

Rainy Evenings
at Home, Sweet Home

There is no place quite like home these damp, disagreeable evenings, that is if you have a Victrola or Playerpiano and a good selection of music.

Some get more pleasure from their Playerpiano while others prefer a Victrola, but which ever way your choice lies we have the largest and most carefully selected stock and the convenient terms that fit your case.

A long winter is ahead—why delay?

WRONG INITIALS

It is P. E. Mallory, garage proprietor of Crescent, who is suing Jerry Murphy for a repair bill, not R. V. Mallory, local garage man. The initials were mixed in a recent story in this paper. Though in the same business and with the same surname, the local garage man and Crescent resident are not related.

WARREN G. HARDING

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—When Arthur Paul, Jr., heard that Harding was elected he took his typewriter to his lap, so to speak, and rattled forth this portrait of the president-to-be. Cubistically speaking, Harding, here, has hair of "W's" and a cipher necktie, while his face is deeply lined. Scientists are not losing sleep trying to determine whether Paul rates the title of author or artist.

AT THE STAR THEATRE

Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal story, "Treasure Island," has reached the screen. Maurice Tourneur produced it for Paramount Aircraft release and it will be shown for two days commencing tonight at the Star theatre. All the color and spirit of high adventure that is in the Stevenson classic has been retained, and the photoplay has been mounted with Mr. Tourneur's mastery of artistic production.

The story, which is familiar to all, has been followed closely in the screen version. Jim Hawkins, Bill Bones, Long Silver, Ben Gunn—all the familiar characters appear in the life in the picture. The picture opens in "Benbow Tavern," where at Bill Bones' death young Jim comes into possession of the chart showing the location of Captain Flint's treasure. From there sails the old brigantine in which the Squire and his mutinous crew leave on the treasure hunt.

Battles with the pirates, the kidnaping of Jim, the fight in the stockade, and the final success follow.

Playing the role of Jim Hawkins is Shirley Mason. Lon Chaney, Al Filson, Charles Ogle, and Wilton Taylor are included in the cast.
