

OREGON BREVITIES

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—Harrison R. Kincaid, Oregon pioneer and well known in political and journalistic circles throughout the state, died at the home of his son, Webster L. Kincaid, 990 Wasco street, Saturday.

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—One hundred and eight more sentences were imposed in municipal court during September for drunkenness than during the same month in 1919, before Oregon became "dry."

That fact caused Judge Rossman of municipal court to declare that he is going to launch a city-wide drive through the police department for all sellers of soft drinks who are selling cider and grape juice containing more than 1/2 of 1 per cent alcohol.

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—Expense of operating the city government of Portland for the fiscal year 1921 is estimated at a grand total of approximately $4,037,735.

WILLAMINA, Ore., Oct. 6.—Willamina offers to workmen plenty of houses at a reasonable rental, some of them furnished. The low rent is due to the closing of the brickyard here, which gave employment to 200 men. Other industries have opened but still there is an abundance of bungalows waiting for occupancy. Good houses are renting as low as $9 a month. With good

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—October 6 was decided Saturday as the date on which the huge fire prevention parade, crowning feature of the national celebration of fire prevention week, will be held in Portland. The plans as outlined call for the largest parade of the character yet presented in Portland, and the committee in charge emphatically declares those will be lived up to.

BAKER, Oct. 6.—Interest in the White Swan mine, a few miles east of Baker, has been aroused again as a result of an inspection of the electric power line from here to the mine by J. P. Lottridge, manager of the E. O. L. & P. company, and J. A. King, superintendent of the company.

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 6.—The rapidly increasing import and export trade of Astoria is illustrated by statistics covering a number of years prepared by Deputy Collector Karlsen. From the beginning of 1914 to about the middle of 1919 Astoria commerce suffered the most. During that period all the ocean commerce was under the supervision of the federal shipping board, which apparently favored larger ports, such as Puget sound and San Francisco.

ALBANY, Ore., Oct. 6.—The residence of Fred Holmes in Benton county, about two miles north of this city, was wrecked Saturday night when a big poplar tree beside the house split and a large portion of it fell on the building.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 6.—The first week of scrimmage indicates that prospects for the Oregon varsity this year are not any too bright. According to Eby Huntington, the Oregon coach, there are a few bright spots, however. The work in scrimmage so far is very ragged. This fact is principally due to the green material with which Huntington is working.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 6.—The total enrollment has now reached 2,894 regular students, bringing the number for the year, including summer school and short course registrants, up to 3,386, which is 140 more than at the same time last year.

ALMOST A BOAT-ROCKER

"Only a fool rocks the boat." "I suppose so," assented Mr. Growcher. "But when the boat contains a couple of guitars and an off-the-key tenor, there comes a terrible temptation."—Washington Star.

Of course, they're good—but Dr. Moore's Beans with Tomato Sauce are much more than that. They're wholesome, nutritious, convenient—and thrifty.

Just Like Clock Work

Except that you never lose any time when you eat in this cafe. We try to make every second count from the time you give your dinner or lunch order until it is placed before you.

Long waits in cafes sometimes ruin the very best appetites—makes people out-of-sorts, and places them in anything but an eating humor.

Nothing like that in this cafe! Quick service and excellent meals—that's the combination! You'll get it at the

WORK AND YOU WORK ALONE

Strike and the world strikes with you, work and you work alone; our souls are ablaze with a Bolshevik craze, the wildest that ever was known. Groan and there'll be a chorus, smile and you make no hit; for we've grown long hair and we preach despair, and show you a daily fit. Spend and the gang will cheer you, save and you have no friend; for we throw our bucks to birds and ducks and borrow from all who'll lend. Knock, and you'll be a winner, boost and you'll be a frost; for the old sane ways of the pre-war days are now from the program lost. Strike and the world strikes with you, work and you work alone; for we'd rather yell and raise blue hell than strive for an honest bone. Rant and you are a leader, toil and you are a nut; 'twas a bitter day when we pulled away from the old-time work-day-rut. Wait and there'll be a blow-up, watch and you'll see a slump, and the fads and crimes of these crazy times will go to the Nation's dump.—New York Sun.

ALL DROWNED

The Sub (very junior)—I want one of those dogs about so high, and about so long. A sort of greyhound; but it isn't quite, because its tail is shorter and its head's bigger and the legs aren't so long, and the body's thinner. Do you keep that sort? The Dealer—No, sir! I don't I drowns 'em.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

BIG BOY

The two privates were having a heated argument as to the height of the men in their respective outfits. Finally one clinched it. "D'you know Flanagan of company D?" he asked. "Well, there's a lad that has to get down on his knees to put his hands in his pockets."—The American Legion Weekly.
