

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because, they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

ILLINOIS TREE IS CANDIDATE

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Chicago has a candidate for the Hall of Fame for trees. It is a giant white maple nine feet in circumference at the base, 80 feet high and estimated to be 1,000 years old.

The big maple stands in the Cook county forest preserve near Glenview. Ransome Kennicott, chief forester of the preserve, who recently examined the tree and computed its age, found that, while the heart was dead, the exterior was sound and the tree capable of lasting many more years. So far as known the tree is the oldest living thing in Illinois, according to Mr. Kennicott.

In Europe women play a much more important part in the managerial and producing end of the theatrical business than they do in America.

PROUD OF THEIR CLIMATE

Residents of Eastern Shore of Maryland Relate Pretty Legend in Connection With It.

I went over to Baltimore to speak to a Methodist conference some time ago. I met there a splendid-looking man, with a long, flowing, white beard, and I said to him, "Do you preach in this section of the country?" He said, "Yes, sir; I come from the eastern shore of Maryland. Have you ever been on the eastern shore?"

I said, "No; I am sorry to say that I have seen every other beauty spot in this country, I believe, but I never have seen that."

"Well," he said to me, "we love that country. I have been preaching there for sixty-six years. We are a strange people and we have some strange legends, and one of them is that a long, long time ago when Adam and Eve lived in the Garden of Eden, they fell sick, and the Lord was very much disturbed about them, and he called a council of his angels and wanted to know where they should be taken for a change of air, so that they might improve."

The angel Gabriel suggested that they should be taken to the eastern shore of Maryland, and the Lord said, "No, no; that would not be sufficient change!"—Franklin K. Lane in the National Geographic Magazine.

NAPKINS NOT JUST SUITABLE

But Man Meant Well, and Fortunately the Teachers Had a Sense of Humor.

The parents of the pupils of a large Indiana ward school decided to give the teachers a surprise dinner party. Accordingly they took charge of the building one evening, herded the teachers in one room and made ready the table for the dinner. But just as everybody was about ready they found that they had forgotten napkins. One of the hostesses accordingly telephoned her husband who worked in a department store. "The colors are pink and white so bring something appropriate," she told him.

He bought them—pink and white. But when they were opened they displayed storks holding in their mouths the time-honored new babies. "The hostesses were horror stricken but the teachers, ready to grasp the awkwardness of the situation, led in laughter. But that man says that he will move out of that school district before there is another banquet for teachers."—Indianapolis News.

Didn't Look Like Police.

Sport is making great strides in France, but the police occasionally make strange mistakes when they see a long line of runners sprinting along the roads and across country.

Not long ago at Vincennes a number of young athletes from the military school of sport were indulging in a paper chase through the woods when they were arrested by gendarmes for being improperly dressed. They were all in white vests and running shorts. The gendarmes, however, had apparently not heard of such articles of attire or of the military school of sport. Protests made by the colonel in command had no effect.

A few days later, however, when the local gendarmes made a fresh haul of a dozen athletes, they realized their error, for the leader explained that he was an inspector of police and that the runners behind him were all Paris policemen enjoying a fortnight's training.—From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

Side Whisker Back in London.

The London exquisite is doing his best to cultivate side whiskers, a fashion that was somewhat frowned upon a few years ago when Lord Rockingham attempted its resurrection. But that was in the days before the war and probably it is as a change from the regulation military mustache of the last five or six years that British young men of today are growing tufts of hair in front of their ears with most hideous result.

The earl of Lonsdale and his brother, the Hon. Lancelot Lowther, have always been famous in the fashionable world for wearing "sideboards," but in this hirsute face fitting they are usually credited with a desire to suggest the "sporting" atmosphere in which they are generally to be found.

A Passing Jest.

We should have thought of this joke before, but even yet, if we hurry, a gentle reader here and there will know what we are talking about.

Riggs—You might not think it to look at him, but there is a great deal in that young man.

Diggs—No; he carries it well, but I smelted it on his breath.

Can't Make Knife Handles.

The scarcity of camphor, the output of which is controlled by Japan, is having a serious effect on the cutlery trade in Sheffield, England. For camphor is an essential ingredient of celluloid, and the cutlers find it impossible to get enough of this for knife handles.

A Paradox.

PREDICTS RUSS GOVERNMENT WILL COLLAPSE

LONDON, Aug. 25. (By Mail).—Just as imperialism killed czarism so will imperialism be the death of Russian sovietism, is the prediction made to the Associated Press correspondent by M. Pilp, the Estonian foreign minister in London, in analyzing the consequences of the bolshevik offensive in Poland.

While foreign minister, last year M. Pilp pitted his wits against the bolsheviks at Dorpat and he is regarded as one of the best authorities in Europe on Russian political and economic conditions.

In common with representatives here of other Russian border states, M. Pilp is watching with profound concern the developments in Poland.

"The bolsheviks are fighting Poland with the allies' ammunition which they captured from Denikine and Kolchak," he said. "This is now almost exhausted and Russia cannot renew it."

Discussing the possibility of an attack by the bolsheviks on Estonia, M. Pilp said:

"We are ready for them. The Estonian frontier is now closed by our troops except the gates through which we are trading with Russia. The soviet government must know if it succeeds in obtaining a foothold in Estonia the allies would instantly cut off Russia from the vitally needed supplies it is now receiving through us. We might perish but soviet Russia would go down with us."

M. Pilp asserted that Russia's economic condition was rapidly getting worse because this season's crop was a failure. He said it was not unlikely that the cities will soon be wholly depopulated.

"The soviet government dare not reduce its enormous army," he concluded. "Unemployment is now a critical problem throughout the whole of Russia and if the men who, as soldiers are comparatively well cared for, were thrown on their own resources a revolution would result. The chief terror which the soviet rulers have to face is peace and demobilization."

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR TO BRINGS BACK ITS BEAUTIFUL LUSTRE AT ONCE

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.
