

LOCAL FANS WANT BASEBALL

The announcement from Medford that an effort is being made to organize a sixclub baseball league should meet with encouragement here. An organization of that sort, local baseball devotees believe, if not conducted on a lavish scale, should be a big success. Medford, Klamath Falls, and other cities of about their size in this part of creation are very much alive "baseballically" speaking, and when the games are real games, there will be no lack of healthy financial support. During the season just past, this city saw very little baseball, in fact what they did see was only an aggravation. They didn't see enough of it.

Baseball, fans here believe, should be placed in the hands of a committee whose heads are level on all sides, but that does not mean that "squareheads" should be entrusted with its welfare.

The grand old game is played wherever red blooded Americans live, and Klamath Falls is chock full of that sort of Americans. Why not then, say some of these Americans, provide this city with a brand of baseball, under the supervision of competent men, which will put the city on the baseball map of the northwest. It is understood that this question will be taken up early enough to insure results. It should be encouraged.

Demand for Chinese Hair for Filters And Soup Strainers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Establishment of a carload rate on Chinese queues pressed into cloth, from Houston, Texas, to various parts of the country was asked of the interstate commerce commission Monday by the Oriental manufacturing company of Houston.

Clifford Thorne of Chicago, representing the applicant, told the commission that the pigtails pressed into cloth were used for filtration, straining soups and similar purposes. The commission took the application under consideration.

Thorne explained that prior to the war European supplies of goat and camel hair were drawn on for filter purposes, but when this source was cut off the industry he represented turned to China, where the fall of the Manchu dynasty was followed by abolishment of the diet directing the Chinese to wear queues.

The establishment of the Houston company which is joined by the Southern cotton oil crushing company, chief users of the hair cloth, in the petition, has accumulated $800,000 pounds of Chinese hair, equivalent of the former pigtails of 2,400,000 Chinese, and now seeks carload rates to move it north for the consumers. Nineteen carloads already having been ordered, and the prospects being for 60 more during the next year.

MEDFORD WANTS TO ORGANIZE NEW LEAGUE

If plans of the promoters do not miscarry Medford will become the headquarters of a State baseball league composed of at least six teams, says the Pacific Record-Herald.

The people who are promoting the organization are men with experience in the line and they look upon Medford as the logical location for the managing offices of the league.

They are considering the purchase of a suitable tract of land near the city where a modern baseball park will be constructed with a large seating capacity, and where the comfort of the public will be provided for in a modern manner.

At first it was thought that the park could be located inside the city limits, but after careful consideration, this plan was abandoned, as wherever there was a tract of land large enough, it was found to be out where there was no water pressure in the summer time so it was thought best to keep outside of the city and provide their own water system.

Another feature which came up for consideration was the fact that the present city administration apparently does not favor any permanent improvements inside the city as was evidenced by the permit granted to the tent show to the damage of the permanent investment of a number of leading citizens.

Neither are circuses allowed to show in Medford, only gambling institutions such as 4th class carnivals are allowed inside the confines of this virtuous wonderland.

The baseball management assured a reporter for the Record Herald that there would be no Sunday games played at the new park, but that two good games a week would be played, the days favored being Friday and Saturday.

This will make it possible for people who come to town or other business to stop and see a good game, and the promoters believe that it is to the best interests of all concerned to eliminate Sunday games and to put all attractions possible up for the consideration of the public on the other days of the week.

With this idea of clean sport as a foundation Medford business men who have been approached have given every assurance that they will help and the success of the project seems assured.

If the proposition turns out to be anywhere as good as it looks it will put Medford on the map as one of the leading baseball towns of the west.

Many Applications for Big Game

(By Associated Press)
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 20.—Stanford will have 6456 tickets to the "big game" with the University of California on Nov. 29 at Berkeley, and the California students and alumni will receive 18,785 tickets. There were 28,248 applications from the students, alumni and faculty, of the two universities, while the capacity of the grandstands at Berkeley is 25,441.

California has 2297 applications that cannot be met, and Stanford 699. There will not be a sale of seats to the general public.

LEONARD TAKES DECISION

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Bonny Leonard, premier lightweight of the world, won a decision from Harlem Eddie Kelly in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round contest last night. Kelly was severely punished, and the referee stopped the bout.
