

Give Children a Chance at Music

For the several years that the youngsters are too young to take music lessons they can be trained to sing the childhood rhymes to the accompaniment of the Gulbransen Player-Piano. Later they can start their regular practice and parents meantime have had all the advantages of the world's best music in the home.

A child's education depends upon the parents and without some sacrifice on their part the musical and mental education is liable to be under average. Arrangements may be made at our music house so convenient that most every home can have this Standard Player.

PERSONAL MENTION

D. Boyland and William Morse, fire victims, were able to be up yesterday morning and will soon be discharged from the hospital.

Ray Talbot left this morning on the south bound train.

Dan and Dave Liskey were in the county seat yesterday attending to business, from their ranch in Swan Lake valley.

Miss Jean R. Norvell of Los Angeles, is expected in tonight for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers. Miss Norvell will be the guest of the Rogers for the next three weeks, and they plan to take her to all the interesting parts of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Underwood and Mr. and Mrs. Will Baldwin are leaving this evening for the Lake 'o the Woods, where they will spend the week-end.

Yank Logan is a city visitor today from the Klamath Indian Reservation.

Ivan Houston was a passenger on this morning's stage for Medford, where he will spend a few days before going to Eugene to take up his studies in the high school there. His high school work will be finished in January and at that time Ivan will enter the University of Oregon.

H. C. DeYoung, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker, Mrs. Hattie Molloy, Mrs. Walker Hyter and Mrs. Minnie Kenny of Los Angeles, California, are here on a sightseeing tour. They came in their car from Crater Lake last night and expect to leave here some time today. Mr. Walker, who is a member of the executive committee of the Citizens National Bank and vice-president of the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, is host for the party.

Major C. E. Worden left this morning for his home in Portland after a brief business visit in Klamath Falls.

E. R. Reams, president of the First National bank, was a passenger on the morning train for his home in San Francisco, after several weeks' visit in this city.

F. R. Laughton received a telegram yesterday bearing the news of the accidental shooting of his brother, Ray, at Susanville, California. No particulars were contained in the message and Mr. Laughton left this morning for Alameda to attend the funeral of his brother.

H. B. Jolley is a city visitor from the Klamath Agency attending to matters of business here.

J. S. Church arrived yesterday from Susanville, California, for a brief visit here.

Will Adams is in the county seat today from his ranch near Merrill, attending to business.

Mrs. Kathrine Wright left on the train this morning for San Francisco, where she will meet her granddaughter who is coming to Klamath Falls from Honolulu for an extended visit.

Lloyd Riches left this morning for his home in Portland. He said before leaving that he could not say enough about his attraction to Klamath Falls and that he could think of nothing finer than the opportunity to be in business here.

There was a business meeting of the Epworth League Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wood, at which officers for the coming year were elected. Will Wood was made president, Mrs. J. H. Lindesty, fourth vice president and William Holloway, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis left this morning for Washington, where they will visit relatives and friends of Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. R. B. Bell of Pasadena, California, is a visitor in Klamath Falls today. She is registered at the White Pelican hotel.

Mrs. J. G. Pierce and son, A. H. Pierce, expect to leave on the stage for Ashland tomorrow, after a week's visit here. They are back for the first time in nine years, but up to the time of their removal to New York, Mrs. Pierce and her son were well known Klamath residents. Mr. Pierce, who is attending school in Boston, is returning for the opening of the new term. This has cut their visit here with old friends rather short.

Dr. J. S. Reid, Emanuel Baptist evangelist, has been delayed and will not arrive from Portland as scheduled, but if he gets in on time Sunday night the services will be held as was announced several days ago.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PUBLICATION IS GROWING

"County Spirit," the official organ of the Klamath county chamber of commerce, is off the press again. The second publication of the breezy little paper is better than first, proving once more the old platitude that all good things improve with age.

A classified Ad will sell it.

THE MARTYRS OF THE FIRE

Midway between the midnight and the dawn
They still were living; but when the day was young;
Our souls turned sick beside their ghastly beds,
The crowd had wept and their first dirge was sung.

Like forest fires sweeping through dead leaves,
As swift—but in the open man may flee.
Only in traps like this the flames may leap
Upon their helpless prey, and such things be.

Hide them with earth and hide that earth with flowers,
Yet shall the heart recall that fearful sight;
The arms outstretched from windows wreathed with flame,
The voices shrieking terror through the night.

Was it a monster brought the fires of Death?
Or some avenging angel sternly come
To say—"If ye will learn no other way
I take these lives to drive the lesson home."

MUST WORK OUT OWN DESTINIES

BUDAPEST, Aug. 21. (By Mail.)—"The peoples of Europe are in a dark, deep pit and they must work themselves out of it," says Roland Hegedus, bank director and lecturer at the Budapest University.

"The United States is richer than she knows but she cannot reconstruct Europe by loans. All the nations of Europe are beset with a succession of political and economic problems that are well nigh insolvable.

"Russia is the key to the situation and until some sort of consistent government is established there, we can hope for little here.

"What the United States can do, perhaps, is to work to secure free trade among these Central European countries. None of us can do any business with tariff frontiers.

"I believe the paper money situation will force a revision of the peace treaties. All these little nations are living from hand to mouth, printing up money to keep going. Poland is hardly a year old and already she has a national debt of 13,000,000,000 marks, with a 40,000,000,000 deficit. The same is more or less true of Czechoslovakia, of Hungary and of all of us. The armies are eating up half our incomes, yet each nation is afraid to disarm because of possible attacks from neighbors.

"With this paper money carnival, Central Europe can not trade with countries having better moneys, such as Spain, Holland and Switzerland. This situation also applies to Italy and France.

"Meanwhile our civilization is going by the board. Because of the exchange, our universities and reading people can not afford to subscribe for science or law publications of England or the United States.

"For the same reason our educated but impoverished classes can not go abroad to find work, provided they could secure passports.

"These conditions are not altogether the results of a big war but of a bad peace which has fallen harder on Hungary than any other country. God made her the center of a geographical unit and the peace frontiers ruin not only new Hungary but the parts taken away."

AMUSEMENT TAX UNBEARABLE; QUILTS

BERLIN, Aug. 20. (By Mail.)—The newspapers announce the retirement of Max Reinhardt from the active management of his chain of Berlin theaters.

Reinhardt, who has dominated the German dramatic world for more than 15 years, is said to be disgusted at his inability to induce the authorities to repeal or modify the amusement tax, which, he states, is burdening his enterprises to a point where they are no longer profitable. He will retire to his country seat near Salzburg where he will devote himself to agriculture and some more complicated problems of dramatic art.

Gerhart Hauptmann, a dramatist and Felix Hollaender, who has been Reinhardt's chief assistant, are mentioned as the joint succeeding directors.

PRINCE MAKES GOOD WITH RANCHERS

MIOWERA, New South Wales, Aug. 14. (By Mail.)—The Prince of Wales had the time of his life here among the hard-riding, straight-shooting, outspoken ranchers and, by his adaptability and good fellowship, made himself extremely popular. He won their respect when he entered five races against these premier horsemen and won all the events.

The ranchers are having a quiet smile over an amusing but somewhat embarrassing incident in which the Prince was involved. With his usual "hale-fellow-well-met" bearing, the Prince on one occasion asked everyone in the house to have a drink with him.

After the drinks had been served the heir to the richest throne in the world discovered he had no money. He called on Admiral Halsey, who is touring with him, for funds but the only reply was: "I haven't a shilling on me, sir."

Finally another member of the royal party came to the rescue and the drinks were handed around.
