

Good Streets and Roads Essential

What can we do to make Klamath Falls a city of 25,000 inhabitants in five years?

We all have ideas, but ideas are like hen eggs—no good if not carried out.

One idea we all have, is to get together.

Now that the election is over, the courthouse question practically settled, and more good roads in sight, let us all get together for at least a while, and all boost for the up-building of our home town, says C. B. Johnson, of Charley's place.

With the highways completed, more paved streets, a few parks and playgrounds for the children, we will feel more free to invite our friends and relatives from outside the county to make us a visit. After seeing for themselves the wonderful possibilities this offers they cannot help spreading the good tidings far and wide.

In our estimation, good roads and good streets are the most essential. Let the business houses do their part by making their places more attractive, by giving the best service possible, guaranteed satisfaction or money refunded.

We are going to do our part by furnishing the public with honest service, with tires and tubes that will give the most satisfaction for the money spent.

Tires Now Give Better Mileage

The advance and progress made by the leading tire manufacturers of the country during the last two years has brought about an interesting change in the figures of motor car maintenance cost and in time mileage records.

If you have owned a car for several years you will remember it was only a few years ago that you considered yourself fortunate if you ran on the same tires for 3500 or 4000 miles without a mishap. Then came a time when the standard manufacturers put guarantees of from 5000 to 7000 miles behind their products.

Many motorists now travel 10,000 to 13,000 miles on tires of late construction before experiencing blow-out trouble. Others often run from 14,000 to 18,000. The size of one's car and the type of roads on which one is accustomed to travel have a bearing of course, on these records.

Five hundred prisoners will be employed in road construction in Kentucky next spring.

NASH SIX

VALVE-IN-HEAD MOTOR

We have stated repeatedly our belief that the Nash Six Sedan, $2895 f. o. b. Kenosha, with Cord Tires, possesses a value impressively above the average.

This is the opinion, too, of many buyers who have carefully investigated closed car values.

They state emphatically that no other car at even approximately the same cost can measure up to the Nash Sedan in a point by point comparison.

The Nash Sedan has unusual power, every luxury and convenience fine coach building can afford, and really notable beauty of design and finish.
