DAM IS CHIEF FORUM TOPIC

The chamber of commerce weekly luncheon today at the Rex cafe was given over to the American legion. Commander J. H. Carnahan of Klamath post No. 8 was the principal speaker. Arthur R. Wilson, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, read the governor's proclamation designating tomorrow—Armistice day—as a legal holiday in the state. In introducing Mr. Carnahan, President Bert Hall of the chamber of commerce expressed pleasure in having the legion members as guests at the luncheon and said that the chamber of commerce is vitally interested in working with any organization that is trying to build up a better citizenship in this country.

Captain Carnahan devoted his remarks to a discussion of the Link river dam controversy and of the legion's opposition to the control by the California-Oregon power company of the waters of the Upper Klamath lake, which they hold will interfere with the irrigation of over 200,000 acres of land in the valley territory adjacent to Klamath Falls. The local post of the American legion have made such an emphatic protest against this water being taken out of the state for development of power in California that Secretary of the Interior Payne has reopened the matter and a hearing will be held in Washington next month. "I call upon every man in this chamber of commerce to get in with us on this matter and help us save this community," said Carnahan in opening his remarks. "Unless this water is conserved for irrigation purposes Klamath Falls may retrograde into a little hamlet some day after the lumbering industry is no more. You all know of the splendid results being achieved from the 50,000 acres now under irrigation in this community. If we can keep these waters there are over 300,000 acres more that can be irrigated. Think of what that will mean to this city." Other speakers were: Sergeant P. S. Williamson, local recruiting officer for the marine corps; Secretary Stanley of the chamber of commerce, and F. F. Bousout, lately arrived from Havre, Mont., who has located here permanently. Secretary Stanley announced that the next weekly forum will take up the housing problem in Klamath Falls.

"NOW-A-DAYS" says the Good Judge

A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind. He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often. Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.
