MISSING AND UNACCOUNTED FOR SOUGHT

NEW YORK Sept. 2.—The American Legion is making an effort to mitigate a distressing phase of the aftermath of war, the 2,000 personal mysteries of the great struggle of men who are classified in army and navy lists as "missing in action," "killed in battle" and "presumably dead." The work has been rewarded with some success. It is announced. In several instances the Legion Weekly has obtained for a mother more and clearer details of how her service son died, or put a wife in touch with the comrades of her husband, "missing in action."

Requests of relatives and friends of soldiers, sailors, marines and military nurses about whose fate little is known, are being sent to newspapers throughout the country for publication. Results of this publicity are carefully tabulated at offices here.

All "buddies," officers, doctors, nurses or welfare workers, who may know something of the person of whom information is sought, are invited to communicate with the friends or relatives. Each week a long list of "mysteries" are published in the Legion's organ and frequently a number of names of men and women who served in the war, but who failed to reach home, is sent to the newspapers.

The current result list of the Legion contains the following instances where desired information was furnished:

Mrs. Catherine Holbeck, of Allentown, Pa., asked for information rounding the death of her son, Sergeant Joseph Holbeck of Company C, 109th Machine Gun Battalion, 28th Division, who died in a French hospital. The mother received a letter from Dr. Joseph Lintz, of New York who attended the dying soldier, giving details of his last hours.

Mrs. Lola Mason, of McRae, Ga., asked for information that would throw some light on the disappearance of her son, F. Mason, Jr., corporal, 83rd Company, Sixth Marines. The soldier wrote his mother that he would be home for Christmas 1918, but did not appear and nothing further was heard of him. Mrs. Mason reported that she received two letters, one from the son himself saying that he had recovered from a long illness.

Many curious and touching appeals are received. A mother wants to know if her son, who died in a field hospital, "said anything on his deathbed." Another parent whose son was gassed, captured and afterwards died, desires information from his comrades as to what kind of gas was used and how it affects men.

Is your merchant an upbuilder?

EVERYTHING else being equal, it pays Oregon people to buy from merchants who are sufficiently interested in upbuilding Oregon to push the sale of Oregon-made goods.

Is your grocer this kind of a man? Does your druggist display Oregon-made goods prominently? Does the confectioner you patronize feature Oregon sweet-meats? Do your restaurant, hardware store, jewelry store, shoe shop, furniture store, furnishings store and garage take pride in featuring, whenever they can, Oregon-made products?

The people who sell the things you need ought to get behind Oregon-made goods because they are of top notch quality and because the sale of Oregon Products means increased industrial growth. Your dealer ought to make it easy for you to buy Oregon Products. Ask him to feature them.
