Snake-Eaters in Convention

Gathering Which is Held Annually in North Africa Must Be a Re-pulsive Sight.

After a lapse of five years, the annual convention of the snake-eaters of northern Africa has lately been held. Seventeen of the most renowned reptile consumers from various parts of Tunis and Algeria took part.

An extraordinary feature of the convention was that most of the snake-eaters served in the French army during the war, many of them wearing the medals they won in France.

More than four hundred small snakes of various sizes were carefully measured and distributed to the competitors. A score-keeper watched each man, and the spectators cheered the "eaters" at the top of their voices.

The "eating" consisted of forcing a snake into the mouth as quickly as possible, but no bunching or rolling up of the reptiles was allowed. The snake had to be forced in head first, and as soon as the tail had disappeared, which it usually did with extraordinary rapidity, the competitor quickly snatched it out of his mouth and inserted another.

The man who finished his 24 snakes first was adjudged the winner, and was presented with a prize consisting of a round ball studded with brass nails and hung with brass chains, to which were attached silver and gold coins.

MIGHT BE CARRIED TOO FAR

Physician Could Hardly Be Expected to Rejoice in Patient's Exposition of Imagination.

Perkins was feeling decidedly queer; he couldn't get on with his work; he couldn't do anything. So he decided to pay a visit to the doctor.

"I don't feel up to the mark," he said to the man of medicine. "Can you give me a good tonic?"

With pursed lips the doctor surveyed him for a moment or two, and, rising from his chair, remarked:

"Has it ever occurred to you that there's a great deal in imagination, Mr. Perkins?"

"Certainly, doctor," answered Perkins.

"Then go out of this surgery and imagine that there's nothing the matter with you. Come back in a week and let me know how you feel!"

The patient went, doctored himself and returned to the physician at the appointed time.

"Ah, ah," said the doctor. "You are feeling better now, I can see. Didn't I tell you there was a great deal in imagination?"

"That's true," said Perkins. "What is your charge?"

"Five dollars," said the doctor.

"Well, imagine you've got it!" said Perkins.—London Tit-Bits.

Says Mosquitoes Punctured Tire.

The biggest big mosquito story of the season is credited to Fred Zavatsky, employed by the New York and New Haven Railroad company at Winsted, Conn. With a party of friends he motored in his car to Riverton, three or four miles distant, on a fishing trip. He left his car near the village and upon returning from the brook, he noticed that a spare tire fastened to the rear of the car was literally covered with giant "skeeters." They all seemed to be in working order, too, because when Zavatsky had to use the new tire to replace a flat one on the way home he declared he found it had been punctured by the huge mosquitoes.

Humming Bird Aves Woodchuck.

"The dimensions of an intruder were not considered at all by Sir Ruby," says R. I. Brasher, writing of a humming bird. "A fat lazy woodchuck, sitting upright on his hind legs, calmly chewing a sprig of leaves and surrounded by an admiring circle of Leghorns, was informed in no uncertain manner that he was outside of his domain. He returned to his proper territory with an abruptness which scattered the hens in a wild flurry of cackling. Perhaps the sudden change from lethargy to action aroused the suspicion that he was a fox in groundhog's fur!"—Boy's Life.

Rabbit Drives in Washington.

Jack rabbits to the number of 35,000 have sacrificed their lives in the drives recently undertaken in eastern Washington under the supervision of the biological survey. The demand for the meat in the larger cities of the Northwest proved to be good. White-tailed rabbits brought $2.50 a dozen, and the black-tailed variety sold for about $2. Preference was shown for those which had been shot rather than harried and clubbed. The carcasses, to be salable, should be drawn as soon as possible after they are cooled. It is pointed out, an extension of the campaign is planned.

Radical Notions.

"I hearn tell," said Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge upon his return from the county seat, "that they are aggering on putting a pipe organ into the new church in town."

"Well, it may be all right for them that jikes it that-away," severely returned Mrs. Johnson, "but as for me I'm plum ag'in smokin' in church!"—Kansas City Star.

Sure Sign.

"Wife started housecleaning yet?"

"Guess so. She's begun telling the neighbors that I'm not a bit of use around the house."—Detroit Free Press.

MATHER FIELD ACTIVE
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 15.—Mather field, near here, where during the war hundreds of young Americans received training in aviation, soon will assume something of its former atmosphere of activity, according to an announcement by John A. Jordan, representing the government aerial mail service.
Mr. Jordan said Mather field would be used by the service not only as a stopping place for mail planes, as already planned, but as a training field for men who wished to pilot mail planes and as a repair station. A large staff of repairmen will be established at the field, he said.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

NOBODY CAN TELL WHEN YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

SEEKING OLD GRAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 15.—Seeking to do honor to the man who discovered her coasts, citizens of California have afoot plans to locate the grave of Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, that a monument may be erected above it. An expedition to explore San Miguel Island, 30 miles off the coast near Santa Barbara, in the hope of finding Cabrillo's resting place, is being financed by Santa Barbara citizens and others. Cabrillo died in 1543.
