick N. Judson, of this city.

Charles Blood Smith, of Topeka, Kan., and Henry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, Va., will present a minority report, in which they assert they are "unable to concur" with the majority committee.

Sections of reports to be presented at the convention have been received by members of the local arrangements committee. The reports treat of various subjects.

"Your committee is of the opinion that the treaty, including the proposals for a league of nations, should be ratified without amendment," the majority on the treaty declares. "The world is anxious to return to a more settled condition which awaits the termination of the great war. If amendments are proposed by the United States, other governments would undoubtedly propose amendments, and it is unlikely that a second conference could produce a more satisfactory treaty."

"It is particularly fitting that the United States should support the proposal for this league. The league is based upon our own experience in a federation of states enjoying liberty and peace. It has been our high destiny to join with our allies in preventing the destruction of liberty and establishing it as the governing principle in the life of the states."

"Upon entering the war we expressed it as our desire and purpose to secure not only for ourselves, but for all nations of the world, an enduring peace, based upon those principles of liberty and of justice which we enjoy. The league is organized for that purpose. Should the United States refuse to enter the league it would defeat its organization; should the United States join, it gives the best assurance of its success."

Dealing with the subject of amendments and reservations, the reports iterate that amendments are destructive to the pact, and emphasizes that only interpretative reservations should be permitted.

Another report suggests that the election of the president of the United States and his inauguration be brought nearer together, and that the short session of the old congress be abandoned.

The interval between the election and inauguration of a president, this report declares, is a "serious evil, fraught with much danger, because, if an administration is discredited by a popular vote of want of confidence, the prestige of the government at home and abroad is weakened and there is danger of humiliation and disaster to the republic." The report does not recommend any other date for the election or the inauguration.

Recommendation that the making of rules for the conduct of aviation be held in abeyance until airplanes become more numerous, is set forth in another report.

The committee on international law will present a report which states that, after outlining developments of the reconstruction period, it "finds little to record of wise and final adjustments or of complete accord." Commenting on the meeting of the organization committee of the permanent court of international justice under the league of nations, the report says: "At last a body distinctly legal, a body of our cloth and profession, is seeking, and is given an opportunity to organize international justice and prepare for its enforcement in the world."

A large number of prominent speakers are expected to address the association, including Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States; Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the interior; Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, former United States senator, and Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver. Hampton L. Carson, of Philadelphia, is president of the association.

Sections of the association will meet simultaneously with the parent organization as follows: Comparative law, judicial section, legal educa-

BUY BOOZE

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 10. (By Mail.)—There is hardly a ship coming here from America whose crew do not purchase a quantity of rum and whiskey. As much as $60 is being paid for a case of the beverage, an increase of 100 per cent. Evidence has been disclosed that whiskey and other spirits are being smuggled into the United States in bags of coconuts.
