1

0

n

THE EVENING HERALD, KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON

WNDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1988

SINNOTT'S ADDRESS United States, that mandatory would ON CAMPAIGN ISSUE

(Continued from page three)

So the sentors of the United States senate provided that the league of nations should have no jurindiction over the Monroe Doctrine. mandate shall be accepted by the United States except by action of the congress of the United States.

Wilson afterward applied to congress and asked congress to accept a mandatory over Armenia. According to the Armenian commission appointed by the government of the over those articles.

United States withholds its assent to articles, 156, 157, and 158. These are the articles which give the province The next reservation says that no of Shantung to Japan. In these re-andate shall be accepted by the servations the United States, of course, does not demand that Japan. surrender Shantung, but it refuses

When negotiations were under way to approve of the cession of Shanit was understood, and President tung; it refuses to condone it, and it leaves her free in the future to do whatever she desires to do in regard to Shantung, should any trouble arise between China and Japan

Perfect Home Comfort

The luxury of heat - when and where needed - is possessed by the family with a good oil heater. Lights at touch of a match - any time, anywhere. Filled with PEARL OIL it burns without odor or smoke. PEARL OIL is refined and re-refined for successful home use. Economical. Sold in bulk by dealers everywhere and by our stations. Order by name - PRARL OIL

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Now that is the league of nations with Europe is to be ignored; that take from 100,000 to 200,000 troops, about as briefly as one can conven- his admonition that Europe has a set -your boys.-and from $100,000, iently state it in a meeting of this of primary interests of no concern to 000 to $200,000,000 annually. So kind. It would really take hours us, that she will be engaged in numthe senate provided that no manda- to go into the complicated details. I erous controversies foreign to our tory should be accepted except by have stated to you merely some of interests; that we should have no sity her own doctrine by intermixing action of the congress of the United the paramount features. It any one entangling alliances with European in this audience has read the league politics—that all these are to be ig-So the sentors of the United The next reservations:—The of nations ten times I would advise nored; that his advice that we should that he read it ten times more. I have no permanent alliance with any suppose I have read it a hundred part of the foreign world is about times, and every time it presents to be disregarded, and we are asked to enter into a permanent alliance some new angle and a new interpretation, and as I glance at these reseragainst the advice of Washington. vations new ideas occur to nie con- Jefferson, and other fathers of our cerning the league of nations, and it country, an alliance to put a superis impossible for any one to have flag above old glory; an alliance to anything like a thorough under create a super-state; an alliance to standing of it without spending days create a Frankenstein which this and weeks in reading it. creature tells us is greater than the

But remember that one of the out- president, and greater than the senstanding features of the league of ate of the United States, Oh! what nations is the fact that in the as- blasphemy if not treason, greater sembly, England through herself and than the government of Washington her colonies has six votes to our and Jefferson. If this measage could be circu one, and she also has absolute control over two more countries, giving lated throughout the land there her eight votes.

Under this league of nations, if we ratify it, we consent to the despoil- that ing of China; that we place it in the "Borne on the night wind of the power of one man representing us. past, in collusion with foreign powers, to Through all our history to the last, impose upon us a compelling moral obligation, superior to any legal ob ligation to send our troops and our navies upon foreign shores.

ments that we could all agree with. and we did all agree with at the time, proclaiming his 14 points, and that there should be no secret understanding between nations, and yet he approves of the secret under-standing between England, France and Japan over the Shantung despollation.

He went to Europe proclaiming that peoples should not be bartered about from nation to nation like chattels that peoples should have a right ignored all those lofty ideals, and brought back his league of nations covenant, which he declared to be greater than the senate of the United States, and greater than the very government itself as founded by Washington and Jefferson.

Longfellow tells us in the noem of the belfry arch and I will ride and the insidious wiles of foreign influ- able. ence is to be ignored, that real patriots are being made suspected and odious as Washington foretold. because they didn't agree with just the man who says that we must make and join our fortunes with

In the hour of darkness, peril and need. The people will waken and listen to hear President Wilson went to Europe The hurrying hoofbeats of that steed proclaiming lofty, laudable senti- The midnight message of Paul Re-The hurrying hoofbeats of that steed vere." I would that we could summon from the grave the voiceless lips of the God-like Webster, that he could remodel for our modern cars that prayer for his country's flag, that matchless immortal peroration: "When my eyes shall be turned to behold for the last time the sun in the heavens, may I not see shining on the once glorious union discredited, dishonered, in a subordinate post tion of one to six among the to choose their own masters. Yet he tions of the earth, on a land discordant, belligerent, drenched that the solemn precepts, maxims and principles of Washington, are to be abandoned, that his advice against be abandoned, that his advice against rent with foreign fueds. Let their last feeble lingering glance rather behold the gorgeous ensign of the republic, now known and honored throughout the earth, still full high Paul Revere that he said: "if the bearing no such miserable word of de-British march hang a lantern aloft in jusion and folly, "The league of nagive the alarm to every Middlesex But everywhere spread all over in eneconched. its arms and trophels streaming in their original lustre, tions first, my country afterwards."

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

village and farm." Oh, would that characters of living light, blazing on we had a modern Paul Revere who all its ample folds as they float o en would ride and give the alarm to the sea and o'er the land and in every every American village and farm, wind under the whole heavens that

SO ROMEN AND MERSON AND AND A DESCRIPTION OF

Re-Glazing and Cabinet