THIS IS THE LESSON: INSURE YOUR HAY

"Ten Thousand Dollar Hay Crop Burned; No Insurance." How often you have read headlines like the above. Do they mean anything to you? Do not instances like this teach you the value of protection—the necessity for adequately insuring your crop as a safeguard for you and your dependents? Fires start easily, especially in hay stacks, and they are impossible to quench after they have made the slightest headway. Is your hay insurance company in existence. Jas. Driscoll, Room 4, Loomis Bldg., City. Phone 432.

BRITISH LAUNCH BIGGEST AIRSHIP

BARROW, Eng., July 30. (By Mail).—Britain's latest airship R-80 has just been given a trial for the purpose of trimming and maneuvering rather than speeding. Faster than R-34 by about five miles an hour, the R-80 is about 100 feet shorter with a gas capacity of 1,250,000 cubic feet against the R-34's 2,000,000 feet.

The airship has four motors giving a total horsepower of 950; can average about 50 miles an hour and cruise under full power at 65 miles. She has been built on improved designs which make for speed, strength and durability, has a stream-lined hull and can lift about 38 1/2 tons gross.

The trial was carried out without a hitch and the vessel was housed just as easily as she was brought out of the huge shed.

Charles White of Chicago and Pal Moran of New Orleans are booked for another meeting, this time at East Chicago, Ind., on the afternoon of August 21.

HUFF LOSES BOUT ON FOUL; MURPHY WINS

"Billy" Huff, introduced as the "pride of Oregon" and hailed with cheers by fans at the Houston opera house Saturday night, lost the decision to Bobbie Wagner in the last half of the second round, when he deliberately landed a foul blow on the back of his fallen opponent's neck. And with the decision he lost local ring prestige that he had worked for a year to gain. Manager Smith said today that Huff will not be considered in any future exhibitions under his management.

Both men had been thoroughly cautioned by Referee Reed against precisely the thing that happened. But when Wagner tripped and went down on his hands and knees, Huff set himself for a swing and landed an open-handed blow on the back of his opponent's neck.

The house was silent during the few seconds that it took Wagner to scramble to his feet, and even after the referee raised the Seattle fighter's glove it took a long space for the fans to realize that the fight was over.

There was the usual amount of discussion and dispute and declarations that the referee's action was "too summary, and that as Wagner was unhurt by the foul he should have called time for a few minutes and if Wagner was willing let the fight go on.

In the writer's opinion Reed showed good judgment. The fighters had been warned and Huff did not choose to listen. Carried away in excitement he was guilty of a deliberate foul. If the fight had gone on and Huff had beaten his opponent, the decision would have been a gross injustice to Wagner.

The referee met the situation as it existed without hesitation, and while it was a disappointing outcome to what promised to be a well matched and interesting contest, Reed's action was the only action possible for the good of the game. Huff stated after the fight that the decision was fair. He said he did not know what made him strike the blow, except that he was excited and failed to realize what he was doing. He said he simply could not account for his action.

L. A. Bantam Beaten
Louie Lyons, Los Angeles bantam, lost the 6-round bout and his titular claims as coast champion, to Eddie Murphy. The local boy fought a nice clean battle, and showed good generalship in the opening rounds in avoiding his faster opponent. After the first round it was Murphy's fight to the end. Lyons was apparently not in the best condition, and says that his week of training here was not enough to overcome the handicap of unaccustomed altitude.

to have the best of the engagement, although not decisively so.

The opening mill between Kid Gerue and Riley Loomis was one of the usual fast curtain raisers. It went four rounds to a draw. Both lads were willing and showed considerable cleverness.

Challenges Received
A challenge was read at the ring-side from Mike O'Dowd, St. Paul welter, who wants a match here. While Matchmaker Smith is doubtful of meeting the terms of the top-notch, he is going to have a try at it. "Red" Campbell, weight 142, wants to meet Wagner, as does Gordon McKay of Salt Lake City.

Big Bout Assured
Matchmaker Smith took a 75 mile jaunt out to Langell Valley yesterday to see Earl Ritchie, and as a result thinks he has the heavyweight bout between Ritchie and "Wild Bill" Reed for Labor day all sewed up.

Both fighters are eager for the match. Ritchie will be in town tomorrow night, and Smith believes the articles will be signed.

HEAVY CALIF. REGISTRATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Records for heavy voting in California will be broken at the state primary election August 31 if all registered voters cast their ballots, as the primary registration totalled 1,252,631 and, according to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, was the heaviest in the state's history.

Political affiliation of the voters, in registering, was divided as follows: Republican, 779,854; Democrats, 282,449; Progressives, 6,674; Socialists, 19,071; Prohibitionists, 19,117, and the balance scattering, about 2,500. Those who declined to state their affiliation numbered 143,077. Republican registration exceeded the Democratic in every one of the state's 58 counties.

Interest in the election is centered on a three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for United States senator, the winner of which will be opposed at the general election November 2 by United States Senator James D. Phelan, who is running unopposed for the Democratic nomination. The three Republican candidates for the senatorial nomination are William Kent, of Kentfield, Marin county, former representative from the first district; Samuel M. Shortridge, San Francisco attorney, and Albert J. Wallace, Los Angeles, former lieutenant governor.

No contests will be waged at the primary for nominations for congressmen in four of the state's 11 congressional districts. The uncontested districts are the third, fourth, fifth and eleventh. In the other districts the voters will have the choice of two or more candidates on the party ballots.

TRAFFIC OFFICER OPEN CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Traffic officers, police chiefs, road authorities and automobile association representatives from several parts of the United States are here today to attend the 1929 convention of the National Traffic Officers' association.

Daniel Sylvester, lieutenant of police here, is president of the association.

The prediction is made that the increase in railroad fares will bring about a shortening of circuits in a number of the smaller leagues next season.
