

THEY ROB EVEN POLICE STATION!
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 26.—Thieves here have absolutely no respect for law and the coppers, they are talking of building a big fence around the police station to keep thieves from stealing automobile parts and tools from the basement.

Children Love Them
Instinctively they crave this wheat food with its taste of salt. And indeed nothing could be better for them than crisp, dainty Snowflakes. Your grocer has them.

Put This Barrel in Your Garage

More than half the motorists of the Pacific Coast rely upon Zerolene, "The Standard Oil for Motor Cars." This Fifteen-gallon Barrel of Zerolene assures you the convenience of maintaining at home a small, but adequate supply of a high-grade oil, suited for the correct lubrication of your engine.

When passing one of the locations indicated, pull in at the curb and examine this ideal oil-storage unit for your private garage.

It is large enough to hold a season's oil supply for your engine—small enough to take home in your car.

LUMBERMEN SEE BETTER OUTLOOK FOR INDUSTRY

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 26.—Representative lumber manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers of the Pacific coast express the view that the lumber industry will soon recover from its present slump. The belief is expressed that the marked housing shortage throughout the country will be the cause of a renewed demand for lumber and that conditions in the lumber-producing industry will begin to show improvements after the first of the new year. The poll was taken by the American lumberman.

"This country must have homes. The building programme depends on the ability of the carriers to transport lumber to consuming territory," said the Weyerhaeuser Sales company of Spokane, Wash. "Railroads are short both rolling stock and motive power. Such equipment as they have must be utilized constantly if the great need for building is to be supplied. Lumber is now selling at producing points at one-half to two-thirds of prices that prevailed early in 1920. Widespread prosperity caused by a big crop sold at high prices and steady employment of labor at big wages have put in the hands of the people tremendous purchasing power, which means a big consumption of labor."

Costs Must Be Reduced
A. C. Dixon manager of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company, Eugene, Or., and vice-president of the West Coast Lumbermen's association, said: "The result of the election, in my opinion will not have any immediate effect on business. The next administration can, and I believe will, so conduct national affairs that the business world gradually will take heart and start ahead in a normal manner. Manufacturers should devote their energy to getting the industry on a stable basis, and do so should at once limit production to demand and then reduce costs, increase efficiency in all departments, improve selling methods and center on details of business which we have all neglected for the last two years. Careful management will be required for the next year or two."

T. A. McCann of the Shelvin-Hixon

company, Bend, Or., expresses his view as follows: "It is our belief that the causes for the present low market with practically no demand are deeper seated than the election. That was discounted long ago. We cannot continue to do business on a top-heavy credit structure, with commodity prices so high that imagination never dreamed of them."

Confidence Declared
"When our stock reaches normal we will shut down till the demand warrants resumption of production, which will probably be about March 1. The revival of building depends more on the confidence of the buyers than on lumber prices, and that will mean a material lowering of other items that enter into the cost of building besides lumber, and also a better day's work from labor at a reasonable wage. All predictions are guesses rather than based on facts, as we are traveling on almost uncharted seas these days, with disturbed rate relations and operating conditions vitally affected by the difference in the eight-hour and ten-hour day."

"The election is over and the American people have decided overwhelmingly for normalcy," was the statement from John Sauri of the Sauri-Tully Lumber company, Portland. "The people believe that the general prosperity and happiness of the country depends on prosperity of business not on 'ism.' The record of the party and the men whose privileges and duty it will be to manage the affairs of the government for the next four years justify general confidence. Business has no reasons to hesitate and generally will revive."
