

STREET BONDS AUTHORIZED; TWO UNITS LET

Improvement of Conger avenue, Klamath avenue from Ninth to Eleventh streets; Pine street, from Eighth to Eleventh, and Washington from First to Third, took a definite step forward last night when the city council adopted ordinances authorizing the improvement, which will cost in the aggregate, it is estimated, $47,820.

Bids for the bonds to finance the improvement will be immediately advertised. Publication for only five days is required and the council will be able to award the bonds next Tuesday night, when the next meeting will be held, and the way will be clear for letting contracts for the work. It is hoped to get it well started before winter sets in.

Other Units Awarded
Bids of the Warren Construction company for paving High street from Sixth to Eighth, Sixth from Pine to High, and Seventh from Pine to Washington (one unit); and Washington from First to Evans boulevard, were accepted.

The bid on High, Sixth and Seventh was $3.10 a square yard, and on Washington $2.94 a square yard. The difference is in the application of what is called in paving parlance a flush coat, which is a gallon of hot bitumen, applied to the sub base after the rock is rolled, as a binder. The flush coat holds the base together and gives more resistance to wear. On the Washington street unit, it was decided, the traffic would not be heavy enough to warrant the increased expense.

Main St. Laid Over
Awarding the contract for improving Main street from Spring street easterly to the city limits, was laid over a week for consideration of the class of surface to be used east of the railway. From Spring street to the crossing the street is to be the standard bitulithic construction. East of the tracks crushed rock without a surface coat was being considered, but the council felt that the expense of laying crushed rock would not be justified, unless the street was surfaced. The alternative of cindering the street is under consideration.

Will Accept Bonds
Surety bonds in lieu of the usual certified checks accompanying bids would be acceptable, the council decided.

Accept Invitation
The council unanimously voted, upon motion of Councilman Upp, to accept an invitation presented by the central labor council to participate in the parade and exercises Labor day. The labor organization promised transportation for the city officials.

SCOUTS TO DECIDE CRATER LAKE TRIP

Every Boy Scout who is interested in a trip by automobile to Crater Lake is requested to be at the meeting this evening at the Methodist church basement, the usual meeting place.

On account of expense plans for the trip had been abandoned, but several persons have volunteered use of automobiles so that it now looks as if the trip would come within the reach of the boy's purse. Tonight's meeting will decide the matter, for if the trip is to be taken it must be before school starts. It is planned to make the trip cover only two or three days.

KLAMATH LAKES BEST FISHING ANGLERS AVER

The Klamath lakes are proving the best fishing grounds of the season. Despite the fact that the non-resident license in Oregon hinders a few of the local anglers from making the trip, many of the fishermen from this city find the trip to these Southern Oregon lakes well worth the long journey.

The snay tribe abound in the lakes, many of the Rainbow type having been pulled in from Diamond lake, Upper and Lower Klamath lakes, The Rogue river, flowing down through Jackson and Josephine counties in Southern Oregon is also frequented by the lovers of the angling sport. In the Rogue, from Medford to Prospect, and in the many of its tributaries, including the Big and Little Buttes, the trout are reported in abundant quantities. Steelhead and cutthroat are running strong in the Southern Oregon rivers. Many of the automobile parties are taking advantage of the good roads and pleasant weather to make the trip into Southern Oregon this season, putting the fishing touches on a successful fishing expedition by journeying over the divide into the Crater Lake country. This scenic wonder, 8000 feet above the level of the sea, is noted for the splendid trout within its cool depths.

The Feather river is becoming popular of late, and many good catches are reported. As a general rule, however, many of the streams are very low and the fish are scarce and very fat. This is especially true of Patah creek, in the vicinity of Winters. A few good catches are reported from the Nevada county streams.

Diamond lake, one of the finest of the southern Oregon fishing grounds, was stocked with trout five years ago, and has just been opened to the angling fraternity. Owing to the poor quality of the fish in the local streams this trip to far northern California and Southern Oregon is productive of good fishing, and Sacramento making the trip come back with glowing tributes to the conditions prevailing in those sections.

The five-year ban against fishing in Diamond lake has been a good argument in favor of conservation. Insect food abounds in the lakes, and all of the fish are fat, heavy specimens.—Sacramento Union.

K. K. K. STORE MOVING TO NEW BUILDING

The K. K. K. Store has about completed the work of removing from the old location in the Odd Fellows' building to its new home next to the Rex cafe.

Rapid progress is being made in installing the oak fixtures and in the course of a few days everything will be in the perfect order that it is planned to have in the new store.

In the meantime business is being carried on just the same in the new home, where customers will meet with the same prompt and courteous service that is a characteristic of this store.

SIMILAR NAMES ARE EMBARRASSING

Similarity in names is causing embarrassment to Frank Zumpfo, Malin rancher, who is happily married and living in connubial bliss with his wife, but neighbors persist in believing that they are divorced.

It happens through the granting of a divorce in the local court, June 22, last, to Edna Schumpf, a local resident, from George Schumpf. The surnames are so much alike that readers of the local newspapers jumped to the conclusion that it was the Malin couple who were divorced.

PREPARING TO BUILD DAIRY-BONANZA LINE

Building of the Bonanza branch of the Strahorn railroad, connecting Bonanza with the main line at Dairy, becomes assured with the call for bids for grading by the trustees of the railroad fund raised by Bonanza residents. The trustees are D. G. Horn, J. L. Sparretora and William Irwin.

Under an agreement with Robert E. Strahorn the Bonanza people are to grade the roadbed and furnish the ties. The railway company will furnish and lay the rails.

Bids for grading will be received at the Bonanza bank up to October 1, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The Bonanza-Dairy branch is seven miles in length. The survey is completed and practically all the right of way secured. As soon as the grading is done and ties on the ground, the railway company will lay the track. The local construction office today stated there would be no delay on their part.

A crew of 18 men is working east of Dairy laying steel toward Sprague river. It is expected that about 14 miles of this extension will be completed this year. As soon as material, which is on the road, arrives the track-laying crew will be increased and the work rushed.

STATE CLAIM INTERPOSED

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 31.—Interposition by the state of Oregon in the suit brought by the Lake County Land & Livestock company to establish title to several hundred acres of land now held by Welbur Loftus, Warren Laird and others has been announced here by J. O. Bailey, who is in charge of the attorney-general's office during the temporary absence of Attorney-General Brown.

The state contends that these are marsh lands under a congressional act of March 12, 1860, and are subject to recovery by the state. Should the plaintiffs prevail in the action, Attorney Bailey said, plans have been made by the land and livestock company to extend their litigation to include the lands abutting Malheur, Anderson and a number of other lakes situated in southeastern and central Oregon. More than 100,000 acres of land are said to be involved in the entire project.

Success on the part of the plaintiffs also would prevent the contemplated action of the Roosevelt Bird Refuge association from ceding certain lands abutting Malheur lake to the federal government, according to Mr. Bailey.

In case the state is able to prove that the lands involved in the suit are of marsh variety Mr. Bailey said their recovery would be a simple matter under the congressional act. The lands held by Loftus and Laird are located in Lake county.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The unauthorized strike of longshoremen against steamship companies under the British flag at New York, in protest against the English attitude toward Ireland, extended to this city today when women pickets induced a crew of 60 men to quit work on the Leyland liner, Nubian, loading for London.

BELFAST IN GRIP OF MOB MADNESS

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Nine persons are dead as a result of yesterday's rioting here, another man being killed last night. Two of those wounded yesterday are dying.

Twenty persons have been killed since rioting began last Wednesday and ominous signs of further trouble ushered in today. Employees in Mackie's foundry were stoned this morning.

Never in the history of Belfast were there such disorders as prevailed today. Mobs fought with wild fury, women mixing with the men in the melee. There were rumors martial law will be declared, but nothing definite has been done.

INDIAN JAILED FOR ASSAULT

A charge of assault with a knife with intent to kill, has been brought against Willard Lotches by Abraham Charlie. Both are Indians from the Klamath reservation. The assault is claimed to have been made last week.

Bert C. Thomas, United States Commissioner, set the prisoner's bail at $1000, in default of which he is still in jail here today.

Poster Barkley, a fee patent Indian and not a ward of the United States government, is charged with introducing liquor on to the reservation and with having sold it to the Indians. Commissioner Thomas set his bail at $1000, also. Barkley was able to furnish bond.

Hearings for both Lotches and Barkley have been set for 2 o'clock in Mr. Thomas' office, next Friday.

COX STANDS BY DECLARATIONS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 31.—Governor Cox, in a statement today, branded as absolutely untrue and false the statements attributed to Will Hays, Republican chairman, before the investigating committee yesterday to the effect that it was not the policy of the Republicans to obtain individual contributions in excess of $1,000.

The governor referred again to what purported to be an official document issued by the Republican committee to prove his assertion.

The document referred to by the governor is alleged to have been issued two days after Senator Harding's nomination at Chicago by Treasurer Upham.

CUP FOR WINNERS OF TUG OF WAR

Neustadter Bros., of San Francisco, have notified the central labor council that they are preparing a handsome silver trophy cup for the winning union in the carpenters' and timberworkers' tug-of-war here Labor day.

Rivalry for winning honors will be stimulated by the news, if it is possible to bring it to a higher pitch, but both teams were already so keen for victory that it is doubtful if even the promise of the trophy can key their spirits higher.

Besides the cup, the San Francisco firm is promising a pair of overalls to participants of both teams, winners and losers alike. Distribution of the wearing apparel will be through local dealers.

All sports will take place at the ball park.

HARDING WANTS MORE RECLAMATION AID

BRAY HERD IS DISTRIBUTED TO CAL. BREEDERS

The small gathering of Holstein enthusiasts who attended the public sale at the State Fair Grounds in Sacramento on Thursday, at which the herd of W. M. Bray of Klamath Falls was dispersed, saw the sale of Colony Zarilda Newman, a hard bull whose dam is backed by milk production records surpassed by only one or two animals of the breed. The bull went to J. S. McGillivray of Sacramento at $3,300.

The sale of this bull called for all of the skill of the auctioneer. The buyers did not seem to desire a bull, and the bid started at $500. It stopped several times at figures far below the price at which it was knocked down, each time picking up with renewed vigor in response to the persistence of Ben A. Rhoades of Los Angeles, the auctioneer, and Charles Hughes, the sales manager for the California Breeders' Pedigree and Sales Company. As a matter of fact, the bidding was more spirited during the last $1,000 of the price than at any other time.

The dam of this bull has long distance production records which have been beaten by only one animal, Tilly Alcarra. She has strictly official records surpassed only by Raphaela Johanna Aggie 3rd. In one year she produced 1,194 pounds of butter and 23,145 pounds of milk; she gave 2,265 pounds of butter and 62,613 pounds of milk in two years, and her three year record is 3,646 pounds of butter and 85,438 pounds of milk. She has three times produced over 800 pounds of milk in seven days.

The bull which McGillivray bought is sired by Aggie Cornucopia Newman, whose daughters have made very high records. Two of the daughters have made better than 30 pounds of butter in seven days.

The sale of the bull in the Sacramento sales ring was important for several reasons. For one thing, it was the second time in history that buyers have been given an opportunity to bid at public auction on a son of a cow with a 23,000 pound milk production record.

Forty-three animals were sold at the auction and the sales average was $255, being figured to this figure by the sale of several small calves. The top female was Netherland Baker Mercedes 3rd, for which Gottschall & Magruder of Ripon paid $1,025. At the age of sixteen months this animal made a seven-day record of 15.22 pounds of butter from 1,713.30 pounds of milk.

One of the bargains of the sale was Lady Cornucopia Mercedes, a 31-pound cow, bought by Charles W. Anderson of Burbank for $810. Anderson also bought Lucy Pontiac Donybrook, a two-year-old sired by a son of King of the Pontiacs out of a grand-daughter of King Segis, for $310.

J. S. McGillivray of Sacramento was the heaviest buyer at the sale, taking ten animals. Owen Duffey bought nine animals for the Napa State Hospital. George C. Kreutzer took in several for members of the Durham State Land Colony Livestock Association in Butte County. Dr. G. A. Spencer of Sacramento was a new Holstein breeder to buy at the sale.—Sacramento Bee.
