

Last Night's Audience Mystified by Phonograph

Hears Famous Soprano

Compare voice with RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph—could not tell the two apart.

Alice Verlet, prima donna soprano of the Paris Grand Opera, given an extraordinary recital last night at Elks' Temple.

Miss Verlet walked onto the stage and stood beside a stately cabinet. She began to sing "Caro Nome." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of her beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. Miss Verlet's voice continued to fill the Temple with undiminished sweetness—your ears were proof of that—but her lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that.

What wizardry was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his Re-Creation of a singer's voice, as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Miss Verlet made repeated comparisons—always with the same result. Then, to demonstrate that Edison's new phonograph has absolutely no limitations, Victor Young and Robert Velton made similar tests with the piano and violin. It was truly wonderful. This master achievement of the great wizard, Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used at the Elks' Temple and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by Miss Verlet) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument she used in her amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have ten of the famous Official Laboratory Models and Miss Verlet has certified every one of them. Come to our store at once and ask to see and hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Miss Verlet has issued her Certificates of Authenticity.
