

Society

With several dances, banquets and club meetings on the social calendar, this week has been an active one for society. Several churches are making plans for their annual Thanksgiving dinners and before Xmas sales as well as preparing their social programs for the winter.

One of the biggest of the church affairs was the dinner given at the Presbyterian church last night, about one hundred. This was one of the first events to be given to the members as a whole, in the church this season and was a decided success. The committee of ladies in charge served a delicious dinner to their numerous guests and an interesting program was furnished during the evening.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. R. J. Sheets was hostess to the Happy Hour club at her home on South Riverside street. The afternoon was devoted to various kinds of needle work by the ladies present and a lovely luncheon was served by the hostesses to her guests.

Present as guests of the club were: Mesdames C. Adams, E. Bice, F. Frankfort, A. Bustamante, M. McClure, R. E. Wattenburg, J. F. Goeller, E. Beckett and K. G. Cummings. Members of the club were: Mesdames Jennie Hura, R. A. Emmitt, George Humphrey, William Steinmetz, Harry Richardson and Mrs. Sheets.

Mrs. Kipp Van Riper was hostess to a number of friends, Wednesday afternoon at her home on Canby street. Bridge was the pastime for the afternoon and a dainty tea hour was enjoyed by those present. They were Mesdames J. C. Brockenbrough, E. B. Hall, Thomas Hampton, Earl Whitlock, Garrett Van Riper, Gay Manning, and Henrietta Melhase.

An interesting event of next week will be a card party to be given on Tuesday, Oct. 19, by the Ladies of the Elks, to which all Elks ladies are invited. The committee in charge of the afternoon is composed of Mesdames Roger E. Deweese, O. W. Robertson, William Duncan and J. F. Daggett.

The Tuesday 500 club was entertained this week by Mrs. G. B. Conrad, at her home on High street. Highest honors were won by Mrs. O. W. Robertson. Those present were Mesdames E. D. Lamb, Frank Andrews, James Watkins Jr., Howell, O. W. Robertson, Byron Hardenbrook, Jack Slater, and Miss Verda Conrad.

A most delightful meeting of the St. Paul's Episcopal Guild, was held at the home of Mrs. E. W. Gowen on Pine street, Thursday afternoon. Thirty-one members were present besides Mrs. Edwards of San Francisco, who was a guest of the Guild. Refreshments were served by the hostess in the course of the afternoon. Plans were made for a rummage sale to be given November 19 at which there will be lots of good things to eat for sale as well as many useful things to wear. Any contributions for the sale will be gratefully received by the Guild. Next week the ladies will entertain the patients of the county hospital. A Christmas bazaar will be held December 10 or 11.

The informal dance given by the ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Guild at the White Pelican hotel last night was a large and successful affair. Over three hundred invitations were sent out through the mails and by telephone. Music was furnished for the happy dancers by Bud He's orchestra and the big dining room of the hotel was invaded by a festive throng of merry makers. Many lovely gowns were worn by the ladies present.

The high school dance to be given tonight, honoring the football visitors from Ashland, is looked forward to by the younger set with much enthusiasm. This is the second of a series of dances that are planned by the student body of the local high school.

Word has been received from Miss Esther Haines, who is attending the College of the Pacific at San Jose, California, that she has been chosen for the A. Capello choir of the college. This choir is under the direction of Prof. Dennis and one of the most unique and distinctive organizations of the Pacific coast. It is devoted entirely to the rendition of unaccompanied choral music. The members of the A. Capello choir are taken from the college chorus who show especial vocal ability. Miss Esther was a pupil of Mrs. Don Sumwalt before entering college.

Miss Mildred Thresher will be hostess tonight at a supper party and later the guests are to spend the night at Miss Thresher's home instead of returning to their own. Invited guests are: Miss Karle Montgomery, Emma Jensen, Clara Calkins, Minnie Barnum, and Mary Jenkins.

Lexis Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lyle was hostess for a number of her little friends at a birthday party last week. The afternoon was spent playing many interesting games and refreshments were served to the little people by Mrs. Lyle.

Mrs. Emil Dreher was hostess for the St. Anne's Sewing society of the Sacred Heart church, at the home of Mrs. John Dreher, Thursday afternoon. Those who attended were Mesdames C. Cornish, G. R. Barnhart, W. C. Davenport, H. W. Henderson, B. C. Mitchell, L. L. Stein, C. Balin, John Noud, G. R. Eckwall, M. H. Callahan, M. Tighe, N. Hally, Bamberg, Bert Igl, Byron Noud, M. Lavenick, A. J. Santamaw, B. Roberts, E. T. Higgins, G. C. Lorenz, and Miss Viola Santamaw.

One of the pleasantest affairs of the week was a charming and cleverly arranged surprise party in celebration of the birthday of Mrs. L.

M. Fitch Friday afternoon, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Garrett Van Riper on South Riverside. The friends and neighbors of Mrs. Fitch were responsible for the affair. She was the recipient of many lovely bouquets of flowers and other gifts and a generous repast was served near the close of the day by the ladies who had brought all sorts of dainties with them, when they called earlier in the afternoon.

Those who took part in the surprise were, Mesdames C. P. Mason, C. R. De Lap, R. J. Sheets, A. Carlson, Harry Richardson, J. F. Goeller, K. G. Cummings, R. E. Wattenburg, Carl Adams, James McQuier, T. Stanley, and D. V. Kuykendall.

The Altar society of the Catholic church met to elect officers on Sunday evening, last. Officers elected were: Mrs. T. McDonald, president; Mrs. Byron Hardenbrook, vice president; Mrs. Charles Maguire, treasurer; Mrs. M. Lavenick financial secretary; Mrs. G. C. Lorenz, recording secretary. After the election plans were discussed for the annual bazaar to be held before Christmas.

WEATHER REPORT

OREGON—Tonight and Sunday, rain; warmer tonight; strong southerly winds, shifting to gales along the coast.

Baked potatoes supply more nourishment than those cooked in any other way, and the fried ones are the most difficult to digest.
