AT THE THEATERS

A treat is promised to the admirers of King Vidor in the picture, "The Knife Man," which comes to the Star theater Sunday.

Refreshing in theme and locale, this play with its quaint characters is full of gentle humor and pathos. It deals with the affairs of a little colony of unique people who dwell in a secluded hamlet on the Mississippi river. It is a homely tale of plain people with its central character a lovable old chap filled with the love of fellow-man. Into his drab and drear life comes a waif and the world is changed for him.

King Vidor has an excellent cast to interpret the difficult roles of this story, Florence Vidor heading the list.

Generally when we read on the screen that a scene being unfolded takes place on a street in Paris, or along the docks of London, we are quite sure that what really happened was that an ingenious director reproduced these cities in a Los Angeles studio. One beauty of the picture, "Excuse My Dust," showing at the Star theater tonight, is that the scenes are exactly what they purport to be.

This picture tells an exciting automobile story, featuring a daring race from Los Angeles to San Francisco. The race actually took place.

"Excuse My Dust" features Ann Little as the leading woman, and Tully Marshall and Theodore Roberts are also in the cast.

He sought adventure and learned that he was being pursued by a gang of crooks; got a warning from a crystal gazer to beware of "the man with a split ear;" found and lost jewels worth a fortune; discovered a suicide's body; acquired several names and the girl with the haunting eyes. See George Walsh in "A Manhattan Knight," and learn the story of these strange adventures of John Fenton. At the Liberty theater Saturday. It's a great picture. Don't miss it.

Revere, Mass., has put in a bid for a bout between Champion Jack Dempsey and Gunboat Smith. The match is tentatively set for September 28.

CONTINUOUS SHOW SUNDAY STARTING AT 1:30

Sunday at the Liberty

Sunday—You can be lifted out of your own little world into a real fairyland of flowers and Oriental splendor.

Sunday—You can enjoy the mystic throb of foreign souls; the flame, the fright, the glory of wondrous scenes.

Sunday—Amid the teasing charm of incense, your troubles forgotten, you can drift away on a tide of enchantment such as you never have known before.

Sunday—You can understand what the New York Tribune meant when it said: "We wanted to rush up to every one we met and cry, 'Don't miss it! Oh, Don't miss it!'"

Sunday—You can hear the melodies of Russia from distant strings, flutes lipped by Oriental musicians, love notes from reed and string and wood, the hypnotic flow of symphonic music.

Sunday—Your heart can glow with understanding as you sit enthralled before the greatest art sensation New York has had in twenty years or more.

Sunday—You can enjoy that greatest happiness, the happiness that comes through tears that wash away your own worries by giving you a view of the sweet, imaginary sorrows of others.

Sunday—You may enjoy D. W. Griffith's fascinating Chinese romance, "Broken Blossoms," at the Liberty Theater.
