DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK ABOUT WOOD?

Maybe you do not realize that SLAB WOOD IS BODY WOOD

The only difference being that the slab-wood comes already split. There is more bark in the slab, that is true, but there is as much heat in the bark as there is in the wood, so in a cord of slab you buy as much heat as in a cord of body or limbs for much less money.

Would Interest Foreign Capital in Guatemala

GUTEMALA, Nov. 3.—President Herrera has undertaken to interest foreign capital in the development of some 15,000 square miles of unexploited territory in Guatemala which still awaits the hand of the pioneer and the invader to transform it into productive fields. As the first step he has created a new department of agriculture with a minister in his cabinet and has appointed as head of this department Antonio Boucayol.

Both the president and the new minister have devoted the major part of their lives to agriculture development and are therefore keenly interested in providing encouragement to the farmers and planters. Both realize foreign investment must be encouraged to accomplish this end and believe that such aid must be expected as a result of diffusion of the knowledge that Guatemala has a safe and same government, is a fit place to live in and has much territory as yet undeveloped.

GOVERNORS TO TALK ABOUT HOUSING

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—State governors will consider housing problems and ways to promote ownership of homes in their twelfth annual conference at Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 1 to 3. Other subjects coming before the governors this year, as announced here by Miles R. Riley, secretary of the conference, are:

Decentralization of governmental functions and activities, in relation to the developing tendency toward centralization in the national government.

The Kansas industrial relations court.

Sources of income and the disbursements of state governments.

The general agricultural situation.

Reports will be presented to the governors from the commissioners on uniform state laws and the national organization of state railroad commission.

"The coming conference promises to be one of the most largely attended and important gatherings of governors of our states that has ever been held," according to Secretary Riley. "Not only will most of the present governors be in attendance but a large number of new governors, to be elected on November 2.

"The conference will be held just prior to the convening of legislatures in most of the states, and will be of great interest to the governors who must submit their recommendations to these bodies."

It is rumored that the Cleveland Indians may abandon New Orleans, where they have trained the past years, and are seeking a new training camp next spring. They will doubtless receive bids from a number of southern cities and towns, for a world's championship team is a big attraction.

Thoroughly Anglicized.

"The Mortons are a bit too English for us," remarked Elkins. "They take the London papers exclusively, talk mainly about Chesterton and Shaw, and even have their windows stained foggy so that when anyone looks out through them the streets appear like those in London. However, that isn't why my wife and I stopped calling there. When their Anglomania developed to such a degree that they kept a large wastebasket standing in the hallway, that settled it."

"I don't see anything English about that," said Badger. "What was it for?"

"Oh, visitors were expected to drop their h's in it on entering the house."

NO DROP IN FURNITURE

To our Many Friends and Patrons: Who have been figuring that furniture prices will tumble with other commodities: Here is an extract from the "Pacific Furniture Trade:"

A recent announcement to the trade by J. L. Young, president of the Retail Furniture Association of the United States, states: "Furniture will not join other commodities in the tumbling of prices for some time to come, and the descent to a lower level of prices will be gradual."

This followed the conference between the representatives of the National Associations of Manufacturers and Retailers, held at Grand Rapids on September 29th and 30th.

The fact that every piece of furniture turned out by the 800 factories having membership in the national organization of furniture manufacturers represents 80 per cent of labor determined the conference at Grand Rapids to make no effort at lowering of prices.

To do so would be to disrupt the wages of more than 1,000,000 men employed in the furniture-making craft and thus lead to a serious industrial disturbance.

Resolution Adopted

It was after considering the wage element and following an exhaustive investigation that a joint conference of the national manufacturers and the national retailers passed the following resolution:

Whereas, there has recently been established new and lower levels of prices on a number of commodities; and whereas, it has generally been reported that the costs of manufacturing furniture have been materially reduced; and whereas, the retail merchants, desirous of ascertaining facts, have requested the executive committee of the Retail Furniture Association of the United States to make a careful and thorough analysis of the conditions governing the cost of manufacturing furniture today and to insist upon a lower level of prices if conditions were found to warrant them; and whereas, this investigation has been made in a most extensive and thorough manner; and whereas, it has been determined that there can be no changes affecting the cost of furniture generally that would indicate that any material reduction could take place in the immediate future without affecting seriously the wage and steady employment of the men employed in the furniture factories; therefore, be it

Resolved by the furniture manufacturers in national council assembled, that the details of the findings of this investigation be conveyed to all branches of the industry and to the public generally; and be it further

Resolved, that the secretary be instructed to keep the members of this council informed of any changes in market conditions that affect the cost of manufacture, and furthermore, that we deem it desirable and to the best interest of the furniture industry, as well as the American home, that concerted effort be exercised by the manufacturer to reduce manufacturing costs other than that of labor, and to reflect these reductions in the finished product as soon as possible; and be it further

Resolved, that to our best knowledge and belief no general reductions in the price of furniture can possibly take place at this time, and that the decline would be extremely gradual and can only come with parallel reduction in the manufacturing cost."

I have had a streak of yellow up my back as wide as the Panama canal. Consequently I have not left one avenue open that would give me information and have more than one letter from some of the biggest men in the game, telling me why there could not be a reduction at this time.
