JAPANESE ARE MENACE SAYS J. S. CHAMBERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The attitude of California in opposition to the further coming of Japanese to America, is not based upon ill-will or hostility to Japanese as Japanese, but is based solely upon economic, social and political grounds. John S. Chambers, state controller, declared yesterday in an address before the Kiwanis club of San Francisco. The greatness of Japan as a nation, and the achievements of the Japanese along lines of art and industry are recognized, he declared. He discussed the proposed initiative measure, to be voted upon at the November election, to amend the California alien land law.

MISSIONARY WILL TEACH AGRICULTURE

WEST RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 27.—Gordon K. Middleton, instructor in agriculture in the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, has been named an agricultural missionary to China by the Foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist convention and will leave soon to take up his work in Kaitung college, Honan province.

To form the basis of the agricultural and livestock department of the college a number of American breeders have contributed a number of head of dairy cattle and Mr. Middleton will take these to China with him. The dairy herd will be cared for by Chinese boys in exchange for their board and tuition. In addition, a demonstration farm similar to those operated in connection with American agricultural colleges will be established with a practical Chinese farmer as a co-operative guide.

After travelling over 60,000 miles in the "Black Maria" and carrying nearly 40,000 prisoners, a London police sergeant has just retired.

MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE

The wife of the Republican Vice Presidential nominee listening to her husband's Speech of Acceptance at their home at North Hampton, Mass.

"The initiative measure now before the people of the state to further strengthen our land laws against aliens, will go about as far as California can go," Chambers said. "The balance of the problem must be solved by the federal government. The initiative measure, which would forbid leasing as well as land owning by Japanese and put an end to their evasions of four laws through the manipulation of minor Japanese children, born here and therefore citizens, and of corporations through dummy white directors, would in no other way affect the status of Japanese now in California, whether they had entered this state legally or otherwise; nor would it affect the labor problem in California. There would never be fewer Japanese than now; their birth rate would keep their population growing.

"It is a well known fact that the Japanese as laborers are of little service to the white farmers of California. They first demand shares of crops for labor, and then leases; and then, if it can be done by hook or crook, obtain ownership of the land."

Discussing Japan's rise in power and the Japanese conquest of Korea and Shantung, seizure of Vladivostok and Saghalien, and treatment of China in general, Chambers said:

"It is clearly obvious that Japan plans to dominate the Orient and that it is the purpose to do so by forcible seizure. She now controls every eastern gate to Asia. It appears equally obvious that it is also Japan's plan to dominate the American side of the Pacific, with the difference that on this side of the ocean the conquest is planned through colonization, through peaceful penetration, until at least by having gained economic ascendancy and sufficient citizenship through a high birth rate she would also have political control.

"Two motives are forcing Japan in her scheme for domination. One is militaristic and imperialistic. The other is economic.

"It has been argued that the number of Japanese in this state is not sufficient to cause alarm. Even were the Japanese population here scattered there would be a real basis for alarm because of their astonishingly high birth rate, their immigration, their methods and their standards of life and work. But it is particularly alarming when we bear in mind the policy of the Japanese to settle in colonies, as a rule in the richest sections of the state, thus driving out the white people and gaining control of the land through crop contracts, leases and ownership. Today they either own or control 458,056 acres, an increase in 10 years of 412.9 per cent.

"The point is not whether there are 55,000 or 250,000 Japanese in California, or whether they now control or own 100,000 acres or 100,000 acres. The point is that they are now here in sufficient numbers and have acquired control of a sufficient acreage to demonstrate by their manner of life and industry, their characteristics, their birth rate and policies that they are emphatically a menace to California, to the white race on this coast and eventually, unless checked, to the nation at large."

KLAMATH FALLS OREGON

WILL ERADICATE TROUBLESOME WEED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Aid in the eradication of the "tribulus terrestris," sometimes called the "puncture vine" has been asked by the California State Automobile association by the state department of agriculture.

The vine grows along highways of some of the counties of the San Joaquin valley and has been described as a multitude of burrs, with sharp spines about the length of a carpet tack, so placed that no matter how the burr falls one spine will always point upward. The spines penetrate somewhat worn tires.
