COUNT FIFTY! NO RHEUMATIC PAIN

Don't suffer! Instant relief follows a rubbing with old "St. Jacobs Liniment"

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Liniment" conquers pain! It is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints; muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia and reduces swelling.

Linger up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a few moments you'll be free from pain, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

SUPER-CANNON WAS PATCHWORK

Giant Gun Used for Long-Distance Shelling of Paris No New Invention.

MADE FROM WORNOUT GUNS

Was 122 Feet Long, Weighed 318,000 Pounds and Threw Projectile Weighing 204 Pounds a Distance of 75 Miles.

Paris.—The super-cannon with which the Germans began shelling Paris, March 23, 1918, was just pieces of old, wornout guns put together. Instead of a startling new invention, according to American army officers, who were permitted recently by the Germans to visit some of their huge armories.

It was actually just a neat bit of patchwork that started the world when the terrific explosions began detonating in the streets of the city of Paris, although the verdict at that time was unanimous that the Germans had invented a marvelous new cannon.

Naval Gun Was Foundation. To begin on the super-cannon, the Germans took a wornout 15-inch naval gun, 56 feet in length. It was bored out and a very heavy tube with an inside diameter of 8.3 inches was inserted, with about 40 feet of it projecting beyond the end of the original gun. Over that another hoop was shrunk and locked to the forward hoop. There also was a patch of 19.7 feet, which was attached at the muzzle of the gun.

The bore of the gun was treated to a uniform rifling, the lines and grooves which impart a rotary motion to the projectile. The six-meter section of the gun at the muzzle, however, was unrifled, probably designed to steady the projectile and defeat its slight tendency to "tumble" or yaw and fall to travel directly to its mark. Such "tumbling" is caused by the conflict of two forces, one spinning the projectile to the right, the other sending it forward. Such a force had to be obtained as the shell had to travel upward 24 miles on its arc in order to cover the horizontal distance of 75 miles.

Clever Expedient to Prolong Life. The life of the giant gun, which was 318,000 pounds in weight and 122 feet long, under the heavy pressure of its high velocity projectile was very limited. But when the Germans found the span of the gun amounted to only 50 pounds they hit upon a clever expedient. They bored out the 21-centimeter tube, which was very thick, to 24 centimeters, and later to 26 centimeters, giving it just so much more life at each caliber, with only a change to larger ammunition required. The shell hurled by the cannon weighed 204 pounds and was 19 inches in length.

"WRONG SIDE OF THE BED"

Ancient Superstition Had to Do With Setting Foot on the Floor When Arising.

In olden days it was believed to be very bad luck to see the new moon reflected in a looking glass or window pane. Mirrors were regarded by our forefathers as the most effective means of divining secrets. There is a tradition that the gunpowder plot was discovered by Dr. John Dee, a famous magician of that time, with his magic mirror. There is much curious folklore about the bed. Bedsteads were always placed parallel to the planks of the floor, as it was considered unlucky to sleep across the boards. There is a belief among the Hindus that those who sleep with their heads to the north will have their days shortened. Yet some people say they always sleep sounder when their heads are placed to the north, and a Scottish physician once declared that, when he failed by every prescription to bring sleep to invalid children, he recommended their beds be turned due north and south. The phrase "to get out of bed the wrong way" originated in an ancient superstition which regarded it as unlucky to place the left foot first on the ground when getting out of bed.
