

BUYS SITES FOR BUILDINGS

Patrick Ryan, who recently came from Sacramento to make his home in Klamath Falls, has purchased 23 foot frontage on Main street, west of the Central hotel building and plans the erection of a business and apartment building thereon.

Mr. Ryan is well versed in apartment house operation, owning and conducting several large enterprises of the sort in Sacramento.

The first floor of the new building will be rented for store purposes.

Whether there will be one or two stories of rooms and apartments above depends upon the development of plans.

The Main street project does not measure the full extent of Mr. Ryan's intention to relieve the dearth of dwelling places for families in this city, as he has purchased the home of W. J. Roberts at 512 North Ninth street and plans to place an apartment building upon it, moving the house that at present occupies the lot. This building will probably not be started until next spring. The site has an area of 120 by 65 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are residing in the Ninth street home purchased from Mr. Roberts.

A classified Ad will sell it.

Theodore Roosevelt on Wilsonism

By SCOTT C. BONE

Touring the country as a candidate for Vice President, Franklin D. Roosevelt is vainly endeavoring to invoke the progressive spirit of 1912 in support of Wilsonism and the election of the Democratic ticket in November.

What would the real Roosevelt—Theodore Roosevelt—the immortal T. R.—say to his followers, were he alive today?

Good, he left burning words which tell all too plainly what his attitude would be at this time.

He abhorred Wilsonism. Just as he abhorred Danielism, with both of which Franklin D. Roosevelt has been identified as an under Secretary.

Theodore Roosevelt condemned Wilsonism and the whole Wilson administration in unsparring terms.

Read anew what he said at Cooper Union on November 2, 1916:

"I have been assailed because I have criticized Mr. Wilson. I have not said one thing of him that was not absolutely accurate and truthful.

"I have not said one thing of him which I did not deem it necessary to say because of the vital interests of this republic.

"I have criticized him because I believe he has dragged in the dust what was most sacred in our past and has jeopardized the most vital hopes of our future.

"I criticize him now because he has adroitly and cleverly and with sinister ability appealed to all that is weakest and most unworthy in the American character; and also because he has adroitly and cleverly and with sinister ability sought to mislead many men and women who are neither weak nor unworthy, but who have been misled by a shadow dance of words.

"He has made our statesmanship a thing of empty eloquence. He has covered his fear of standing for the right behind a veil of rhetorical phrases.

"He has wrapped the true heart of the nation in a spangled shroud of rhetoric.

"He has kept the eyes of the people dazzled so that they know not what is real and what is false. So that they turn, bewildered, unable to discern the difference between the glitter that veilers evil and the stark realities of courage and honesty of truth and strength.

"In the face of the world he has covered this nation's face with shame as with a garment."

So much for Theodore Roosevelt's opinion of Wilson and Wilsonism in support of which Franklin D. Roosevelt, life-long Democrat, would now invoke the progressive spirit of 1912!

And what did Theodore Roosevelt think of Daniel's administration of the Navy Department of which the Democrat, Franklin D. Roosevelt, has been a more or less conspicuous factor and part?

In a speech on "Americanism and National Defense," at Chicago, October 26, 1916, Theodore Roosevelt said:

"More harm has been done to the navy by the politicians in power during the last three years than in the preceding thirty. Whatever good has been accomplished in the navy during the last three years has been done by naval officers who, in most cases, have been snubbed and punished for their proposals as long as it was safe to do so; whereas Mr. Daniels now turns and claims credit for what was thus forced upon him.

"In short, throughout President Wilson's term there has been neglect or positive mal-administration in connection with departmental organization in navy yards, aeronautics, mines and torpedoes, and in all other matters affecting the efficiency of the fleet and the enthusiasm of its officers and men. The activity and energy of the Navy Department under President Wilson have been primarily concentrated upon schemes aimed at vote-getting or advertising."

This, then, is what Theodore Roosevelt thought of the administration of the Department from which Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, and exponent of Wilsonism, ran would reach the Vice Presidency and have progressives of 1912, followers of the real Roosevelt, help to keep the Democratic party in power and make Wilsonism endure!

It is inconceivable that any true follower of Theodore Roosevelt will hearken to such a preposterous appeal.
