ANCIENT AZTEC ROOM FOUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Additional indication that the Pueblo Indian cliff dwellers at Aztec, N. M., founded the Aztec and Bonito culture has been uncovered by new excavations of the American Museum of Natural History. It was announced here today.

Discovery of a sealed room in perfect condition at the Pueblo ruin in Aztec, surpassing in beauty and state of preservation any previously found in America, were reported to the museum by Dr. Clark Wissler, curator of anthropology.

The interior of the sealed room is plastered and painted in brilliant white with dull red side borders and a running series of triangular designs, Dr. Wissler reported. A sacred serpent carved in wood decorates the ceiling. It is 2 1/2 feet long and of the finest workmanship. On the ceiling beams are imprints of hands in white paint. Several strands of finely made rope hang down and on the floor are a large number of nicely cut stone slabs, one of which was 2 1/2 by 1 1/2 feet and 1 1/4 inches thick.

Several adjoining rooms, seeming to bear a relation to this sealed one, are yet to be uncovered, Dr. Wissler stated. Continuing on the Aztec excavations, he said:

"Since the greater part of the west side is now uncovered, one can get a full sweep over this immense complex of tone walls and quaint doorways. Our excavations have revealed that the greater part of the east and north sides of the city were swept by fire. The ceilings were of wood, supported by great logs of cedar and spruce, overlaid by split cedar and bark. These fell down upon each other and lay in the lower rooms in great charred masses. We found the bodies of several unfortunates caught in the rooms.

"As the fire did not reach the west side we found a large number of rooms with their ceilings still intact and household utensils on the floor just as they were left."

A TRIPLE EXTREME

"The wets have no chance in this community."

"None whatever," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop.

"Some of us even got absent minded and gave three cheers when the news was passed around that the town pump had gone dry."—Washington Star.

CAPTIOUS CRITICISM

"What's the trouble?" "The same old row," said the editor of the Toadvine Clarion. "One of our prominent suffragists has just been in here giving me 'Hall Columbia' for spelling the 'Cause' with a lower case 'c.'"—Chicago Daily News.

TO MILK USERS AND THE PUBLIC:

On July 1st, 1920, the Producers' Milk Association took over the City Milk Depot from Mr. W. E. Perkins. Mr. Lyle Mills has been secured as manager. His years of experience in the handling of dairy products insures you the best, in treatment, quality and service, that it is possible to give.

Our milk is as clean and of as good a quality as any on the market. Our herds are as healthy and well kept as any that furnish you milk.

With all these things given due consideration we are not satisfied to let you take any chances. We believe that all milk should be pasteurized to make it safe. Without pasteurizing we know our milk is as good as any. But we believe that it is better to be "safe than sorry."

So we pasteurize. When in need of a safe, wholesome milk call 296-J. We sell pasteurized milk, cream, cottage cheese, milk and butter.

Yours for a better milk for Klamath Falls.
