SOLDIER CANNOT ACCEPT LEAGUE

(NOTE.—This is another installment of the story by Captain "Eddie" Rickenbacker, American Ace of Aces, in his drive against the Wilson league of nations.)

(By Captain Eddie Rickenbacker)

Chapter Five

What does the American soldier think of his country? He thinks it is the best country on earth.

That is what he thought before he went to Europe. That is what he thinks today.

Why did the American soldier fight with reckless courage in France? Because he felt sure he was fighting for the greatest country in the world, wanted to prove by his conduct that the American people were the best people in the world, was determined to show an American soldier was the quickest to defend his government of all the soldiers in the world. Right or wrong, that is how he felt.

A soldier's life is as precious to him as any other man's. He does not wish to lose it. He risks it willingly, only for a precious purpose. In this case, he gladly looked death in the eye just because the purpose was so precious—the defense of the land he loved and revered to be beyond any other.

Yet a soldier who thus staked all in battle comes home to find—what? That, while he had been fighting victoriously for America as first and best of all, it had been proposed here, at home, by those who never faced a foe, or heard a shot, to put America in a lower place among the nations than she ever had been before. To put on her the stamp of inferiority just as she had finished a triumphant war. To make her merely one nation in a great assembly of 30 or 40 nations, and to give to her just one vote in the assembly, to the British Empire's six. The United States, only one-sixth as important as another in the government of the world, went into the war as an equal, won in the field, came out triumphant by the blood of its soldiers, and then was written down as an inferior by the hands of its statesmen.

That is how a soldier looks at a covenant which gives the United States one vote in the league of nations, gives to the British Empire the votes of the Empire itself and Canada, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and India. The United States put on a level with New Zealand after winning a great war, put on a level with a colony one-half as populous as Chicago, one-quarter as populous as New York city, lowered to the position of land that is less than the 13 colonies before the Revolutionary.

How do you suppose this looks to a soldier who fought to keep "America First." How do you suppose it impresses a soldier who loves America best?

A soldier thinks straight. When he reads the list of six British votes in the covenant of the league of nations, and the American list of one, he does not care to read more. All the diplomats and philosophers in the world cannot reconcile him to those two little figures. He brought back with him from Europe no hatred or love for other nations. He brought back only love for his own. Just that and nothing more.

What then do they imagine he thinks of the proposed to reduce this country to the international influence of India and the diplomatic size of South Africa?

Ask any fighting man these questions and in his answer you will get an opinion of the league of nations which nobody can fail to understand.

PORTLAND PAYS COST OF PORT

PORTLAND, Oct. 21.—Soon after the Port of Portland was organized more than 30 years ago it was attacked in the circuit court of Multnomah county and the case finally found its way to the supreme court of Oregon. In a decision written by Judge Robert S. Bean, who was on the supreme bench of Oregon and is the United States district court judge, the distinguished jurist gave a lucid and convincing reason why all of the people of Oregon are interested in seeing that the Port of Portland maintains a channel of sufficient depth from Portland to the sea and provides adequate port facilities in its harbor. In the following language Judge Bean sets forth a perfectly clear justification for having all the people of the state vote on measures affecting the one great port of the state:

The people of the port of Portland, therefore, will reap the principal benefit from the proposed expenditure, and it is not unconstitutional that they should bear the burden. The legislature has the undoubted power to apportion a public burden among all the tax payers of the state, or among those to apportion a public burden among all the tax payers of the state, or among those of a particular section if, in its judgment, those of a single section may reap the principal benefit from a proposed expenditure, as from the construction of a road, a bridge, an almshouse or a hospital. It is not unjust, therefore that they should alone bear the burden. This subject has so often been discussed, and the principles we have asserted so thoroughly vindicated, that it seems to be needless to say more or even refer at large to the decision.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in uric acid, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Fifty years ago Cincinnati, with a population of over 200,000 and an area of only seven square miles, was the most densely-crowded city in America.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

NOBODY CAN TELL WHEN YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

A dress composed entirely of diamonds, numbering 250,000 in all, and worn recently on the stage, was so heavy that two people were required to lift it over the actress's head.

OREGON Must Have a PORT Equal to Any Port on THE PACIFIC COAST

Initiative measure No. 310 on the ballot gives to the Port of Portland means to create such a port.

The primary object of this bill is to furnish the means to insure the opening and maintaining of a 30-foot channel from Portland to the sea and of building and establishing port facilities at the City of Portland sufficient to handle the foreign and coastwise shipping of that port.

The cost of this improvement will be met by the people living within the boundaries of the Port of Portland.

When you go to the polls November second, vote 310 YES and give to the Port of Portland the power to maintain its 30-foot channel to the sea and to build adequate port facilities to handle all of the great products of the interior of the state.

The passage of this bill means lower freight rates for the products of Oregon in reaching the markets of the world and a consequent greater profit to the producers.

This is the most important and the most valuable measure that has ever been put up to the voters of the interior portion of the state.

VOTE 310 YES.

OREGON PORT DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE
G. S. O'NEAL, Secretary.
