QUEER OLD WEDDING CUSTOM

Idea of "Running Up" in Vogue in Mississippi; a Comparatively Few Years Ago.

A unique wedding custom was once practiced in America. The "run-up" wedding was an innovation in marriages, unknown in any part of the world except in southern Mississippi, but no longer than 25 years ago it was the way in which most southern Mississippians of means were married.

Some time before the wedding the groom began to choose from among his best friends those who should ride with him. It was considered a great honor to be thus chosen. Horses were carefully groomed and be-tasseled for the occasion, the long, luxuriant mustaches worn in those days were waxed and twisted, and particular attention was paid to every detail of the rider's appearance. On the given date the groom and his riders met at some secluded spot a mile or two from the bride's home, and at a signal from the groom dashed away at top speed, hats waving and voices shouting. Around the bride's house a cordon of outriders was placed to warn of the approach of the groom and his party. As a cloud of dust announced their nearness the outriders went out to meet them, whirling about and returning with them. On the porch of the bride's home her party strained their eyes to catch the first glimpse of the riders.

The sounding of the herald's horn set all hearts to fluttering. In a whirl of dust the groom appeared, snatching up his bride and riding on ahead a short distance with her in front of him on the saddle, then wheeling back and dismounting for the ceremony, for which the minister stood waiting. Then came the wedding breakfast.

MARVELOUS IS HUMAN BRAIN

Many Millions of Nerve Cells Make Up the Mind Which Controls the Body's Movements.

The highest product of evolution is undoubtedly the human brain. This is the seat of the mind—and, so far as it can be said to have a seat, of the soul, also. Filling the great cavity of the skull is the cerebrum, thrown into many folds or so-called "convolutions." This matter is gray on the outside and white toward the center. It is in the gray matter, composed of millions upon millions of nerve cells, connected one with another, that higher thought—reasoning, association, memory, etc., go on. In the brain there are certain sensory centers which record the senses of sight, smell, taste, hearing and touch. There are also certain "areas" or parts of the brain which move various parts of the body and these are the so-called "motor areas." The anatomy of the brain has been carried to such a fine degree of knowledge that we are now enabled to put our finger upon a certain spot in the brain and say, "This group (or groups) of cells moves the little toe on the left foot," or whatever it may be. Every movement in the body is controlled by these centers, either in the brain or by the nerves which branch out from the spinal cord. All activities of the body, however, other than those initiated by the brain, are unconscious.

OBITUARY SKETCH OF MRS. PEARSON

(Contributed)

Mrs. Mary E. Pearson, who passed away at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Minnie Worden Guiley, at Brooks, Oregon, on Thursday morning, August 5, 1920, was well known here to all pioneer people, mainly as Mrs. Pearson. With her second husband, John Pearson, she came here at an early day from the Rogue river valley and kept a hotel at Fort Klamath about the time of the Modoc War.

Her daughter, Mrs. Kate Worden, widow of Sikes Worden, who was so well known here in the early days, and Mrs. Emma Corpe, widow of William Corpe, who was a brother to Mrs. E. J. Boyd of this city, were with their mother during her last illness. She was buried by the side of her son-in-law, Sikes Worden, in Salem.

Mrs. Miller had been married three times and had been the mother of eight children, three of whom died in childhood.

Her eldest son, William Alfred, died in California about a year ago, and another, Harry Pearson, was killed in Klamath county by a saw log rolling over him several years ago. Those surviving are Walter Alfred of Chiloquin, Mrs. Kate Worden and Mrs. Emma E. Corpe of Brooks, Oregon.

Mrs. Miller will be remembered by many who knew, loved and respected her. The pioneers will remember her kindly ministrations to the sick and distressed, and that no hungry person was ever turned away from her door. Mrs. Miller was 80 years of age on the 20th of last May.
