

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Miller were in town yesterday from Chiloquin to meet the latter's mother, Mrs. M. Schumacher of Portland, who is coming to make her home with them. Mrs. Schumacher missed the train she was to have taken but wired she would arrive tonight. Mr. Miller reports that the Miller & Powell lath mill is shut down for the winter.

Mrs. C. W. Porter is a city visitor this week from Pine Ridge. E. A. Blockinger arrived last night from San Francisco and is attending to business matters here this week.

Mrs. Charles Anderson is a Klamath Falls visitor today from her home at Algoma.

Mamie Trefren arrived last night from Macdoel and will visit friends here for the next two or three days. Mr. and Mrs. Oren Eblin are the happy parents of a baby girl born at their home on Ninth street Sunday afternoon.

Bert Withrow, Will Houston and Ernie Bubb left early this morning for the southern part of the county where they plan on slaughtering many wild ducks and geese.

Miss Marjorie Deltzell, who has been in Eugene for the past few days attending homecoming at the University, returned home last night. She reports a wonderful time and that it was one of the finest homecoming Oregon has ever had.

Friday, the Fort country was visited with six inches of snow according to Tom Dixon, road supervisor, who said this morning that in spite of the fact that it melted in a short time the weather conditions are too humid to permit road construction. This halt is only temporary however and as soon as possible the work of repairing broken down culverts and bridges will continue.

Ray Loosley was a business visitor in town yesterday afternoon from his ranch home at Fort Klamath.

Mrs. Evelyn Scott, who has been on a vacation trip to San Francisco for the past two weeks, returned the first of the week and has taken up her work in J. H. Carnahan's law office.

James Bailey is a city visitor this week from his home in Macdoel.

W. W. Youngson arrived here from Lakeview last night, where he laid the corner stone for the new Methodist church, on his return journey to Portland. He left on the train this morning.

J. G. Ferguson of Dunsmuir arrived last night and is stopping at the White Pelican hotel.

J. W. Lozier is spending a few days here on business from Ashland, Oregon.

Otis Metsker is registered at the White Pelican hotel from Merrill.

Don Zumwalt left this morning for Ivan where he will do surveying around the Kesterson mill.

Marion Barnes is in town for a few days looking after business matters and purchasing supplies for his ranch.

THE FIGURE 1 MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE

In the advertisement for Blue Bird dishes, which was published in yesterday's Herald, the figure 1 was dropped from the price published, making it read $3.99 instead of $13.99.

That the people have their eyes open for bargains and watch the advertising columns of the paper is clearly indicated, by the demand for these dishes that followed the published price. While The Variety Store offers extra big bargains, it would be out of the question for it to sell the dishes at the price quoted in The Herald, as it is doubtful if that figure would cover the freight. The price is $13.99, and they offer an attractive bargain at that price.

The motion picture films exported from the United States each year would, if placed end to end, reach a distance of 4000 miles.

OUT TO RAISE SPECIAL FUND FOR RED CROSS

In spite of inclement weather, a group of enthusiastic Red Cross workers started out this morning to solicit special donations for the local chapter in addition to the dollar membership. This money will go into the home service fund to be used exclusively for health and welfare work in Klamath county. The bureau of nursing has positively promised a public health nurse for Klamath county to be here not later than January first and probably sooner. The applicant for the position is now doing public health nursing in Missouri and will not leave for present position until Dec. The state nursing department desires that she spend some time visiting Oregon public institutions and in becoming acquainted with local health conditions before beginning her work here. In spite of the fact that trained welfare workers are exceedingly hard to get, the department of civilian relief of the Red Cross believes that they will be able to secure someone for Klamath county if local workers succeed in raising the necessary funds to carry on a peacetime program. It is the hope of the executive committee of the Klamath chapter that both workers can be secured by the first of the year.

Several instances have been reported of persons who have refused to contribute to the Red Cross but have signified their willingness to assist privately any needy family. If such persons will call the secretary of the local chapter she will be very glad to give them the names of civilian families who are now badly in need of help. The Red Cross is not seeking to do civilian work and is making the present drive for funds because the responsibility of civilian work has been thrust upon them. Workers are requested to report the names of anyone indicating his willingness to do private charity work even if refusing to entrust the Red Cross with his money. Every such person will be given an opportunity to personally care for a needy family without interference from the Red Cross.

Approximately $1000 has been turned into headquarters thus far. After deducting the amount that will go to the national organization, a very small portion of the sum needed to carry on the local work remains. This money has come in, however, entirely from the downtown booths and it is hoped that today's canvass of the business section will at least treble that amount. No returns have yet been received from the industrial plants or from the county outside of Klamath Falls.

A considerable sum was obtained by the amateur traffic cops Saturday. The participants had a good deal of fun out of their work and most of the autoists who were stopped and fined a dollar for the Red Cross responded in the proper spirit, some of them showing intense relief when they found that they were being held up for no more serious offense than a failure to renew their membership.

The Roll Call committee wishes to emphasize again that if the people of this county want the Red Cross to take care of the sick and needy of the county they must contribute now during the drive. If when the returns are all in, it is found that sufficient funds to carry on this work have not been raised, the local chapter will simply go out of the business of caring for any except ex-soldiers and their families.
