IRISH COURTS ABOLISH JURY

DUBLIN, Aug. 21. (By Mail).—One important provision of the Irish Crimes bill which was put into effect this month is that which gives power to try civil actions without a jury. It is intended to make short work of the activities of the Sinn Fein Courts which have revolutionized legal business, and largely reduced the Irish Bar to idleness.

The proceedings in criminal matters of Sinn Fein Courts are already being dealt with by the police. When the Sinn Feiners arrest a man on a charge of theft or burglary or anything else the police treat the Sinn Feiners' action as a breach of the liberty of the subject who should be only triable by a lawful court. The Sinn Feiners are prosecuted for assault, tried by courtmartial and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment.

The civil trials by the Sinn Feiners are more difficult to deal with, for they can be argued to be merely arbitrations by consent of the parties. But the test to be applied is whether they purport to be trials by authority of the Irish republic and where that is apparent they may be held to be seditious and those taking part in them prosecuted.

Police have recently been attending all such Sinn Fein courts. They have not interfered with the proceedings but have taken the names of those engaged so that they may subsequently be tried by courtmartial. It is generally agreed that the government has now the most complete powers against the whole machinery of Sinn Fein but there is some doubt whether it will strenuously employ them. It will have to deal with hunger strikes on a large scale in the prisoners.

EUREKA WOMAN WANTS TO HEAR FROM HER SON

Dr. M. Maybelle Griswold, 419 Third street, Eureka, Cal., wants to hear from her son, Grover C. Herr, whom she believes came to Klamath Falls a few weeks ago with his wife. She is anxious because she has not heard from him since last Monday's fire, according to a letter received by the Herald.

The son is a member of the Elks' lodge. He is supposed to be working on a train. His mother is a Rebekah, member of the Neighbors of Woodcraft, Yeoman, and the widow of a Mason. Any information that will allay her anxiety will be appreciated.

In Hungary the women do not vote until they are 24, and then only if they can read and write.

TOO MANY HUMAN "ISLANDS"

Lack Power of Expression to Communicate Thoughts So That Others Can Understand.

You are a human island, if you cannot express your thoughts so others can understand them, says Ruth Jocelyn Wattles of the Colorado agricultural college. If your mood is one of appreciation of grandeur and beauty, and you say, "Gee, ain't it gorgeous?" If in gazing at the Grand canon, you say, "Ain't it cute?" you are not in communication with your fellows; you are an island, a man entirely surrounded by men, but not in connection with them.

If in speaking to a group of soldiers you discuss, "that combination of proteins, albumens and other food substances which scientists have determined is the most conducive to health and vigor," your connection is poor. Say "chow" or "mess" if your aim is to be understood.

If you have no adjective but "awful" to apply to a dinner, a mountain, a hat, an accident, the new styles, the European war, your wires are down. You cannot express thoughts on all these subjects to your fellow humans by use of the one word "awful." If it is your only adjective, keep quiet; your silence may indicate an appreciation which your one adjective fails to express.

Are your wires down? Are you an island?

Will Not Let Women Pay.

K. U. men are hopelessly old-fashioned. The 50-50 idea, that is, that a girl pay for half the treats, which was started recently in an eastern university, did not appeal to them when it was discussed the other day.

A woman may work and by her efficiency earn as much as a man, but she pay for one-half the treats she takes away the divine right of man, opinion had it.

Pride was not the only thing that influenced them. A man must shoulder responsibility through life so it is well for him to start early. The idea of protection of women extends even to paying for the sundries she consumes.

It was the general opinion that if girls would realize that the resources of most men are not unlimited, there would not be any occasion for thinking about this matter.—Summer Session Kansan.

Porcelain Money.

A new element may be introduced into the field of numismatics by the proposal to issue porcelain money throughout Germany. With this purpose in view, a Meissen porcelain factory has already manufactured specimens of coins ranging from 10 pfennigs to 5 mark pieces. How successful the new proposal will be remains to be seen. Its adoption would mark an interesting breach with the traditional use of gold, silver, and bronze; and the well-known formulae, A. A. R. and A. E. of the catalogues would have to be supplemented. Apart from the occasional employment of electrum, billon, brass, and potin, iron in the Peloponnesus and glass for coin weights in Arabia, the three established metals, in their varying forms, have rarely been challenged.

EXHIBITION BOXING AT MONDALE TONIGHT

Jack Cordell, light light-heavy and heavyweight champion of the Orient, will take on several local boxers in exhibition bouts at the Mondale theater tonight, the receipts to go to the benefit of fire sufferers.

Here's a chance for local fans to size up the champion, who is looking for an engagement with Wild Bill Reed or some other top notcher and is likely to be billed as headliner on the card that is to be staged September 25.

Prices for the exhibition will be two dollars ringside and a dollar general admission. Besides fast boxing there will be a good vaudeville program.

Cordell will take on Toby Miller for three or four rounds. As a ring strategist Miller is conceded to have standing, and it should be a good exhibition. Afterwards Cordell will box other local boys.

Both in London and in Paris women were among the earliest to establish themselves in business as dealers in postage stamps for collectors.

TOWN LIVES WITHIN ITSELF

Seibo, on the island of Santo Domingo, Entirely Without Accommodation for Travelers.

The town of Seibo, on the island of Santo Domingo, notorious for its bandit tribes, is one of the few communities on the island that has no hotel accommodations, the unbefriended stranger finding nothing but miserable thatched huts with nests on three legs for beds, and a ragged old negro crone for a servant. Seibo is the most out-of-the-way, astonished-at-strangers, unacquainted-with-the-world town of any size that can be found in the West Indies. Though a large detachment of United States marines camp at its bandit-threatened door, the people show unbounded surprise to see American civilians. Groups of almost topically dressed men lounge in the streets, yet the town itself is little short of filthy.

A curious old church, a part of it built 400 years ago, on the top of which is the marine wireless station, is the only building of importance. From the top of this church Seibo is seen to be surrounded by low hills, everywhere wooded, without a hut outside its compact mass, described by Harry A. Frank in the Century Magazine, as having "its skirts drawn up like those of a nervous old maid in constant dread of mire." The town also has the proverbial garrison house that seems like a tort of the medieval ages.

BEYOND THE POWER OF MAN

Vainly Does He Attempt to Still a Woman's Tongue or Stop Her Garrulous Fingers.

A woman's talent—amounting almost to a genius—for letting her husband know that he is not much of a fellow in her estimation, would seem to be seriously impaired when she happens to be a deaf mute. But, according to the testimony submitted in a divorce case tried in court recently, feminine ingenuity refuses to admit any handicap in this oldest of all games. She annoyed him in the sign language.

The husband, being merely a man, did not adopt the simple expedient of tying her hands together when he wanted a little quiet. He failed to have recourse to the obvious expedient of shutting his eyes when she fingered to him that she thought he was the biggest donkey in creation.

Thus he proved once more that man truly is a creature of a lower order. He can build ships and fight wars, till the soil and manage big industries, but when it comes to stopping a woman's tongue or her garrulous fingers, he is not there!—Detroit News.

Up-to-Date Lone Jack.

Confining himself to an actual list of community calamities, Mayor King of Lone Jack, Mo., reasons convincingly that the blowing up of the local electric light plant, the quitting of his job by the jitney bus driver, the departure from the midst of them of the sole barber and the robbery of the local bank—all in a short space of time—indicate the secret arrival of a jinx in town and a high-pressure distribution of his malign influence. But it is to be observed that 25 per cent of Lone Jack's ills is due to preventable accident and 25 per cent to crime of unusual magnitude and daring, while 50 per cent is due to labor troubles.

Life within Lone Jack is only typical of the larger life outside of Lone Jack. It is a cross section of a status prevailing in the entire country; indeed, throughout the world. Lone Jack is just up to date.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Rudyard Kipling's Autograph.

They say that a bank check bearing the signature of Rudyard Kipling fetches a bigger price for its autograph than for the amount of money named in the check. Probably much depends on the size of the check. A distinguished poet of Boston once sent a poetic contribution to a well-known periodical. It was promptly accepted and published and in due course he received a check for $3 for it. Instead of cashing the check he had it mounted, framed and hung up in his library for the edification and amusement of his friends. Possibly Mr. Kipling may have had similar experience to verify the current item about the autographic and cost value of checks sent to him.—Boston Globe.

Overeducated.

"It was too much education that landed me here, mum," said the burglar to the visitor at the penitentiary. "I had an assistant who was born in Boston. One night we had a good second-story job, but he queered the whole thing at the last minute."

"How do you mean?" asked the visitor.

"When I told him to climb up the down spout to get the swag out of the second story he said: 'I refuse to do anything so paradoxical,' and just then the copper woke up and collared us."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Acidity of the Stomach.

The commonly received belief that too acid gastric juice is the cause of ulcer of the stomach has been absolutely disproved. Dr. Frank Smithies in his address as chairman of the section on gastro-enterology, American Medical association, summed up this proof. Such ulcers have been found when the gastric juice was either absent or lacking in acidity, others have been healed in the face of great hyperacidity.

RICHARDSON SELLS CONFECTIONERY STORE

The Bonbonier, which has been owned and operated by Harry Richardson for the last nine years, was sold today to A. Holcomb, who lost his creamery in the fire last week. Mr. Richardson retained the news and magazine department and will continue to operate it in the store until he finds a permanent location at some other place. Mr. Holcomb took charge of the confectionery today.

The consideration involved was not made public.
