COSTS MONEY TO TRAVEL IN EUROPE NOW

BUDAPEST, Aug. 22. (By Mail). The cost of travel for Americans in central Europe and Balkan countries is reaching exorbitant proportions through the tendency to charge Americans the same price for passport visas as that of the American government for foreigners, which recently was increased from $1 to $10. If this tendency is continued, an American in the course of a few days' journey passing several frontiers, may have to pay $30 to $50 in visas.

For travellers of all nationalities, however, the charge has been rapidly increasing during the past six months. The Germans began the high charges, demanding $5. Then Austria followed suit with the same charge and Hungary and other countries have been obliged to make like charges. Because of the huge revenue so obtainable, passports are severely examined, more so than in war time.

Under pretext of obstructing bolshevik travel, guards at frontiers ruthlessly turn back travellers without proper visas.

Because of this unneighborly practice, it is difficult for citizens of a foreign country to pass homeward. Budapest is now full of thousands of people who, under the new frontiers fixed by the peace conference, are subjects of Rumania or Jugo-Slavia, but can not get passport visas home to their property. In one instance, Americans used their good offices to get visas for two widows, formerly Hungarians but whose farms are now in Serbia. They had waited eight months to get permission to travel 150 miles.

The office of American High Commissioner Grant-Smith at Budapest is daily besieged by hundreds of people who wish to go to America or to secure help to reach their homes in Czechoslovakia, or other countries.

MEETINGS WILL LAST FORTNIGHT

The Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian and Emmanuel Baptist churches of the city through their pastors and leading workers have united to invite Dr. J. E. Reed, field worker for the Northern Baptist church in this state, to hold a series of two weeks of special meetings. Dr. Reed came to visit the Emmanuel Baptist church and spend a few days with them in meetings, but kindly offered to work with all the churches in joint services if they wished it.

From a knowledge which we have of Dr. Reed, his life, spirit, method and character of his message, through Rev. C. F. Trimble, who was associated with him in work in Texas, we believe it is a great privilege to have the opportunity to hear this man of God.

Dr. R. J. Reed is an Irish Baptist preacher and unmistakably gives away his identity as to nation, as soon as he speaks. He built up a large, enthusiastic Baptist church in Belfast, Ireland, some years ago. He has been back and forth to this country several times. He worked most successfully with the Baptist churches and also undenominationally all over Texas, where Rev. C. F. Trimble met and heard him many times. He was counted as one of the best preachers in Texas.

He is unique in his expressions and illustrations, sane in his methods, keen and logical in his thinking, alert to all the life of the day, true to the word of God, deeply sympathetic with young and old as they face life's problems, not dogmatic and severe but kindly and firmly deals with all sides of the Christian's life. These meetings will be held for the present in the Methodist church, at 7:45 each evening. They are free to people of every denomination and no denomination. No pressing appeals will be made. Come and listen and go home and think and act as the Spirit of God guides you.

RAILWAY MAN TOURING NEW ENGLAND STATES

(Reprinted from the Rutland, Vermont, Herald)

Robert E. Strahorn, president of the Oregon, California and Eastern railway company, with headquarters in Spokane, Wash., was a visitor in Rutland yesterday with Mrs. Strahorn. They are touring New England after having crossed the continent most of the way in their Pierce-Arrow limousine. After visiting friends in Brandon over Sunday and in Rutland yesterday, they continued on their way to New York and Boston, and plan to cross the continent again in the big car on their way back to Spokane.

Mr. Strahorn is one of the best known railroad builders in the Pacific Northwest and in the past 15 years has had immediate supervision of construction costing millions of dollars. The road of which he is now president is building 400 miles through Central Oregon and has been under way nearly five years, being the only commercial railroad construction permitted in the country under the war time emergency.

Will Open Virgin Country
"Work is proceeding rapidly on the new line, everything considered," said Mr. Strahorn yesterday. "Of course we have been delayed as has all construction. The new road will open up a virgin country with a vast amount of timber on all sides in addition to agriculture. It is a great cattle and sheep country. Our road will ultimately tie up 20,000 miles of railroad in the Pacific Northwest with the 30,000 miles in the Pacific Southwest."

While his eastern trip primarily was in the interest of the railroad, Mr. Strahorn has spent nearly two months with Mrs. Strahorn gratifying a lifelong ambition to tour New England. Years ago they resided in Boston. They have toured Pennsylvania, New York, Long Island, Massachusetts, the White Mountains, and now the green mountains.

"Nature Good to New England"
"Your country back here is beautiful beyond description," said Mr. Strahorn yesterday. "We have some wonderful scenery in the West, but we also have a lot of monotony. You have no monotony here. It is a continual change on every hand but always beautiful. Nature has been good to New England. Your scenery is so restful and varied. We stopped in Woodstock on Saturday and found it a lovely little town. Rutland is a fine, substantial city of which you might well be proud."

Mr. Strahorn's biggest piece of railroad construction in the Pacific Northwest was the building of the North Coast road into Spokane. The magnitude of the undertaking is indicated in his statement that $10,000,000 was spent within the city limits of Spokane alone.

Represented Harriman Interests
Mr. Strahorn was the representative of the Harriman interests at that time and the mystery of the Union Pacific ownership of the North Coast prevailed almost until the work was finished. Mr. Strahorn exhibited the golden spike in Rutland yesterday that marked the completion of that undertaking.

In the early days Mr. Strahorn was a newspaperman, and he has written considerably. Mrs. Strahorn is also a writer and has several books to her credit, one dealing with her first trip across country, 15,000 miles in a prairie schooner. She is making virtually the same trip again this summer in the limousine.

The Strahorn residence in Spokane is one of the finest in the city. To his intimate friends, Mr. Strahorn is known affectionately as "Uncle Bob."

KOREAN PRINCE IS SENTENCED TO PRISON

TOKIO, Aug. 12. (By Mail).—Jo-so-kan, a Korean, has been sentenced to four years penal servitude in connection with a conspiracy against the lives of Prince and Princess Yi of Korea. The conspiracy was formed as a protest against the marriage of the Korean prince with a princess of Japanese blood.

When the judgment was announced Korean girls among the spectators began to moan and weep. At this Jo-so-kan turned and asked them to have no fear—that he would appeal his case.

The Ursuline college of New Orleans, which recently observed its 122nd commencement, is believed to be the oldest institution in America for the education of women.

NEAR EAST IS STILL IN NEED

Arthur J. Wilson left for Portland this morning as substitute for Rev. E. P. Lawrence, to attend a state meeting of the county chairmen for the Near East relief—or better known as the Armenian relief. The state worker, J. J. Handsaker, recently attended a national meeting of the national committee and state chairmen in New York city and brings back a vivid report of the terrible conditions which still exist in the stricken land. Orphanages which have been caring for upwards of 80,000 orphans with the funds which the people of this land have been providing, are still over crowded and almost every day turning away pitiful appeals from children who come to them in an emaciated condition from the mountains round about. Without continued help this winter those thus far saved, will perish of cold and hunger.

Portland is planning to combine several smaller drives with the Armenian drive sometime this fall. Plans will be laid for that drive at this conference. A call has just come to the chairman for this county, Rev. E. P. Lawrence, for clothing to be gathered between now and October 10 which will be shipped to New York and direct to Armenian for winter needs. The children there are wearing anything and everything that has been sent and are a motley looking sight but that makes no difference if they are kept warm. Everyone is urged to look over their old clothing, get it ready by cleaning as best you can and await further word which will be given through the press and posters in a few days.

A classified Ad will sell it.
