AT THE THEATERS

"Riders of the Dawn," photoplay of the famous Zane Grey best seller, "The Desert of Wheat," which appears at the Liberty theater again tonight, represents something new in motion picture producing.

Once everyone believed that a star, who was supposed to have an army of followers always eager to see his or her pictures, was the only safe investment for the motion picture producer. The producer of this picture believed that an author of the calibre of Zane Grey, for instance, would have a far greater army of people eager to see one of his books in true picture version. Here he shattered another fine tradition. He thought that a fine dramatic photoplay could be made of a novel without changing the novel, and proved it by making three of them which bore the author's endorsement on the screen and at the same time ranked on the top of the scale as box office attractions. The fans of Zane Grey, Stewart Edward White, and Emerson Hough novels proved that they wanted to see good screen versions of the works of their favorites, and on the other hand the habitual movie goers proved by attendance that, aside from all consideration of the famous novel idea, they considered the Benjamin B. Hampton product good photoplays.

COURTHOUSE TO BE USED FOR SCHOOL

ter, but with the possibility that its use as a courthouse may be desired within a few weeks, the situation is one with which he could not be in accord.

Furthermore, he said, it has been but a short time since he signed a stipulation that the government might use the Main street building for a government store for disposal of surplus army supplies, and in consequence drew upon himself severe criticism from many quarters. He is through with stipulations, he declared.

Serious Situation

The school board feel that they are up against a serious situation. While the contract has been let for the Fairview school and work started it is not hoped to occupy it before next term. In the meantime the Central school vainly tried to absorb the congestion. Double-heading classes, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, and other plans were tried but the attendance was too large to handle by such methods.

WEED SOON TO HAVE BIG HIPPODROME

The new grand pavilion being erected opposite the Southern Pacific depot by Jack McNary, the enterprising manager of the White Pine Inn and White Pine Grill, is progressing rapidly. The frame work for the extensive structure, which has been named the Weed Hippodrome, is going up fast. The hard maple flooring, the same as that which the White House is equipped with in Washington City, has been ordered from the East for Mr. McNary by General Manager White of the Weed Lumber Company, and is already on the way to Weed.

The Weed Hippodrome is positively going to be the most extensive and elaborate structure of its kind in this part of the country, and will be the main factor in adding to the prominence and pleasure of the busy town of Weed for the coming season and the many that will follow.

The large dance and roller skating floor is 50X140 feet. The musician's stand will be equipped with rollers, which will make it possible to change its position to any part of the large room, as the occasion requires. There will be seventy-five cabaret tables and three hundred chairs, which will surround the outer limits of the large dance floor.

One of the principal features of the Weed Hippodrome will be the variable colored lighting system, the beautiful effects of which were demonstrated at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Mr. McNary says that he will be ready for bookings by October 1st.

We Are Happy

To know that the ladies, in and around Klamath Falls, responded so generously to the grand opening of our beautiful display store on Saturday, September 25th.

It was indeed gratifying to see the constant crowd during the whole day and evening, yet we were very sorry to know that all could not be waited on. Our display fixtures were delayed in transportation, and without them we were unable to justly or properly display our gorgeous garments.

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks to the management of the K.K.K., "I Ain't Mad at Nobody," and Johnstone Furniture stores, for the lending of fixtures to us, as that helped us very materially in displaying our garments.

To those ladies who were unable to purchase garments on account of the rush Saturday, we wish to state that we can SERVE YOU BETTER NOW and that our sales force will be increased as soon as competent help can be secured.

The policy of the La Vogue stores is to serve you better and our utmost desire is to sell you smart, up to the minute, high grade garments, at moderate prices.

Our New York buyers, who buy expressly for the La Vogue stores, are sending us new garments, furs and hats each day, so in case you do not find what you want today, come in tomorrow and your garments, fur or hat, perhaps just the thing you are looking for, will be here.

POWER LINE DOWN; PLANTS FORCED TO CLOSE

Local mills and box factories were unable to operate this morning because of a break in the power line between here and Dorris. The line carries power from the Copco plant to operate the factories and mills. A crew went out this morning to repair the break and hoped to have the line in operation this afternoon.

CAPTAIN BEST WANTS WURST, MARINE PRIVATE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—When Captain Newton Best, commanding a company of marines at the Pearl Harbor naval station in Honolulu, read that Private C. R. Wurst had been declared by Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler as the smartest sea soldier at Quantico, Virginia, he immediately filled out a requisition blank for Wurst. The form followed, although not strictly according to General Hoyle, read: "It is requested that Wurst be put in Best's company." Now it is up to Wurst whether he wants to serve a few thousand miles from his home in Elizabeth, N. J. Out in Honolulu the ukeleles are tuning up to the refrain, "The Wurst is yet to come."
