SIMPLE DRESS FOR DIPLOMATS

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 17. (By Mail.)—Apparel 'off' may claim the man but it is no longer will proclaim the Mexican diplomat if the recommendations of Miguel Covarrubias, secretary of foreign relations, are adopted by the government.

Senor Covarrubias proposes that the ornate, gold-brided uniforms worn by the nation's envoys in other times be supplanted by the severely simple frock coats, which constitute the full dress of diplomats representing the United States and other countries.

Besides arguing that Mexico should fall in line with the customs of other countries, advocates of diplomatic dress reform point out that the recommendations of Senor Covarrubias, if adopted, would result in appreciable economies and would help convince the world that Mexico is truly democratic.

In supporting the new movement for dress simplification, El Heraldo de Mexico recalls that during the Carranza regime a certain Mexican diplomat, upon presenting his credentials to a fastidious and punctilious European court, chose not to wear the conventional diplomatic uniform in vogue at that time, but instead attired himself in a flaming frock coat, adorned with a general's epaulets, and wore a tricolor band across his shirt front and gilded spurs on his boots. This diplomat had read somewhere that a minister plenipotentiary held the rank of general, and, lacking a general's uniform, had adorned his flamboyant frock coat with what he believed to be the proper martial accoutrements.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Representatives of Chicago packers yesterday sent letters to stock raisers, railroad officials and bankers of the middle and far west, asking them all to attend a conference here September 10 to discuss plans for financing the increased production of livestock.

HAVE YOU INSURED YOUR HAY?

Fires have caused more property losses than have been caused by all the wars, storms, floods and other agencies of destruction of historical record. Nothing is immune from destruction by fire, even though fire-proof materials are above, below, or all around it. Think how easy it is to lose your hay crop through fire, to lose your hay crop through fire, to lose your hay crop through fire. Fire insurance would be your only protection against financial loss if your hay crop should be destroyed by fire. We offer you this protection through the most reliable insurance company in existence. See me, Jas. Driscoll, Room 4, Loomis Building.

About Other People-- and About You!

There are two kinds of news in the paper. Part of the news is about the affairs of other people; their sayings, doings and goings to do; things that have happened—may happen—didn't happen.

But there's also a lot of news in this paper—if you know where to look for it—about your affairs.

That's the part of the news you'll find in the Advertisements. There's valuable news there about things you want or will want; perhaps about things you have that others want.

Every Advertisement carries a message to someone.

Many Advertisements carry messages of interest or value to you.

You can't afford to miss the Advertisements because so many of them are news relating directly to you or to your affairs.
